MARTIAL LAW IN SAIGON; BLOODY RED WAR ARENA

U.S. Embassy Scene Of Suicide Attack

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong turned Saigon into a battlefield today as they struck South Vietnam from one end to the other in a bloody offensive that was heedless of cost. Allied aircraft hit Viet Cong on the edges of Saigon and the president declared martial law.

The offensive carried into the third day and fighting continued early today at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport just north of the city and at scattered points within the city itself.

Mortar fire sounded within the city and there was street fighting near Independence Palace.

Guerrilla infiltrators in army uniforms or peasant garb with red armbands battled with machineguns, bazookas and hand grenades in the streets. They invaded the U.S. Embassy but American paratroopers landed on the roof by helicopter and took the embassy in a six-hour battle.

Reports from Tan Son Nhut said sniper fire continued to hit the Pentagon East headquarters of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, although U.S. helicopter gunships and Vietnamese divebombers struck the Red positions.

U.S. military spokesmen called the Communist offensive one of the bloodiest of the war. Casualties were not known but they were in the thousands as the Viet Cong sent suicide squads into certain death in an effort to humiliate the Americans and Vietnamese by penetrating their key strongholds.

The situation appeard to be worsening in Hue where the Communists still controlled the citadel in the center of the ancient capital early today. Heavy street fighting was reported, in the city 400 miles northwest of Saigon, and the center of Buddhist opposition to the Saigon government.

The worst situation appeared to be at Ban Me Thuot, the capital of Darlac province in the central highlands about 175 miles northeast of Saigon. Three Viet Cong battalions occupied the city and attacked the headquarters compound of the 23rd South Vietnamese Division and their American advisers.

COPTER FLIES IN

An American company was flown in by helicopter Wednesday night to reinforce their Vietnamese allies.

Frightened residents of this city of two million were ordered evacuated from areas infested by the Viet Cong on the outskirts, so allied planes could dive bomb the guerrillas threatening Tan Son Nhut, the nerve center of the entire allied war effort. It contains the major U.S. and South Vietnamese military headquarters.

Saigon itself was littered with bodies and wreckage as U.S. troops and South Vietnamese rangers and Marines battled through the streets. The Vietnamese huddled indoors but many civilians were among the casualties estimated in the hundreds.

HEAVY FIGHTING

Heavy fighting continued Wednesday night around Independence Palace where Viet Cong guerrillas moving into Saigon in the dead of night in panel trucks occupied an eight-story unfinished apartment house and fired mortars and rifles from its upper floors.

Probation Aides Under Jury Fire

By STEPHEN COOK

In a sarcastically critical report, the Marin County Grand Jury today reiterated its distaste for the almost-defunct Family Rehabilitation Center. (See also, grand jury stories pages 6 and 7.)

The Grand Jury, in September, joined the Bay Area Social Planning Council and Chief Probation Officer Walter H. Busher in recommending to the Board of Supervisors that the center be closed.

Today was the last day of operation for the rehabilitation center in Lucas Valley.

The jury, characterized the center staff as "emotional and unstable" and held Chief Probation Officer Walter H. Busher at fault "for the obvious lack of discipline and respect of a certain segment of his subordinates."

The panel, in the year-end report of its Special Assignment Committee, also found "much unrest, uncertainty, and lack of confidence among the staff factions at Juvenile Hall."

The jury complained bitterly of obstacles thrown in its path last year as it tried to investigate the juvenile probation office's three subsections — Familiy Rehabilitation Center, Juvenile Hall and Field Services.

The panelists criticized Busher for going to county supervisors with a recommendation for phasing out the rehabilitation center before the grand jury investigation could be completed.

His action was prompted by "an apparent lack of understanding as to how a grand jury functions and a super-

Unruh Hints He May Seek Kuchel's Seat

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, Gov. Ronald Reagan's main foe in the legislature, said today he is quite seriously considering running for the U.S. Senate this year.

"I think I can probably have the senatorial nomination for the asking," Unruh told a news conference.

His comments were the strongest indication so far that Unruh, 45, from Inglewood, would make a Senate bid. But he qualified his statement by saying it "still has to be considered an outside possibility."

Democrats have sort of "deified" Kuchel because he often has supported Democratic administration programs in the face of criticism from his own Republican party, Unruh said.

"I think that's a mistake . . . I really don't know of anything Tom Kuchel's done for California," Unruh said.

Unruh said the Senate race possibility was one reason he has not aligned himself with either proposed presidential primary delegation in the Califor-

A GIRL SCREAMS

Duel Rips Saigon Slum Alley

By WILLIAM REILLY

SAIGON (UPI)—The wounded GIs ran out of the alley between bursts of Viet Cong machinegun fire.

"My God! I didn't know you were in there," shouted a lieutenant colonel trying to wipe out the guerrillas who set up a suicide machinegun nest at the alley's far end.

The machinegun fire stopped. "Come on! Come on!" chanted the colonel's men in the drainage ditch facing the alley entrance. Another American dashed out, blood trickling down his face.

The machinegun came alive.

The guerrillas, a unit of the Viet Cong forces that struck throughout Saigon, had earlier burst into Tan Son Nhut air base across the road. Driven off, they fled up the blind alley.

Storm Drainage Pump Is Sabotaged In Rain

A vital water pumping station in San Rafael was put out of action by sabotage during recent heavy rains, it was revealed today.

As a result, three pumps were badly damaged and storm water flooded into sections of the Bret Harte area before standby equipment could be rushed from San Francisco and Oakland.

Public Works Director Norris Rawles said today he expected the pumping station at Francisco Boulevard to be back in normal working order by tomorrow. He estimated damage as "may hundreds of dollars."

The station consists of three pumps — each with its own well and suction propeller. All three stopped working between 10 a.m. and noon Monday, at the height of the storm.

In one, Rawles said he found an old tire casing; in another a six-inch thick piece of wood, about two feet long.

"The third pump was smashed by some other foreign matter," he said. "We are still investigating what caused that one."

Rawles said he did not report the matter to police "because we have no definite evidence of

Storm Moves On; Sunny Skies Due

The winter storm that hit Marin with rain, floods and even snow for four days subsided today as the storm front moved south of the Tehachapi Mountains.

Small craft warnings were lowered last night, and the Weather Bureau predicted fair weather tomorrow.

Rainfall between yesterday morning and today was .23 of an inch at Hamilton Air Force Base; .44, Larkspur; .37, San Anselmo; .35, Woodacre and Terra Linda; .25, Novato; .66, Sausalito; .47, Bolinas; .42, Mill Valley, and .62, Tamalpais Valley.

General Motors 1967 Profits, Sales Off

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors said today its 1967 net income dropped 9 per cent to $1.627 billion. Sales were $20 billion down, from $20.2 billion in 1966.

Chairman James M. Roche blamed lower sales on increased material and labor costs.

Baar Seeks Election As Supervisor

Louis H. (Bud) Baar, a member of the San Rafael City Council for 11 years, today announced his candidacy for county supervisor from the Fourth Supervisorial District.

Baar thus became the fourth to announce for the position now held by Thomas T. Storer of Point Reyes Station. Besides Storer, other candidates in the race for the June 4 primary are William W. Perry of Point Reyes Station and Charles G. Enyart of Forest Knolls.

The Fourth District, as realigned since Storer's election in 1964, includes the San Geronimo Valley and portions of Kentfield, Larkspur, Corte Madera and San Rafael, as well as West Marin.

Baar's announcement was not unexpected. He indicated last November that he was considering seeking the county office.

U.S.-North Korea Contacts Hinted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House sought confirmation today of indirect word from North Korea that one American injured in the communist hijacking of the USS Pueblo has died but the other 82 crewmen are being cared for properly.

Presidential Press Secretary George Christian declined to specify the source of the reports yesterday. The impression was left, however, that at least indirect communication had been opened between Washington and Pyongyang.

The reports did not come from the International Committee of the Red Cross, Christian said.

An over-size effigy of North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung was burned, and demonstrators demanded retaliation for the Pueblo seizure and the Communist assassination attempt on South Korean President Park Chung Hee Jan. 21.

Lee Byun Doo, a South Korean intelligence chief, said today he thinks the United States should retaliate for the hijacking of the ship by bombing North Korean cities with such intensity that the Communists could not reply by invading the south.

"Bomb all cities in North Korea," he said. "That is the only solution to making Premier Kim Il Sung back down completely."

South Korean troops yesterday shot another of the North Koreans involved in the assassination plot, bringing to 26 the number killed. One was captured earlier and four are at large.

At the United Nations, the Security Council put off reconvening on the Pueblo incident while diplomats sought solutions in private talks. It appeared no resolution would be forthcoming for some time, if at all.

Heart Attacks Linked To Drug In Dieting Pills

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Oregon's chief medical investigator said today that diet pills containing the drug digitalis can cause fatal heart attacks in normal persons even when taken in prescribed amounts.

Dr. Russell C. Henry of the Oregon Board of Health said in testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee investigating the diet pill industry that digitalis was "a powerful poison and has no place in the treatment of obesity."

Several physicians specializing in weight control have told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee that they regularly prescribe digitalis to overweight patients in combination with other drugs.

Henry said there was "compelling evidence" that various ingredients in reducing pills can sap the body of potassium, a vital ingredient which controls the heart beat.

Henry said he had identified "at least six, with possibly two or three more" deaths in Oregon during a four-year investigation of "rainbow" reducing pills, so-called because several pills of different colors are given to a patient to be taken at different times.

He said digitalis "is a very valuable and often lifesaving drug" when administered to a patient with a diseased heart.

Joint Call For Hanoi Bomb Halt

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union and Premier Indira Gandhi of India jointly called today for an "unconditional stoppage of bombing in North Vietnam," which they said would lead to negotiations for peace.

They also called for "general and complete disarmament under strict international control."

The two heads of state also considered establishment of a system of European security with participation of all European nations, "constituting an important contribution to the cause of consolidation of world peace."

Kosygin earlier urged India to patch up its dispute with Pakistan because of the Communist Chinese "menace," informed sources said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Mafia Crackdown

PALERMO, Sicily (UPI)—The government today cracked down on Mafia efforts to buy the land of earthquake refugees at one-third value and coerce reluctant owners to sell. Authorities yesterday arrested two shepherds allowing their cows to graze in an oat field. A typical Mafia technique to ruin the crop and force the owner to sell.

Paper Bombed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—A hand grenade thrown from a speeding automobile shattered windows at the Greek Cypriot newspaper Daily Patris, authorities said today. None of the five men working inside the building was injured in the explosion last night. The newspaper opposes President Makarios, a Greek Cypriot.

Barnard In Film?

ROME (UPI)—Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the South African pioneer heart transplant surgeon, declined to comment today on a report he would star in a film of his life. He reportedly was to have lunch with Sophia Loren and her producer husband, Carlo, Ponti, before flying to London tonight.

Strike Hits Rome

ROME (UPI)—Half a million municipal employees struck today for higher wages and larger staffs and halted such services as garbage collection, street-sweeping and transportation throughout Italy. Unions representing bakers, telephone workers and railroadmen continued their strikes.

Bonn, Yugoslavia Resume Relations

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany and Yugoslavia agreed today to resume diplomatic relations, broken by West Germany in 1957 because the Yugoslav government recognized Communist East Germany.

The action is effective immediately. The two governments agreed to exchange ambassadors as soon as possible.

Sierra Storm Traps Train; 16 Missing

OROVILLE (UPI)—Searchers battled deep snow and bitter cold today in California's High Sierra to locate 16 persons missing or marooned during the Pacific Coast's worst storm of the winter.

More than three feet of snow fell above 2,000 feet yesterday in mountain areas north of Yosemite National Park. Some Sierra hamlets measured more than five feet of snow on the ground.

TRAIN TRAPPED

Western Pacific railroad's California Zephyr passenger train carrying 180 persons was freed yesterday after being stalled overnight by a snow slide.

Zero visibility and drifting snow have closed intermittently Interstate 5 between California and Oregon and Interstate 80, the major trans-Sierra highway. Snow slides shut down U.S. 50

SEARCH SLATED

Authorities awaited a break in the weather—expected today—before sending out search teams to look for missing persons. Some of those stranded, including at least nine children, were sheltered in remote cabins and cut off from communications. Others were feared at the mercy of the storm.

Six persons were rescued yesterday:

Three Sacramento College students snowbound in woods near Oroville; Plumas County tavern operator Leo Garney in his car surrounded by 10-foot snowdrifts, and San Francisco Police Lt. Eugene Caldwell and his 12-year-old son at a hunting lodge where they had stayed five days waiting out the storm.

Kennedy Still Will Not Run Against LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy publicly rejects—at least for the time being—the idea of carrying his opposition to administration Vietnam policies into a head-on political battle with President Johnson.

Kennedy told newsmen yesterday he will not run against Johnson in any Democratic presidential primaries "under any foreseeable circumstances."

This still left the way clear for the New York senator to enter the race against Johnson if the President seeks his party's renomination as expected. But Kennedy's use of the term "foreseeable circumstances" indicated he feels there's little chance events will change his course.

Some Kenedy backers have been pushing harder than ever recently for him to enter the primaries, especially since Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn. —a fellow Vietnam policy critic —appears to be making little headway in his bid for the presidential nomination.

Although Kennedy would not spell out any circumstances that might cause him to change his mind, it was indicated Vietnam war developments may hold the key to his future position.

A sudden cease-fire or opening of peace talks in Vietnam, some observers have reasoned, could spell political disaster for any would-be nominee critical of Johnson's policies.

Kennedy said he would "continue to speak out on issues that affect the United States.'"

Connecticut is the third smallest state in the Union with a land area of 5,008 square miles.

Huge Ship Planned To Land Marines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy plans to build nearly $1 billion worth of battleship-size amphibious assault vessels to carry Marines, helicopters and landing craft to combat areas.

The new ships, designed LHAs, would vastly streamline Marine over-the-beach and encirclement tactics by combining features of four specialized Navy vessels. They would be more than twice the length of a football field.

Industry proposals for the first of several LHAs to cost about $123 million each were submitted to the Navy late last week for evaluation, officials said yesterday. The Navy will pick the winning design within four months, these sources said.

The fiscal 1969 defense budget unveiled Monday provides the money for one LHA, and other funds will be laid out next year for long-leadtime items for three more.

The Navy hopes for four or five beyond those.

Although the exact configuration is still being ironed out, the amphibious assault ship would displace about 40,000 tons, extend about 700 feet and measure 100 feet or so across the beam —narrow enough to go through the Panama Canal.

By comparison, the battleship New Jersey, being reactivited for the Vietnam war, is 45,000 tons, 887 feet and 108 feet at the beam.

The LHA could carry at least a Marine battalion landing team of 1,800 men, their necessary supporting equipment, 30 or so helicopters, tanks, other vehicles and several landing boats.

The landing craft would be carried in a floodable well in the LHA, allowing embarking Marines to head directly from the big assault ships into coastal waters aboard fully loaded boats.

Helicopters launched from a flight deck above the well would aid encirclement tactics.

To undertake a similar operation now the Navy would use more vessels: The LPD or amphibious transport dock, the LPH helicopter carrier, the APA attack or transport and the LSD or dock landing ship.

COVER FOR BUDDIES—American soldiers lie prone behind a tree in a Saigon street, opposite the American embassy as they provide cover for their buddies in regaining control of the building held for six hours by a Viet Cong suicide squad. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Saigon) incidents of war. Other American MPs with bellows of rage raced into the building and dragged out four Viet Cong bodies and placed them carefully at each corner of a bloodied intersection—a Beau Geste gesture of laying dogs at the feet of the fallen heroes.

The Viet Cong tried to blow up South Vietnamese naval headquarters on the Saigon river with the same tactics they used elsewhere—arriving in small panel trucks and hauling out a 200-pound barrel of TNT. They failed. The Vietnamese sailors killed 10 of a suicide squadron of 12 and captured the two others.

Americans were bitter at the attack on the embassy and said four Vietnamese guards who were on duty were not there when the Viet Cong struck at 3:30 a.m. (2:30 p.m. EST Tuesday). Marine guards fought them and with the aid of paratroopers killed all 19 invaders.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker said the attack in early morning darkness on the new $2.6-million embassy, hailed as terrorist-proof at its dedication last fall, "was obviously premeditated and planned well in advance."

"It is equally clear that this attack was carefully coordinated with similar attacks elsewhere in the Saigon area and in other populated areas around the country," the 74-year-old diplomat added in a statement.

"This callous disregard of the announced truce for the traditional Tet new year holidays through acts of terror and assassination against the civil population of South Vietnam is an accompaniment to the invasion and open aggression of the Northern 1st Corps by North Vietnamese forces directed against South Vietnam. These acts speak for themselves in terms of the enemy's objectives against the people of South Vietnam and their willingness to use the most inhumane methods to achieve them."

Casualty figures in Saigon were incomplete but were expected to number hundreds on each side.

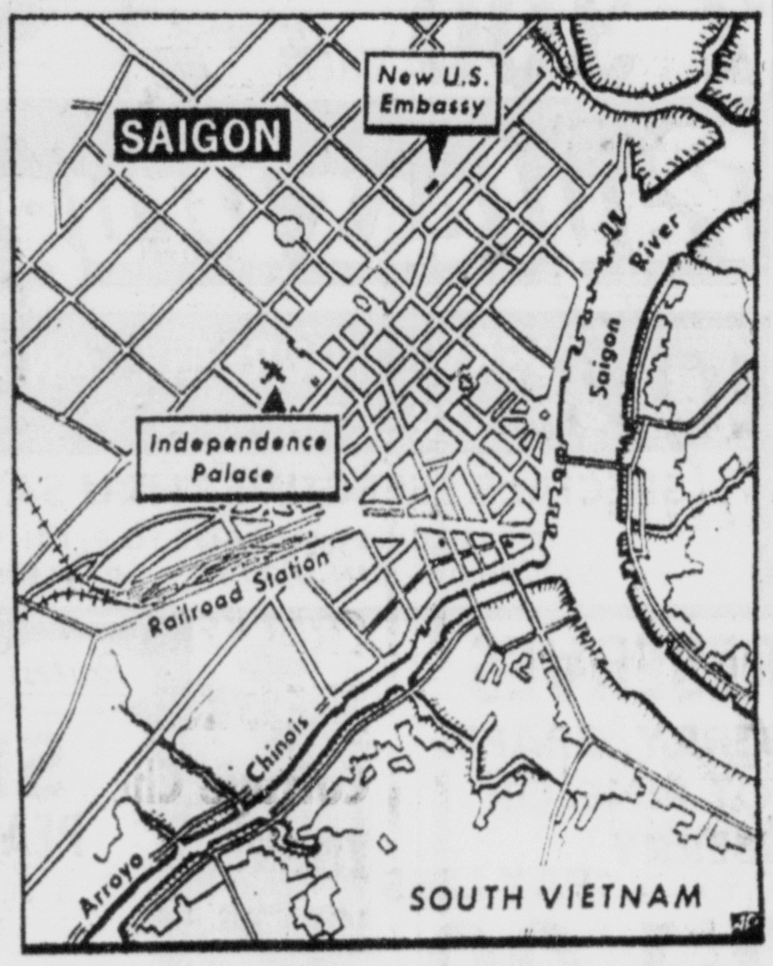
A spokesman reported 2,985 guerrillas killed in the fighting elsewhere, 1,197 in Viet Cong attacks on 10 towns in the Mekong Delta. Allied losses were "light."

One report said 40 Americans were killed and 100 wounded in the northern part of South Vietnam.

One of the casualties was an American news photographer shot to death near National Police Headquarters in Saigon, apparently accidentally by MPs.

President Johnson was being kept informed moment by moment of the progress of the Communist offensive which was the greatest they have ever mounted and the first to hit this sprawling capital in force. It also was the most dangerous thrust since wholesale infiltration began in 1961.

They struck five Saigon hotels where American officers and servicemen are billeted; they hit the giant American motor pool adjacent to Tan Son Nhut; they invaded the U.S. embassy; they struck the presidential palace, and they opened sniper fire on the Joint U.S. Public Affairs office.



AREAS OF ATTACK—This Associated Press map locates the position of the U.S. embassy and Independence Palace, scene of suicide attacks yesterday by a Viet Cong offensive in Saigon.

Air Police Check Sergeant's Death

The official cause of death of Chief M/Sgt. James J. Volkmar, whose body was found Monday night hanging in the 78th Fighter Wing operation office at Hamilton Air Force Base, will not be known for several days, base officials said today.

An autopsy was performed yesterday at Travis Air Force Base and the security police are still investigating the case, according to First Lt. Scott Duncan of the base's joint office of information.

Sergeant Volkmar is survived by his wife, Betty, and a daughter, Regina, of the home at 1306 Leafwood Drive, Apt. 4, Novato, and a married daughter, Mrs. Terre Benasky of Belview, Neb.

Guilty Plea To Drunken Driving

Vaughn Charles LaPrade, 41, of Sonoma, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court Monday to driving while drunk on Highway 101 Dec. 4, when the California Highway Patrol arrested him.

LaPrade, who has a prior conviction for the same offense, was sentenced to five days in county jail, fined $289 and placed on six months of probation.

Emil Baumbach, 64, of Redwood City, who pleaded guilty to the same offense, was given a suspended five-day jail sentence, fined $250 and placed on probation for a year. The highway patrol arreated him on Highway 101 Dec. 16.

Save-The-Courthouse Petitions Available

Benjamin Franklin Walton, organizer of a petition campaign for keeping the old Marin County Courthouse as an historical building, reported today that copies of the petition are available at the Marin County Historical Society, B Street and Mission Avenue, and Instant Copy Center, 1014 B Street, both San Rafael.

Walton reported that more than 400 people are now circulating the petitions.

BAAR

Rafael. Appointed to the city council in 1957, he has since been elected three times.

In announcing his candidacy, Baar charged the incumbent supervisor with "flagrant disregard of the local problems which he has been elected to solve."

He said: "I am a candidate for supervisor because the people of Marin and particularly the people of the Fourth District are suffering from a leadership gap on the board of supervisors."

He contended that Fourth District residents receive "only a partial endeavor by our incumbent, who seems obsessed on using the board for bettering his own status and not that of his constituents. When a supervisor cannot devote all his energies to the job of finding solutions to local problems, he should be replaced."

Baar charged that Storer's concern "over whether he should run for Congress again or for the State Legislature doesn't help alleviate the unendurable tax load now being shouldered by the people of Marin County."

He said, "At the very least the board of supervisors does have it in their power to hold the line on expenditures, which has not been done."

Further, he charged, "the incumbent's constant dabbling in international issues doesn't help solve the educational and transit problems facing Marin, not to mention the myriad of other local issues."

Baar said he regards taxes, transportation and conservation as the "hard" issues "which deserve full consideration by supervisors."

Baar, who is 50, was born in San Francisco and has resided in Marin since the age of 5. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin.

He has been in the real estate business for 18 years and is a broker with Redmond and Co. in San Rafael. He is a member of the San Rafael Elks Lodge and former member of its advisory board, a former member of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, past chairman of the San Rafael Fire Commission, and has been active in the United Crusade.

He and his wife, Bette, reside at 7 Meyer Road.

PUMP

how and when this took place," he said.

"But what is evident is someone with a warped mind deliberately went out of their way to put it out of action. It was no accident."

The station is surrounded with a concrete wall and a wire fence. Whoever sabotaged the station would have had to heave the tire and wood over the top.

When the pumps stopped on Monday, Rawles said he had to find substitute equipment. "There were no other pumps available this side of the bay and we had to phone round every other city we could think of," he said.

In the meantime, he said water flooded into Woodland Avenue but caused no damage to homes or businesses in that area.

The pump which was stopped by the tire was put back into action the same night. Standby pumps were still taking the place of the two others today.

"This will cost the city a pretty penny," said Rawles. "The heavily damaged blades have to be lifted out with a crane."

He went on: "I cannot emphasize too much my concern at this wanton destruction. It is the first time this has happened to any of the city's pumping stations."

$750,000 Suit Follows 101 Collision

Edward C. Sears, 18, of Novato, filed a $750,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court today for injuries he suffered in a head-on auto accident on Highway 101 in Novato Jan. 11.

The suit was filed through his mother, Mrs. Margaret M. Sears, against Linda L. Smith, 28 of 1538 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, driver of the other car.

Sears, of 2 St. John's Court Novato, moved out of the intensive car ward at Marin General Hospital yesterday. He suffered a broken right leg and head injury in the crash.

The California Highway Patrol said Sears, son of Capt. Carl Sears of the Marin County sheriff's office, was driving southbound near Lamont Avenue, when Miss Smith's car crossed the center divider and collided with his car.

His suit asked $750,000 general damages and unspecified amounts for medical expenses, loss of earning capacity and damage to the Sears' car.

SCREAMS

scrambled from their shanties made of U.S. soft drink cartons and scrap lumber. They left dried fish and pineapple stands overturned.

They left a child. The GIs watched the girl of no man's land through a window. She jammed fingers in her ears to shut off the sound of death outside.

I could hear her screams between the gun bursts.

Twenty-five MPs in flak vests piled into a truck and rammed it down the alley. The Viet Cong, firing from two plaster buildings the French builders 50 years ago called villas but the GIs call shacks, erupted with machinegun fire and rockets.

I looked down the alley and saw bodies sprawled in the dirt.

The colonel arrived then, with more men. A few men ran into the alley, hurling grenades. They sped out.

Across the street more troops duelled with the Viet Cong attacking the Joint General Staff headquarters of the South Vietnamese forces. The colonel radioed in a helicopter gunship.

The chopper whirled low and splattered the alley.

Moments later the GIs came running down from the alley between bursts of guerrilla fire. We had figured them for dead.

"Not a soul knew we were alive up in there," one said.

The colonel called in the gunship again. It swooped in, firing thousands of rounds of bullets and rockets. They hit with accuracy, 150 yards from where I crouched behind a Jeep with shredded tires.

The telephone wire above my head snapped.

I fell back to the ditch.

I heard the little girl screaming.

Study Session On Downtown Planning

A study session on the downtown plan has been set for 8 p.m. today at city hall for the Tiburon Planning Commission, it was announced today by Phil V. Scott, development administrator.

Consultant George Gatter is scheduled to meet with the commission.

KOREA

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, radioed just before the Communist's capture of the intelligence ship that four of its 83 crewmen had been injured, one of them seriously.

It was speculated here that the injuries were probably sustained in destroying secret electronic spy equipment aboard the vessel, although one early North Korean report claimed Americans were killed and wounded in an exchange of gunfire.

As the crisis passed into its second week yesterday, it appeared the United States was reconciled to the liklihood diplomatic efforts might not succeed in winning release of the crew for some time.

U.S. officials appeared optimistic about ultimate success, however.

"We remain hopeful that diplomatic efforts will succeed but I haven't heard anyone express any time limit about this thing," Christian said.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., one of several Democratic congressional leaders briefed by President Johnson, said the Chief Executive "has great hopes that diplomatic procedures will be able to solve this."

With few exceptions, Congressmen continued to support the administration's reliance on diplomacy to solve the crisis.

nia June primary. One is the "regular" party faction which will support President Johnson and the other is the dissident group backing U.S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, who is running on a Vietnam war peace platform.

The speaker declined to say now whether or not he would support Johnson's renomination. But he said he strongly would back whoever is the Democratic nominee.

Unruh said his Senate campaign, if it develops, would have a broad base of support from the party in California, currently split over Johnson and his war program.

In reply to a reporter's question, Unruh said he could support the President's Vietnam policy if elected to the Senate. But when asked directly if he now supports that policy, Unruh replied: "I support some of it. Some of it bothers me a great deal."

He said he is concerned about long range planning and "whether we're going to be able to disengage in any honorable way."

Republicans are facing the possibility of a bitter primary fight for Kuchel's senate post between Kuchel and Dr. Max Rafferty, the state superintendent of public instruction.

$150 Fine Given On Drunken Driving

John Niesley, 32, of 236 Deepstone Drive, Marinwood, was fined $150 and placed on probation for six months in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for driving while drunk at Second Street and Grand Avenue, San Rafael, Oct. 11.

Edward L. Starr, 29, of 402 Scenic Road, Fairfax, was fined $174 and placed on six months of probation for the same offense Dec. 3 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax.

OBITUARIES

THOMAS COLLINS

Private graveside funeral was held this morning for Thomas Collins, 73, of 676 Olive Avenue, Novato, at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

He died in a local hospital Sunday after a long illness.

A native of Chicago, Ill., he had lived in Marin County since 1954.

He is survived by two sons, Allen and Robert; one daughter, Dorothy and a sister, Mrs. Clarence Hastins, all of San Francisco.

MARGARET LEPORI

Mrs. Margaret A. Lepori, 72, mother of Mrs. Geraldine M. Donnelly of San Rafael, died Monday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Lepori was born in Asti, Italy, and spent her adult life in Berkeley. She resided with her daughter for the past three months at 75 Junipero Serra Avenue.

She was a member of the Sons of Italy in Berkeley.

Mrs. Lepori is survived by a sister, Mrs. Rena Jacuzzi of Berkeley, by her daughter and two grandchildren.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Ellis-Olson Mortuary, 727 San Pablo Avenue, Albany. Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Ambrose Roman Catholic Church, Berkeley. Entombment will be at St. Joseph's Mausoleum, San Pablo.

ELEANOR OSBORNE

Funeral has been held for Mrs. Eleanor J. Osborne of Ukiah, mother of Dr. James M. Morris of Mill Valley, who died Friday in a Ukiah hospital after a long illness. She was 53.

Burial was in Ukiah Cemetery.

Mrs. Osborne, formerly of Santa Rosa, was the wife of Edward Osborne, a tavern owner in Ukiah. Also surviving are another son, C. J. Morris in Livermore; two stepsons, Edward Osborne Jr. of Alameda and Robert Osborne of San Jose, and 12 grandchildren.

Pentagon Aide To Campus Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Solis Horwitz, assistant secretary of defense, has resigned to become a professor at his alma mater, the University of Pittsburgh.

Horwitz became yesterday the first top-level Pentagon official to follow the pending departure of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

A congressional aide for a decade, Horwitz moved from Capitol Hill to the Pentagon under McNamara at the start of the Kennedy administration and helped draw up the blueprints for reorganization within the Defense Department. He was assistant secretary for administration.

Extra Time On Staging Escape

Herman Joseph Sanchez, 22, was sentenced to nine months in county jail by Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson today for escaping from the Marin County jail Aug. 14.

Sanchez, of 356 Dubois Street, San Rafael, was sentenced to three additional months in jail for failing to report to probation officers during his term for marijuana possession.

While being booked at county jail Aug. 14, he asked for a drink of water. When he got to the water cooler, he just kept going, at a run.

Judge Wilson also placed Sanchez on five years of probation for the escape. Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw argued Sanchez should have been sent to state prison.

PLANT SMASHED—Printers clean up spilled type at the Contra Costa Times newspaper plant in Walnut Creek after a mob of 35 to 40 men yesterday smashed typesetting machines, damaged a press and wrecked photoengraving equipment. (AP Wirephoto)

East Bay Violence Adds To Paper Feud

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The nearly month-long strike against San Francisco's two major newspapers continued today following an outbreak of violence in the East Bay area.

More than 35 men smashed typesetting machines and wrecked photoengraving equipment in the nonunion plant of the Contra Costa Times and the Concord Transcript yesterday.

Dean Lesher, publisher of the papers, said the outbreak apparently was based on "the theory that we have been helping the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner, which is untrue."

"We have no connection whatsoever with the Los Angeles or San Francisco newspaper strikes," Lesher said.

The Herald-Examiner has been publishing with nonunion help since it was struck Dec. 15.

The Mailers Union, without a contract since last March, struck the San Francisco Newspaper Printing Co., which puts out the morning Chronicle and evening Examiner, after an "informational picket line" from Los Angeles closed down the two papers Jan. 5.

Damage to the Times-Transcript plant in Walnut Creek was estimated at more than $20,000.

The trouble broke out after a throng of some 250 to 300 surrounded the premises, some of them climbing a fence, Lesher said. Thirty-five to 40 of the mob broke into the plant, he said.

Hammers and picks were used to wreck the typesetting machines, he added, and one of 4 workers was knocked down.

Lesher said the Herald-Examiner "has hired some of our people against our will."

After the outbreak, the dayshift was escorted into the plant by some 80 officers.

The afternoon Transcript was published with 10 pages, compared with the usual 20 to 40 pages.

Lesher said he had encountered labor trouble in the past, but said it was settled by the National Labor Relations Board, which ruled against picket lines around his plant.

Continuation of the San Francisco newspaper shutdown was blamed on strike insurance by Douglas Smith, president of the Mailers Union.

"They're making money from strike insurance while the public is going without papers and 3,000 newspaper workers are walking the streets," he said.

To this, Examiner publisher, Charles Gould replied:

"Of course the Examiner has strike insurance. I don't think there is a newspaper in the United States that doesn't have strike insurance. However, let me make it patently clear that I do not believe any newspaper has ever made money on strike inurance."

Eight strikers were charged Tuesday with 16 counts of malicious mischief and disturbing the peace in connection with the demonstration, which left some 20 plate glass windows of the newspaper plant smashed.

JURY

sensitive, defensive reaction on the part of some members of the staff of the Family Rehabilitation Center," the committee said in its report to county supervisors.

Led by committee chairman Fred R. Mantegani, the jurors said they tried to prepare their report without harming the children, families and staff of the center with unnecessary publicity.

When it came to defending their center, though, Clinical Director Eve Citrin and Medical Director Philip Hicks, allowed children of the center to testify publicly before the Board of Supervisors the committee noted.

This "is contrary to every principle they have preached in defense of privacy for their program. Even a non-professional can understand the possible emotional impact on a disturbed person in publicly acknowledging commitment to any institution," the report said.

In another stab at the FRC staff, the jurors said:

"We initially realized that we were dealing with disturbed children, distressed families, and later came to the firm conclusion that we were also dealing, to a large extent, with an emotional and unstable staff."

Recalling Miss Citrin's charge that the grand jury used "Gestapo techniques," the committee explained it would be unusual for a grand jury to announce ahead of time that it planned to inspect a facility.

They pointed out that their visit to Juvenile Hall was apparently discovered three days in advance, bringing an alert and clean-up at both the hall at the center. "We were duly impressed with Juvenile Hall and its director Mr. (Ira) Okun until this fact was discovered at a later date," they said.

After further investigation, the panelists decided "there has been a definite lack of leadership in that facility (Juvenile Hall)."

"This has been called to the attention of Mr. Busher and his program director, Mr. (James) Soetart, and we have been assured that this problem is being addressed directly," the committee said.

Turning to Busher, the committee found "he must bear the ultimate responsibility for the obvious lack of discipline and respect of a certain segment of his subordinates.

"He must also carry the responsibility for not being aware of the many facets of the problems existing in the Family Rehabilitation Center Program, or if known, for not taking immediate and forthright action to eliminate those problems.

The panelists said they are withholding much of the information they gathered about the center, since it is already closing.

They acknowledged a need for a rehabilitation program for certain disturbed and maladjusted children, but urged that supervisors "consider the vast amount of tax money that was invested in the Family Rehabilitation Center with little or no positive results."

They asked tight controls of the operation, administration, philosophy and expenditures of any new program initiated.

Police Chiefs Clash On Campus Controls

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The University of California and state colleges should eliminate their campus security forces and let local police take over, a police chief told an Assembly committee today.

The Assembly Education Committee began the second day of a hearing on campus unrest, hearing testimony on relations between local police and campus administrations in keeping order.

"The administration of campus police frequently is adversely influenced by the campus hierarchy," said Police Chief Gino Pini of Santa Cruz. "It is my recommendation that campus police departments with concurrent jurisdictions (with the town police) should be eliminated."

But Pini's recommendation conflicted with a later report by Police Chief J. R. Blackmoore of San Jose. Blackmoore said the chief of police should have jurisdiction on campuses only when disorder gets out of hand.

Pini said, "I'm not satisfied that the same standards of law enforcement being used in the city are being used on campus." He said he had reports of marijuana use on the U.C. Santa Cruz campus, for example, but it was not dealt with by college authorities.

Assemblyman Willie L. Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, said Pini was basing his argument on "some hearsay, on some guesswork, on some rumor." He questioned the police chief sharply at length, concluding: "You want us to abolish campus security guards so you will be more comfortable being on a college campus."

"If you want to put it that way, yes," Pini replied.

Yesterday, students and faculty were told that college unrest was more and more affecting legislative attitudes toward paying for higher education.

The legislature has control over funds for the University of California and the state colleges, scene of frequent student unrest Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene said yesterday.

"When the public attitude is negative, it is much more difficult to come up with the money," said the Sacramento Democrat, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee holding hearings on campus disturbances, obscene publications and tougher campus rules.

Fishing Gear Theft Reported

Emery D. Stutsman of 7 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, complained to Marin Sheriff's deputies yesterday that someone stole $300 worth of fishing gear and clothes from his car parked in the driveway the night before.

Sheriff's deputies today reported the following other burglaries:

Thieves sawed a lock on the ranger's office at Drake's Beach Thursday night and stole a radio. Park ranger's reported the theft Monday.

Someone smashed a window at Tweedie's Market, 290 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, Monday night and stole $1.50 in pennies from the cash register.

'Tough' Auto Smog Curbs Proposed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Transportation and commerce Committee today proposed tough anti-smog legislation requiring automobile manufacturers to develop a device to control gasoline evaporation from cars.

The device and another control to further cut down exhaust emissions would be required on 1970 model automobiles.

"We're going to adopt the toughest standards we can," said committee chairman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco.

Manufacturers would be required to submit the devices to the state air resources board for approval.

Retarded Pupil Housing Asked By Grand Jury

(See also grand jury story, page 1)

Permanent housing for handicapped and mentally retarded pupils, at school plants has been recommended by the Education and Hospitals Committee of the Marin County Grand Jury.

Committee members noted that some handicapped children are in temporary buildings or homes.

The committee recommended permanent classrooms for handicapped pupils "in close conjunction with a regular school," and permanent housing for trainable mentally retarded on school grounds.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

The committee also recommended expansion of existing schools for the handicapped and new facilities as needed, and housing for older retarded children near a vocational training center.

Other committee recommendations were:

Expansion of the work-study program, greater study of the vocational needs of the county, and study of the possibility of having the Marin County Board of Education assume the fiscal responsibility for the county schools office operation, a responsibility now held by county supervisors.

Committee members noted that grand juries should have more investigative powers over the county schools operation than permitted by law.

LETTER CITED

They agreed with letter from the Kings County Grand Jury stating that the law should be changed to "allow general investigative powers in school matters in conformity with generally accepted grand jury procedures."

The committee reported "Marin General Hospital was found to be operating very satisfactorily, except for a few minor instances which were studied by other committees in greater detail."

Million Dollar Year For Post Office

The San Rafael Post Office did $1,383,100 worth of business in 1967. It was one of 74 "million dollar" post offices in California.

The Post Office department said there were 77 of the million dollar offices for the year in its tri-state San Francisco region — California, Nevada and Hawaii, compared with 33 at the end of 1961.

Session Postponed

The San Rafael Sanitary District Board has postponed tomorrow's scheduled meeting to Monday at 11 a.m. in City Hall because of the unavailability of members.

March Of Dimes Asks Retraction

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The chairman of the March of Dimes chapter in San Francisco, Vincent I. Compagno, is demanding a retraction of statements issued by the Better Buriness Bureau.

Compagno said yesterday that fund-raising costs were 15 per cent of total expenditures instead of 40 per cent as stated Friday by Charles H. Thurber, general manager of the bureau.

Compagno said Thurber added the chapter's community service and public education programs to the cost of fund raising.

Thurber could not be reached for comment.

Public Works Job Cuts In Jury Report

The Marin County Public Works Department appears to have more personnel than it needs, according to the Public Works Committee of the 1967 Grand Jury.

The jury committee recommended reduction of personnel by attrition in the road maintenance staff and a study toward attrition in the flood control, engineering and inspection forces.

"The Grand Jury views with concern the increase in personnel within the Department of Public Works, particularly flood control and engineering departments," the committee reported.

"Thirty men in the engineering service department, when compared to the dollar value of new construction and maintenance, appears to be out of proportion."

The committee noted that the miles of roads under the maintenance section have not grown appreciably in the past 15 years, but the number of employees in the section is greater than it was 15 years ago. It recommended "a small attrition in personnel with more small jobs let out for contracting."

Construction projects in Marin during the 1966-67 period were far below the previous four years, and the inspection force should be studies "for attrition to match the present requirements," the committee noted.

It also recommended study of the possibility of having labor unions furnish manpower in emergencies. This could result in lowering the number of year-round county employees, the committee said. The possibility of the unions furnishing manpower at a rate per hour somewhere near the rate per hour paid county employees also should be discussed, committee members said.

Concerning facilities, the committee recommended construction of a county garage at Civic Center to replace the present one on Fourth Street in San Rafael. A Civic Center location for the garage would reduce the time loss and the personnel required to shuttle vehicles, it noted.

Committee members said the stockpile of corrugated metal pipe is too large and should be limited "to an amount sufficient to carry on current operations."

There also should be a study on the feasibility of renting more contractor's equipment in emergency periods, the committee said. "A careful study may result in lowering the capital investment by the county and a saving to the taxpayer."

$150,000 Is Asked In Cycle Accident

Daniel Cary, 31, of 65 Sequoia Road, Fairfax, Monday filed suit against a San Rafael man in Marin Superior Court, asking $150,000 damages allegedly suffered in a motorcycle-automobile accident in Fairfax July 25.

The suit named John M. Cummesky, 16, of 2 Circle Drive, San Rafael, as the driver of the car which collided with his motorcycle at the intersection of Broadway and Merwin Avenue.

XB70 Testing Will Continue

EDWARDS AFB (UPI) — The triplesonic XB-70 research bomber will be flown on once-a-month flights into early 1969 even though the program was omitted from the 1968-69 budget.

Paul Bikle, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration flight research center here, said yesterday approximately $10 million is available to finance flights until early next year.

Two of the experimental XB-70s were built at a cost of $1.2 billion. One was destroyed in an inflight collision June 8, 1967 during a photography mission.

Grand Jury Puts 'Highest Priority' Label On Drug Abuse Programs

The Marin County Grand Jury today asked the Board of Supervisors give "highest priority" to the county's drug abuse prevention and education programs. (See also stories pages 6, 1.)

The panel's Special Assignment Committee noted much progress in combatting "the widespread use of narcotics and illegal drugs among our students and young adults" since their interim report on the problem to supervisors May 2.

They pointed to the creation of a Drug Abuse Bureau to bolster county law enforcement officers seeking the users and sellers of narcotics.

They praised the county school's office for its program in drug education.

The committee gave "special thanks to the members of the Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau, who have picked up the challenge of ridding our county of those who would profit at the expense and degeneration of our society."

They also thanked "the citizens of Marin County and, particularly, the parents of Marin who will support this program by reporting every incident of drug use or abuse so that future generations shall have one less problem to face."

Contradictions On Reopening Of Suez

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian Foreign Ministry said yesterday that operations to release foreign freighters trapped in the Suez Canal have been suspended indefinitely because Israeli troops fired on Egyptian boats trying to survey the orthern half of the waterway.

Despite the official statement, the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said today that Egypt is "resolutely determined" to continue the canal operation.

"Regardless of Israeli allegations and regardless of Israel's stand," said Al Ahram, "we are totally determined to exercise our legal right of sovereignty over our territory and our canal and are determined to go on with the work of clearing the canal and releasing the trapped foreign vessels."

Fifteen foreign ships and an Egyptian tanker have been trapped in the canal since the six-day June war between Israel and the Arabs.

Israel had agreed to sufficient clearing operation of the Canal's southern sector to free the ships, but said any operations in the northern part would violate a cease-fire agreement that neither Egyptian nor Israeli forces would use the canal. When Egyptian survey boats took to the water yesterday between Ismailia and Port Said, a 90-minute tank, artillery and machine-gun battle ensued across the canal from each other.

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District will decide on types of trees to be planted around the Rosal-Adrian streets playground at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the district office, 803 Descanso Way, Santa Venetia.

Runoff Election At Redwood High

Run-off elections in two ties for new Redwood High School student class officers yesterday saw Debra Leininger of Greenbrae elected treasurer of the sophomore class, and Marie Adams of Corte Madera named secretary of the senior class.

Running against Miss Leininger was Phil Hoehn of Greenbrae. Bonnie Anker of Tiburon was defeated by Miss Adams in the day-long balloting. Election figures were withheld by the school.

Other class officers were published earlier.

Novato High Trio Cited On Marijuana

Two boys and one girl yesterday were cited to juvenile authorities by Novato police for use of marijuana on the Novato High School campus.

They were said to have smoked it between classes at 10:28 a.m. in back of the portable classrooms, according to Novato police.

The girl was cited for the possession and sale of marijuana. One boy was cited for smoking and possession of marijuana and the other for possession and being present where marijuana was used, according to police.

The three were observed smoking by two members of the Hornet's Society, and organization for maintaining discipline on the campus. The Hornets told them to go to the office and enroute, one of them threw a packet containing what was thought to be marijuana in a waste basket, police reported. The Hornet member got the packet which was turned over to Novato police, according to police.

Court Steps In On San Diego Tuna Dispute

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tuna fishermen have been ordered to halt demonstrations at Westgate-California's cannery and that firm has filed a $500,000 damage suit against a San Diego fishing union.

Those developments followed protests yesterday by fishermen who vowed not to return to sea unless canneries raise the price of yellowfin to at least $325 a ton.

Superior Court Judge George A. Lazar issued an injunction

The protest follows the union's rejection of a $307 tuna price set Monday in an agreement between several canneries and the American Tuna Sales Association.

Thieves Escape With Rembrandt

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—A Rembrandt self-portrait valued at more than $100,000 was stolen during the night from the Eastman House Art Museum, police said today.

The artist's "Portrait of a Young Man," an early Rembrandt work and "the way he always wanted to be remembered," was taken by at least two and probably three or more thieves who broke into the museum under cover of darkness.

An Eastman House spokesman said, however, at least three other works of "equal value" were left behind—a few feet from the "Portrait of a Young Man."

SHATTERING BLAST KILLS SEVEN

Searchers today removed the torso of a seventh victim from the ruins of this building in Ingram, a Pittsburgh, Pa., suburb. Gas company crews had shut off lines to the half-block long, two story shop and apartment building and were searching for a leak beneath the street when the blast occurred yesterday. Twenty persons were injured, 14 seriously, and two still were missing today. (AP Wirephoto)

150-Unit Senior Citizens Complex For Novato Presented To Council

A plan to construct an apartment complex, up to 150 units, for senior citizens with low income was presented to the Novato City Council last night.

Mutual Ownership Development Foundation of San Francisco disclosed its proposal when it asked for a council resolution that the city sanction such a project.

Paul Golz, executive vice president, explained that a resolution is needed before the firm can apply for a federal grant loan.

He said the foundation has a potential site in Novato, west of Highway 101, north of South Novato Boulevard, and would start with 60 units and increase the size with demand.

It would be a rent subsidy project with tenants paying 25 per cent of their income toward rent, and the federal government paying the difference, he said.

Golz submitted a proposed resolution, and councilmen agreed to send it to City Atty. Clark M. Palmer for review.

The council also heard a brief report from Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, on the leased housing plans for Novato. He said that about 30 apartments and houses might be available in the city under the council's plan to have the units located throughout ten neighborhoods.

The Novato City Council Also:

STATEWIDE POST — Announced that Councilman Harley A. McAskill has been appointed to the Committee on Aviation Problems of the League of California Cities, the first councilman from Novato to be given a league appointment.

UNDERGROUND UTILITIES — Approved formation of an underground utilities technical advisory committee, and received a letter from Fire Chief George J. Cavallero naming Charles Onorato as the Novato Fire Protection District's representative to the committee with Dante Panfiglio as an alternate.

CIGARETTE TAX — Supported a move by the League of California Cities to have distribution of cigarette taxes based half on sales tax and half on population, a change that would bring a $40,000 annual increase to Novato. Distribution is now based on sales tax alone.

PROPERTY TAX RELIEF — Agreed to write to State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to get information about what state programs could be started to bring about property tax relief and how the city might participate.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Agreed with a committee of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen that regional government should be multipurpose and limited so it wouldn't interfere with local functions, but could assume existing regional activities.

BUDGET SCHEDULE — Heard City Mgr. J. Julien Baget report that during budget preparations he is studying the chances for city-county cooperation on services. The schedule calls for a public hearing on a preliminary budget May 21.

SCHUMAN DISPLAY — Granted Schuman Chevrolet a use permit for one year for temporary parking use of 1,500 square feet of its parcel on the west side of Highway 101, opposite Lamont Avenue.

SCOTTSDALE REZONING — Was notified by Planning Director Mark P. David that the Scottsdale Co. withdrew its appeal of planning commission denial for rezoning of six-and-one-quarter acres on the east side of Redwood Boulevard, north of Rowland Boulevard, from planned residential to limited roadside business. The denial was in October 1966, and the appeal had been continued one year.

REGIONAL PLAN — Postponed a recommendation on the preliminary regional plan prepared by the Association of Bay Area Governments until Feb. 13.

REZONING — Sent back to the planning commission for rehearing an application by Farrokh Panah-Izadi for rezoning of a lot at the northwest corner of Ignacio Boulevard and Esquire Court from single family to multiple family.

CHP PATROLS — Agreed to invite Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the Marin Division, California Highway Patrol, to its Feb. 13 meeting to discuss his plan to halt patrols along Highway 101 in the city.

INTERIM MEASURE — Approved installation of stop signs on Lamont Avenue requiring east and westbound vehicles to stop before entering Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way, as an interim safety control until flashing signals and cross-arm are installed by the railroad.

MERGER STUDY — Allocated $250 as the city's share toward a budget for the Merger Study Committee of the Novato Sanitary District, North Marin Water District and the city.

CHAMBER PAYMENT — Approved a quarterly payment of $2,000 to the Novato Chamber of Commerce by a 4-1 vote with Councilman William Jack Adams dissenting.

PLAN REVIEW COMMITTEE — After a 10-minute closed session to consider the appointment, named John Castleman, chairman of the planning commission, to the plan review committee, to succeed Planning Commissioner John Miklos.

SPECIAL SESSION — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Tuesday for a special session on salary plans for employees.

PARKING STALLS — Approved a parking plan for the city's lot behind city hall, which has permit parking for councilmen and commissioners, but would be open to the public for special events at the Community House.

MOBILE HOMES — Voted 3-2 — Councilman McAskill and Mayor J. Wayne Womack dissenting — to ask the county planning commission to deny approval of a 201-unit mobile home park along Bel Marin Keys Boulevard south of the Hamilton Industrial park area proposed by Cortez Development Co. Postponed to Feb. 13 action on proposal by G.E. and Alice Jean Sandbach for a 66-unit park south of San Marin Drive along Hill Road.

Ambulance Service Sounding Board Topic

Should Marin County use a single ambulance service? The question will be debated by county officials and operators of competing ambulance services tomorrow at 9 a.m. on the KTIM "Sounding Board" program.

The program's guests will be County Administrator Alan Bruce, Kenneth Hale, co-owner Richard Angotti, owner of of Doctor's Ambulance Co.: United Ambulance Co., and Dr. Elmer Weden, a former Marin county disaster chairman who is on the staff at Marin General Hospital.

Novato's Seal Back On Shelf Over Tepees

Novato's city seal, long adopted but never used, went back on the shelf last night.

After a brief set-to about whether Indians lived in tepees in 1579 as depicted on the seal, the council deadlocked on a motion to put the seal in use.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack and Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva were ready to use the seal, but Councilmen William Jack Adams and Harley McAskill were not, and Councilman Douglas M. Merrill abstained.

The Indian dwellings are to signify the time of Sir Francis Drake, 1579, and McAskill contended they didn't live in tepees then.

If that could be corrected, he said he could vote for using the seal, but Silva, a strong defender of the seal, couldn't see making that change.

Womack explained that last night's discussion wasn't to consider using any other seal, but only whether the existing seal would be used.

George A. Amaroli of 11 Rebecca Way advised councilmen to settle the matter or it would become a political issue in the coming council campaign.

FBI Nabs Top Ten Fugitive

PHOENIX (UPI) — One of the FBI's "ten most wanted fugitives" was held in lieu of $100.000 bond today as a suspect in the shooting deaths of three persons in a Chicago apartment last May 6.

Zelma Lavone King, a 25-year-old Negro reputed to profess a violent hatred for white persons, was arrested by federal agents yesterday at a Phoenix metals company where he had been working under an assumed name.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington King allegedly shot to death his landlady and two other persons in the Chicago apartment following an argument over the sale of a refrigerator.

EXPENSIVE DECEMBER

Overseas Purchases Speed Up Gold Drain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. supply of gold dropped by $900 million in the month of December as a result of stepped up purchases overseas, according to the Federal Reserve.

The gold drain leaves the nation with a total supply worth $12,065,000 — nearly $1.2 billion less than the total at the end of 1966.

The sharp drop, as compared with the $74 million loss between October and November, 1967, reflected the buildup of pressure on the dollar by foreign nations and private speculators.

The drain came from two transfers of gold from general treasury stocks to the government's Exchange Stabilization Fund, which buys and sells gold to foreign governments and central banks at the fixed price of $35 an ounce.

The gold supply has been drained steadily because of the nation's balance-of-payments deficit.

Financial Firm Officer Indicted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles Loewenthal, collection manager of the National Finance Co., is at liberty on $30,000 bail after being charged with six counts of perjury.

Loewenthal was accused yesterday of swearing out complaints representing debtors as residents of Alameda County when in reality they lived elsewhere.

He was arrested following an investigation conducted by the office of the state attorney general.

Street Bond Ballot Repeat Studied By Novato Council

With the sting of a double defeat still fresh, Novato City Council last night asked about the possibility of placing a street bond issue on the ballot in June.

Voters rejected a $5.75 million street bond proposition and a $2.25 million park bond proposal Jan. 23.

Councilman William Jack Adams asked if a street bond could be placed on the June ballot.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget said the same proposal cannot be submitted in less than six months unless 15 per cent of the voters request it or it is substantially revised.

The council asked Baget to determine how much revision would be needed to qualify the issue for the ballot.

In an official canvass the vote was: street bond, 1,961 yes, 1,599 no; park bond, 1,512 yes, 2,045 no. A two-thirds majority was required.

Divorces Are Sought, Not Yet Granted

The divorces asked were:

CAMERON — Kaye vs. Todd, cruelty.

BETTENCOURT — Viola M. vs. Wilford H., cruelty.

RHODODENDRONS

Most of us have a desire to grow plant life to maturity, for a diversion of occupation, love of beauty, therapy for the mind and body. Since the 17th Century, azaleas and rhododendrons have been unexcelled for the home garden. For the past 19 years, we have grown and tested for this area, old favorites, introductions from the Exbury Gardens, England, Boskoop, Holland, from Oregon and Washington of the late Rudolph Henny and Van Veen, varieties of tomorrow by John Henny and Whitney, the very best of the azalea groups. All are outstanding, many are spectacular. On the spot orientation is without charge.

"Mr. Quick is Coming"

WILLING TO GO BACK INTO WAR ZONE

Eleven days ago Marin Pfc. Robert Mussari of the Scranton, Pa., area had a Viet Cong mortar warhead in his abdomen when he was carried into a Vietnam bunker. The live shell was removed in an emergency operation. Yesterday at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital he had a reunion with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mussari, and his girl friend, Sheryl Taylor, 18. On his arrival at the hospital, he said he would be willing to return to Vietnam or even to Korea if hostilities erupted there. (AP Wirephoto)

NATALIE LEWIS
To run for election

Two In Ross File For Council Jobs

Two incumbent Ross Town councilmen, Mrs. Natalie Lewis and Thomas W. Jones, have filed papers to run for council in the April 9 election.

Mrs. Lewis was appointed to the council Aug. 12, 1965, to replace Harry C. Scott, who resigned. She ended a three-year term as town clerk on Aug. 2, 1965.

Mrs. Lewis has lived in Ross nearly all her life. She attended the Katharine Branson School there, Vassar College, and was graduated from University of California at Berkeley.

She is married to retired Navy Capt. John G. Lewis, who is now a consulting engineer. They have four children.

Jones was appointed to the council in June 8, 1967, to replace William P. McAndrew, who resigned.

He is president of Pacific Lithograph Co. in San Francisco and reside on Hill Road in Ross with his wife and four children. Jones was in the Marine Corps in World War II. He has resided in Ross almost his entire life.

The other council incumbent, Dr. W. James Dawson, has taken out nomination papers but has not filed them with the town clerk.

Clergyman Urged For Commission

The Rev. Francis Geddes of the Congregational Church in San Rafael has been recommended for appointment to the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

The Marin City Mothers Guild suggested to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that Reverend Geddes would be an ideal successor to Father John J. O'Connor, who resigned.

"We feel that the appointment of another minister . . . would maintain the present satisfactory balance of the commission," wrote Enid Folger, treasurer of the mothers guild.

Peninsula Club Elects Slate

Dr. Kay H. Blacker was elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Club's board of directors last night, succeeding Joseph W. Royer.

Alan W. Cundall was elected vice president; Donald J. O'Leary, treasurer, and Mrs. George Cleland, secretary, according to Cundall.

In the adjourned meeting, new board members Paul J. Gebo, O'Leary, Laurence G. Kraus and A. Walter Olson were installed.

Hauke To Run For Mill Valley Council

Jerome C. Hauke, chairman of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission, yesterday became the first announced candidate for the Mill Valley City Council election April 9.

At the same time Mayor Albert E. White, who has served one term and has been mayor two years, announced he will not seek re-election.

Nomination papers have been taken out for two other candidates, attorney Robert H. Andresen and incumbent George Wickham, but neither has announced whether he will run.

Hauke, a civil engineer with the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings, has been on the parks and recreation commission five years and chairman for two years.

A native of Detroit, Hauke moved to Mill Valley in 1957 from Madison Wisc., where he received his engineering degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Thirty-two years old, Hauke is married and the father of six children. He and his family live at 53 Millay Place.

Hauke is president of the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Enchanted Knolls Homeowners Association. He was co-ordinator of the 1967 Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival and was chairman of the city's 1967 Fourth of July parade.

In his announcement, Hauke said the present council "has not taken the initiative in setting city policy. In the absence of strong direction the city manager will set policy and this is not his function."

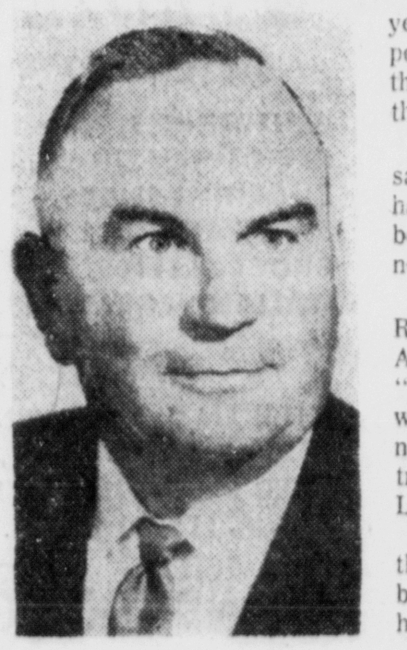
JEROME C. HAUKE
To run in Mill Valley

Hauke endorsed the city-school recreation project at Project 17, and disapproved the Army Corps of Engineers plan for a concrete channel flood control porject on Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio.

"I believe in good planning and am willing to pay for good planning," Hauke said. But he added the city "cannot expand services to its citizens beyond their ability to pay."

Three councilmen will be elected April 9 as the terms of Mayor White, Wickham and Michael Wornum expire. Wornum is running for the board of supervisrs, leaving Wickham the only possible incumbent candidate for re-election.

Robert Dexter Dolman Files For Larkspur Council Post



ROBERT DEXTER DOLMAN
Larkspur Council candidate

Robert Dexter Dolman, 46, yesterday became the first person to file for one of the three city council posts open in the Larkspur April 9 election.

In his first political venute, he said his basic platform will be to have downtown Larkspur beautified. "This will attract new business," he said.

Dolman, owner of Dolman Realty, 201 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, added, "naturally, as a realtor, I also want to stand on encouraging new building construction to attract more people to live in the Larkspur area."

"This will in turn broaden out the tax base and relieve the tax burden on the property owners," he said.

Dolman was born in San Francisco, is a graduate of the University of California, and came to Marin County in 1953.

He is past-president and present board chairman of the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Fairfax and the Elks Lodge in San Rafael. He is a former member of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts and of the board of governors of the Southern Marin Recreation Center.

He was commissioned an ensign in the Navy in 1945, saw Pentagon duty from 1951 to 1953 during the Korean War, and is a retired lieutenant commander. Dolman also is past president of the Marin Sertoma Club, was co-chairman of the Corte Madera 50th Anniversary Committee, and is a member of the California Real Estate Association.

He resides at 14 Chevy Chase Court, Larkspur. He has a wife, Eileen Rae, and three children, Susan, Deborah, and Roberta.

Expiring are council teams of Mayor Earl J. O'Grady, Vaughn Marker, and Henry Brocco.

Convict Stabbed In Back, Treated

Robert G. Garwitz, 24-year-old San Quentin inmate, was stabbed in the back yesterday with a 13-inch long sharpened steel rod.

The wound was described by Associate Warden James W. L. Park today as "not serious" and Garwitz was returned to his cell after treatment at the prison hospital.

He was attacked about 4:10 p.m. in the south block and Park said investigating officers had no suspects so far.

The victim is serving five years to life for conspiring to commit robbery and was transferred to San Quentin in October from Susanville where he had taken part in a food strike.

Flames Destroy Goodwill Plant

SAN JOSE (UPI) — A general alarm fire destroyed the Goodwill Industries building early this morning.

No injuries were reported as the result of the spectacular blaze which was visible throughout San Jose.

Byron White Gets Papers For Council

Nomination papers for one of two city council posts open in the April 9 election in Corte Madera were taken out yesterday by Byron D. White, present town planning commissioner.

White, of 24 Staghound Passage, was appointed Jan. 16, 1967, to fill a planning commission vacancy created by the resignation of Albert J. Boro. His term expires May 1, 1969.

He is a buyer for Fibreboard in San Francisco, and last August was elected vice president of the Mariner Cove Imporvement Association of Corte Madera.

Expiring are the terms of William W. Collier and Robert P. Simmons, who was appointed to fill the vacancy of councilman Charles F. Pendleton on Jan. 15.

$2,080 Diamond Pin Missing From Home

Loss or theft of a diamond-studded brooch valued at $2,080 was reported early today by Lucille Paladini, 61 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera.

Police said Miss Paladini said she last saw the white gold brooch with 22 diamonds in her bedroom about 6 p.m. yesterday. She locked the house and left for three hours. On her return, she said, the brooch was missing. Police said no forced entry was evident.

View Yes, Trees No, Say Tiburon Citizens

Several homeowners last night told the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission they didn't want tall trees along Tiburon Boulevard which would obstruct their views, according to Russell L. Melquist, secretary.

The objections came during a discussion among commissioners on a plan for landscaping Tiburon Boulevard. Residents along the boulevard said they would prefer to have the anise weed chopped down rather than any new landscaping which might interfere with the bay view, Melquist reported.

An offer was accepted from Mrs. William B. Newman, former Tiburon planning commissioner, to work with the city on the landscaping plan, representing Tiburon Boulevard property owners, Melquist said.

Commissioners agreed to ask the Northwestern Pacific Railroad to cut down anise weed along the railroad right-of-way and to have the city council declare the weeks a public nuisance if the railroad does not respond.

Their school adviser James Allen and Melquist were directed to work out details of the clean-up job.

Sub Searchers Find Slim Clew; Dakar Hunt Ends

TOULON, France (AP) — A sailor's bag of the type used by submarine crewmen was discovered today by searchers looking for some trace of the French submarine Minerve, missing since Saturday with 52 aboard.

The plastic bag was spotted by a helicopter near the spot off Toulon where a large oil slick was seen on the first day of the search for the 800-ton sub. Technicians meanwhile continued taking sonar soundings but reported no responses that could indicate a submerged submarine.

At the other end of the Mediterranean, the international air-sea search for the missing Israeli sub Dakar was to end at nightfall, but the Israelis said they would continue the search until "something shows up."

Incumbents Take Papers In Novato

Novato Mayor J. Wayne Womack and Councilman Douglas M. Merrill, both incumbents, yesterday took out nomination papers for re-election at the April 9 city election.

Both had announced last December that they would be candidates.

There are three positions open on the council at the election. William Jack Adams, the third councilman whose term expires, has stated that he will not run again.

Others who have taken out nomination papers are: Wayne Hathaway, Joseph Garguilo and Joseph Bonomolo, all of whom have sought council seats in the past.

None have returned the papers yet according to City Mgr. J. Julien Baget.

Ross Town Council Quickly Counts Votes

In perhaps the shortest Ross Town Council meeting on record, councilmen last night took two minutes to canvass votes from the Jan. 23 tax rate election.

Councilmen approved the official figure as 510 in favor and 385 opposing the raise in the tax rate from $1 to $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation.

Chicago Smog Hurting Neighbors' Weather

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — Everybody talks about the weather, but Chicago does something about it — right on La Porte, Ind.

That is the conclusion of climatologists after studying some 30 years of freakish weather at La Porte, 10 miles from Lake Michigan and 30 miles east of the large Chicago-Geary complex of heavy industries.

Air pollution from the complex is causing unusual rainfall, hail and thunderstorms at La Porte, climatologists believe, the funny weather beginning in the late thirties, about the time of increases in industrial production in the Chicago-Gary region.

Stanley A. Changnon Jr. of the Illinois State Water Survey described the "La Porte weather anomaly" today at the annual meeting of the American Meteorological Society.

"Ironically,'" Chagnon said, the accidental modification "have led to sizeable increases in rainfall, thunderstorms and hailstorms that are greater than produce deliberately.

America faces disaster unless each of its 200-million residents keeps a tight reign on the 195 "energy slaves" he now controls, according to an expert on air pollution, in a speech labeled "Sewers in the sky."

Dr. James P. Lodge Jr., program scientist for the National Center for Atmospheric Research, explained yesterday that each slave represents one manpower.

"All slaves have waste products. They excrete the same way we do," he said. "If the system of earth was stable, then edibles would re-cycle. But 'energy slaves' are something else—their wastes are strange, many toxic to much life on earth . . . they do not ever, in any length of time, wind up back as food for the energy slaves."

Lodge said mass rapid transit might be a solution in urban areas beset with smog, but he added the eventual solution would be to put a "large wall" around the core of large cities through which automobiles could not pass.

A biologist reported severe smog may affect genes and cause human mutations.

The possibility was asserted by A. J. Haagen-Smith, a professor of biology at the California Institute of Technology and the man who discovered that much Los Angeles smog comes from automobile exhausts.

Haagen-Smith said studies have shown that nitrogen oxides in smog cause mutations in viruses, which consist almost entirely of genetic material, and could affect man's genes.

Plea Change By Operator Of Studio

Philip G. Williams, former joint operator of Pacific Studios in San Rafael and Santa Rosa, changed his plea from innocent to guilty yesterday when he appeared in Sonoma Municipal Court for a jury trial.

Judge Alexander F. Scheidecker called for a probation report and set sentencing for Mar. 11 at 1:30 p.m.

Williams, 40, of Sacramento, was charged with issuing bad checks to employees and selling portraits over the telephone using misleading information.

He and Ronald G. Lopez, 31, of Oakland ran Pacific Studios, whose offices in San Rafael and Santa Rosa are now closed.

Lopez was fined $60 by Judge Scheidecker on Friday after pleading guilty to a charge of ignoring a subpoena to appear before a deputy state labor commissioner in Marin to answer wage complaints brought by employees.

Yesterday, the judge gave Lopez until Thursday to pay the fine or appear in court for new sentencing.

South Marin Sewage Plan Is Criticized

Directors of five Southern Marin sanitary districts last night heard an attack on part of a sewage report prepared for the county.

Board members of Richardson Bay, Tamalpais Valley, Homestead Valley, Sausalito-Marin City and Almonte districts took no joint action but set another meeting for March 5 to pool their opinions on the Brown and Caldwell report now under consideration by the Local Agency Formation Commission.

The report proposes that the Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District operate trunk lines and treatment plants in their respective areas, or that Marin be divided into three large sanitation districts, North Marin, San Rafael-Corte Madera-Ross Valley area and Southeast Marin, including Bolinas and Stinson Beach.

Warren J. Nute, engineer for the Richardson Bay Sanitary District, objected to a proposal in the report for a Tennessee Valley system, which he said would require expensive uphill pumping.

The report proposes the system to serve all of Southern Marin except Sausalito and Tiburon, Nute said.

He presented several choices, including improving present systems of smaller districts; construction a system to join with Sanitary District No. 1 and the San Rafael Sanitation District in the Point San Quentin system, transporting flows from upper Richardson Bay to a primary treatment plant at Fort Baker, and building a secondary treatment plant in the vicinity of Marinship.

Nute estimated each alternative would be a saving of more than a million dollars over the Tennessee Valley system.

He said the Tennessee Valley system would benefit Marincello and Marin Headlands "at the expense of solving problems of existing districts."

Directors did not agree on all points. Warren I. Jacobs of Homestead Valley said if a Tennessee Valley plant were built, he felt the Homestead-Mill Valley-Alto-Almonte complex might want to hook into it.

Kurtis T. Webb of Richardson Bay felt the people of Marin should make the final decision, in an election, on what ewage system should serve them.

Mill Valley and Alto sanitary districts were invited but sent no representatives last night.

The March 5 meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Strawberry Point School in Mill Valley.

Chairman Mac Small said he would try to have a representative from the Brown and Caldwell engineering firm present to answer questions.

Carrier Back From Action Off Vietnam

The aircraft carrier Oriskany sailed beneath the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after 8:30 a.m. today, back from seven months of intensive action off Vietnam.

The carrier, in its third Vietnam tour in the past two years, flew 9,500 missions, said the Navy, and dropped 7,500 tons of bombs on Vietnam. It flew more major air strikes than any other carrier in the theater.

The Oriskany was skippered by Capt. Billy Holder and had 3,500 men, many of them from Marin, aboard her when she sailed beneath the bridge today.

The carrier's worst time in the Vietnam war was in 1966 when a fire, starting in a flare locker, killed 44 crewmen before it was put out.

U.S. Sub Lost 24 Years Found?

PERTH, Australia (AP) — The U.S. Navy submarine Triton, missing off the Australian coast since July 1943, is believed to have been spotted 20 miles east of Esperance, off the southwest coast.

An airline charter pilot said he sighted the submarine two miles offshore with a badly rusted gun on deck and the conning tower above water.

Hellman Play Is Next Production For Center Group

The Lillian Hellman play, "Another Part of the Forest," will be presented by the Mill Valley Center for Performing Arts on four weekends next month and March at the golf clubhouse in Mill Valley.

Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. on Feb. 16-17 and 23-24 and March 1-2 and 8-9.

Director of the drama about the Old South will be A. J. Esta. Co-producers are Sali Lieberman and Maxine White.

The cast includes Robin C. Jackson, George Pritzker, Stuart Serman, Philip Sheridan, Sarah Davis, Sherrell Erickson, John A. McDill, Norma Jean Wanvig, Arlen Aeger, Robert Atkinson and Manny Brockman.

The backstage crew will include Betty and Doris Eichler, stage managers; Donald W. Stubbs, set designer; Anne Booze and Linda Sweeny, properties; Aristed Demas, costume designer, and Beatrice Porter, wardrobe.

Ohio became a state in 1803.

Planners Approve Special Show Sign

The Corte Madera Planning Commission in a special meeting last night approved an application of General Motors Corp. for a "Chevrolet Cinesphere" advertising display at Corte Madera Shopping Center March 7-16 inclusive.

No opposition was voiced to the display to be on a shopping center parking lot.

Ex-Sheriff's Father In Better Condition

Jacob P. Sellmer, 98, father of former Marin County Sheriff Walter Sellmer showed slight improvement today in Marin General Hospital and was listed in fair condition.

He was admitted in poor condition Saturday after he was found collapsed on the garage floor of his Stinson Beach home. He apparently suffered a heart attack, said sheriff's deputies.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Lack Of Responsibility Called 'Appalling' By Campus Probers

Who is responsible for what goes on at California's state colleges?

Apparently no one is, according to legislators who have been probing into some state college activities that brought public outcry. So the lawmakers are groping for some sort of legislation which will make it possible to fix responsibility.

LATEST TO report frustration is an investigation on a state college campus was a special Senate committee which looked into complaints regarding an obscene play proudced last year at Fullerton State College. Said the committee's report:

"There appears to be no person willing to accept responsibility for activities on the campus since in the testimony it was clearly brought out that the chancellor seemed to feel the responsibility belonged to the president, the president to the head of the drama department, the head of the drama department to the classroom professor, and the classroom professor, Mr. (Edwin) Duerr, stated that the play was selected by a student."

The committee reported its five members were "amazed and appalled" at the attitude disclosed, and declared:

"THEY ARE TOTALLY unresponsive to anyone and clearly feel that the taxpayers should not concern themselves in any way with campus activities since the taxpayers are not 'experts' in educational matters."

This finding echoes those of other legislative committees that have looked into state college matters.

Sen. John L. Harmer, R-Glendale, of the Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education, wrote this columnist after members of that committee visited San Francisco State College in the wake of recent violence and vandalism:

"WE IN THE LEGISLATURE are becoming more and more perplexed with the attitude of the faculty and administration of the state colleges. For some reason we cannot get across to them that these institutions are tax supported and are there to represent the desires and objectives of the majority of the people of the state. . . . We cannot seem to get across to them that if they want to be free to engage in activity which is debilitating and destructive of the moral fiber of our society, they must go somewhere else to do it."

Legislation has been suggested to change the makeup of the 16-member California State Colleges Board of Trustees, which is the governing board for the 18 state colleges; to shorten terms of these trustees from the present eight years to four years, and to create a separate sub-board for each of the colleges.

It is entirely possible that the legislators' feelings may be translated also into punitive measures.

PROPOSALSL FOR some local control of the state colleges come at same time as a move in the legislature to abolish junior college districts and put California's junior colleges entirely under state control.

Trustees of junior college districts throughout the state last year supported a bill to create the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, in belief that this would help correct what they felt was "orphan" status of the junior colleges in Sacramento.

Now it has been proposed to abolish the junior college districts and make this newly authorized board (which is not yet in existence) the governing body for all the 70-plus public junior colleges in California. The same trustees who lobbied for creation of the board are manning the battlements to fight against abolishment of their local control.

FIXING RESPONSIBILITY in the junior colleges is not difficult. Each district has its own board of trustees, locally elected and easily reached by the citizenry.

University of California and state college campuses have been wracked increasingly in recent years by campus violence, and the activities of some faculty members at university and state college campuses have caused considerable public complaint. However, there has been very little violent unrest at the junior colleges and few complaints about unsavory faculty activities.

It would appear that local control in college administration has some advantages over statewide control.

CORRECTION: This column recently referred to the California Junior College Faculty Association as "closely tied to" the California Teachers Association.

This brought a letter from Martin J. Dreyfuss of San Joe City College, president of the CJCFA, declaring:

"The California Junior College Faculty Association is not affiliated with any otther professional organization in California which has on its membership roster junior college teachers. It is an entirely independent organization."

The writer is pleased to learn this and to set the record straight.

Year's Sentence For '67 Burglary

Henry Earl Crutchfield, 18, and Morlin Smith, 20, both of Marin City, were sentenced to a year in county jail Monday for the burglary of Andrew S. Cowie's home at 1145 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, June 16.

Crutchfield was also found guilty of petty theft by Municipal Court Judge Alvin H. Goldstein yesterday. He took a movie projector from Tamalpais High School May 30. Sentencing for that offense was scheduled for Monday.

Smith was placed on probation for five years for the burglary offense, while Crutchfield was placed on three years of probation. Judge Thomas F. Keating passed sentence.

North Unit Architect's Choice Due

Final selection of an architectural firm for designing the north campus at Novato, is expected by the Marin Junior College District Board at the College of Marin at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The meeting will be preceded by a 5:30 p.m. no-host dinner in Room B of the College Center, for the board, the architectural selection committee, representatives of three architectural firms chosen from a field of 15 applicants, and any others who wish to attend.

The three representatives will make final presentations at 6 p.m. and the committee may then select a firm for its choice and recommendation at the following board meeting, college officials said.

Approval of the educational specifications for a new science building on the Kentfield campus is also expected during the regular board meeting, along with authorizing an application for state funds for a proposed new library.

Novato Leads Marin With 30 Strep Cases

There were 74 cases of streptococcus infections reported last week to the Marin County Public Health Department.

Novato, with 30 cases, and San Rafael, with 13 had the most cases reported. There were 14 cases of mumps last week in the county.

Foundation Will Seat President

Mrs. Don Deane of Greenbrae will be installed Feb. 13 for her second term as president of Marin Foundation of Friends of Arequipa, which operates a home for teen-age girls with emotional and family problems.

Mrs. Phillip West of Belvedere will be installed as vice president of the group at a meeting at 10 a.m. at the Meadow Club, Fairfax. Mrs. W. D. Johnstone of San Rafael will be treasurer; Mrs. Harry N. Jacobs, Mill Valley, recording secretary; Mrs. William R. Witt, Mill Valley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Clark, Belvedere, parliamentarian.

The organization in March will close the home it operates in San Rafael for six girls and move into leased quarters in Larkspur where 18 girls will be housed, Mrs. Deane said.

Theft Of Car

Mary Jean Hartman of Santa Clara complained to sheriff's officers Friday night that someone stole her 1965 Volkswagen from in front of College of Marin while she attended a play there that night, deputies revealed today.

Boys Arrested For Gun Theft

Sheriff's deputies said yesterday that they arrested two Marinwood boys, aged 11 and 12, Thurday, for stealing a .38-caliber revolver from a house, then selling the weapon to a classmate for $24.

The boys were booked at juvenile hall after admitting they stole the gun during a burglary of Carolyn A. Beach's home at 567 Blackberry Drive, Marinwood.

Their crime was discovered when authorities at Lucas Valley school heard rumors of a boy buying a revolver from two classmates, juvenile inspectors said.

AMONG THE first to sample the Camp Fire Mints which go on sale in Marin tomorrow is Col. Charles L. Praul of Hamilton Air Force Base. The mints will be sold by all members of the Camp Fire Girl from the second grade members of the Blue Birds to the high school Horizon Club members. Proceeds from the sale will extend the Camp Fire Girls program in Marin. From left are Karen Tonge, Lauren Urbais and Donna DeMaestri. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

An Arabic Favorite--

"Fool" is the Arabic word for beans and you'll find them throughout the mid-east countries in dishes that are deliciously different. Although ingredients may vary from Damascus to Jerusalem to Cairo the basis is always white or red beans.

We owe the recipe for Fool Indamis to the chef of a little restaurant in Jordan called Hassan Effendi. This dish is a great favorite with the Arabs and eaten any time of day from breakfast to post-midnight supper. It looks something like our chili, served piping hot in little bowls. With it come small pitchers of oil and also of lemon juice which you add as suits your fancy. To top off the meal serve a generous platter of sliced tomatoes and cucumbers. You'll find this Arabian delight a welcome surprise next time you entertain.

FOOL INDAMIS

1 pound can kidney beans
3 tablespoons sesame oil
(olive or salad oil will do)
¼ cup lemon (or lime) juice
2 tablespoons finely minced onion
1 clove garlic, crushed
¼ cup water
Salt and Pepper to taste
Finely minced parsley or mint for garnish

Simply heat all ingredients thoroughly and serve very hot. Top with either the parsley or mint. This can also be pureed in blender and served either hot or cold for an interesting condiment with meats or sea food.

AMERICAN COLONY

Another version of Fool is this adaptation popular with Americans abroad. It also can be served hot as a main dish or chilled as a salad on a bed of lettuce.

2 cups dry navy beans
6 strips of bacon
1 large onion, chopped
1 large clove garlic, minced
2 large tomatoes, peeled and chopped
4 tablespoons lemon juice
Freshly ground pepper to taste
Chopped parsley

Cover beans with water in large pot. Bring to boil and cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat and let stand 1 hour. Proceed to boil till beans are soft and the skins burst. Drain thoroughly. Fry bacon till crisp and remove to drain. In the pan fat gently saute onion, garlic and tomatoes. When onion is soft but not brown, mix in crumbled bacon, beans and remaining ingredients. Top with parsley. If this is to be used as a salad, refrigerate overnight.

Onion, Celery And Raisins In Stuffing Balls

Cook 1 cup finely chopped celery and ½ cup finely chopped onion in ½ cup butter until vegetables begin to soften. Add 1 cup California seedless raisins, ½ cup turkey broth and 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning. Combine with ¼ cup finely chopped parsley, ½ cup chopped pecans, 1 beaten egg and 1 (8-ounce) package cornbread stuffing mix. Shape into 8 balls.

Place a 12 x 24-in length of foil on shallow baking pan. Arrange stuffing balls on one half. Cover loosely with other half and fold edges to seal. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Camp Fire Girls Are Hoping 'To Make A Mint Of Money'

A candy with a name that, appropriately, has a monetary connotation goes on sale throughout Marin tomorrow as Camp Fire Girls of the Golden Gate Council undertake their only fund campaign.

The candy is the mint, and — according to Mrs. D. L. Hughes, who is serving as general chairman for the fund campaign, the Camp Fire Girls hope to "make a mint of money" from the sale of dollar boxes of the candies to support their program activities.

During the sale period, Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Junior High Camp Fire Girls, and senior Horizon Club members, working in pairs and wearing the traditional red, white and blue service costume of Camp Fire, will make door-to-door calls.

Also during the sale, booths will be set up in various shopping areas throughout the county.

A volunteer committee of community representatives also is working on the fund drive. Members include Mesdames G. P. Nagtegaal, Clarence Gifford, Alfred Stone, David Gladys, Leo Jarvis, Peter Skaer, Harold E. Carter, Judy Jansen, Robert Bolt, Gerald Harwood, Frank Clark, Joseph Clever and Jack Mitchell.

The mints, which can be frozen, make several recipes.

MINTY ROLL CAKE

Bake 1 recipe Jelly Roll Cake. Roll up and let cool, on wire rack. Prepare 2 envelopes of any whip topping mixes, according to directions on the package. When topping begins to thicken up, drop in 12-16 Camp Fire Mints, continue to beat until topping is thick.

Unroll cake and spread mixture on cake (as you would when making a jelly roll) then re-roll cake. Use the remaining mixture to frost the outside of the roll. Chill before serving.

NO-BAKE COFFEE CAMP FIRE MINT BALLS

1 Cup finely crushed Graham Crackers
1 Cup sifted Powdered Sugar
1½ Teaspoons Instant Coffee
Mix together and set aside
In top of double boiler melt:
2 Tablespoons Butter or Margarine
1 Tablespoon Water
16 Camp Fire Mints

CAMP FIRE MINT NO-BAKE COOKIES

1 cup sugar
½ cup butter
16 Camp Fire Mints
½ cup milk
3 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix sugar, butter, mints, and milk in saucepan. Bring to boil, then reduce heat and boil 3 or 4 minutes, or until soft ball forms in cold water, 234 degrees. Remove from heat; stir in oats, nuts, and vanilla. Quickly drop by teaspoon onto waxed paper; let stand until hardened. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

MALLOW-MINT SQUARES

1 package of miniature marshmallows
½ Box Camp Fire Mints

Melt marshmallows and mints together.

Add 4 cups Rice Krispies and mix well. Press this mixture into a greased buttered pan. When set cut into squares.

A variation of the Mallow-Mint mixture could be used with Rice or Corn Cheks. Then make into balls and roll in finely chopped nuts or coconut.

MINTY NUTTY SQUARES

Nut filling:
½ cup ground nuts (try blanched almonds)
1 egg white (medium egg)
½ teaspoon vanilla

Blend the nuts, egg white and vanilla into a paste. Set aside while preparing the dough.

Dough:
12 Camp Fire Mints
2 tablespoons milk
¾ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
Confectioner's sugar

Melt chocolate and mints with milk in top of double boiler. Cream butter and sugar together until fluffy. Add vanilla and melted chocolate mixture. Sift flour and salt together and gradually add to chocolate and butter mixture, mixing thoroughly. Chill dough for about 1 hour.

Form into balls, using a rounded teaspoonful of dough for each. Then make a hole in the center of each ball with your thumb or the end of a spoon and fill with nut filling (about ¼ teaspoon). Gently seal the hole by working the dough over the nut mixture. Place ball, hole side down on a slightly greased baking sheet. Bake in 350 degree oven 10-12 minutes. Roll or dip top of cookies in the confectioner's sugar while still hot. Cool on rack.

SHAKE O'MINT

Blend together ½ cup cold Form into balls, using a milk, 1/3 tablespoon chocolate syrup and two Camp Fire Mints in a blender until smooth. Add three or four scoops of chocolate or vanilla ice cream and blend five seconds more. A delicious refreshing, delicately minty drink.

DELICIOUS EASY-TO-DO MINT TRICKS

Cake Ideas

Bake your favorite chocolate or plain cake and place Camp Fire Mints on the top of each layer immediately when taken from oven. When cool, put together as usual and frost with chocolate frosting.

Press Camp Fire Mints into the top of a pound cake fresh from the oven. Simple and a mint of a find! The mints melt right into the cake.

A delightful filling for a cake results when you place chopped Camp Fire Mints and toasted walnuts or almonds between the layers and frost as usual.

Thoroughly mash and blend eight Camp Fire Mints which have been standing at room temperature. Add to commercial cake mix and proceed as directed on package.

Mint Pudding — Prepare chocolate package pudding mix as directed. While hot add three Camp Fire Mints and stir until melted and thoroughly blended.

Ice Cream Ideas

Melt six or eight Camp Fire Mints in the top of a double boiler, add two tablespoons milk and stir until smooth. Pour over vanilla ice cream.

To one pint of vanilla ice cream add ½ cup chopped Camp Fire Mints. Serve with topping of toasted nuts.

Sunflower Seed Nut Meats Add Touch To Casserole

(Serves 4-6)

1 6½ oz. can tuna
1 small green pepper, chopped
1 small onion, chopped
¼ cup chopped pimentos
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup Sunflower seed-meats
2 cups chow mein noodles
1 10½ oz. can mushroom soup
¼ cup milk
1 4 oz. can sliced mushrooms with liquid
Salt to taste

Mix tuna, pepper, onion, pimentos, celery and sunflower meats in a buttered 1½ quart casserole. Place 1½ cups chow mein noodles on bottom. Mix mushroom soup, milk and mushrooms with liquid; pour over tuna mixture and mix well. Spoon this on top of chow mein noodles. Place other ½ cup noodles on top. Bake at 350° for 45 minutes.

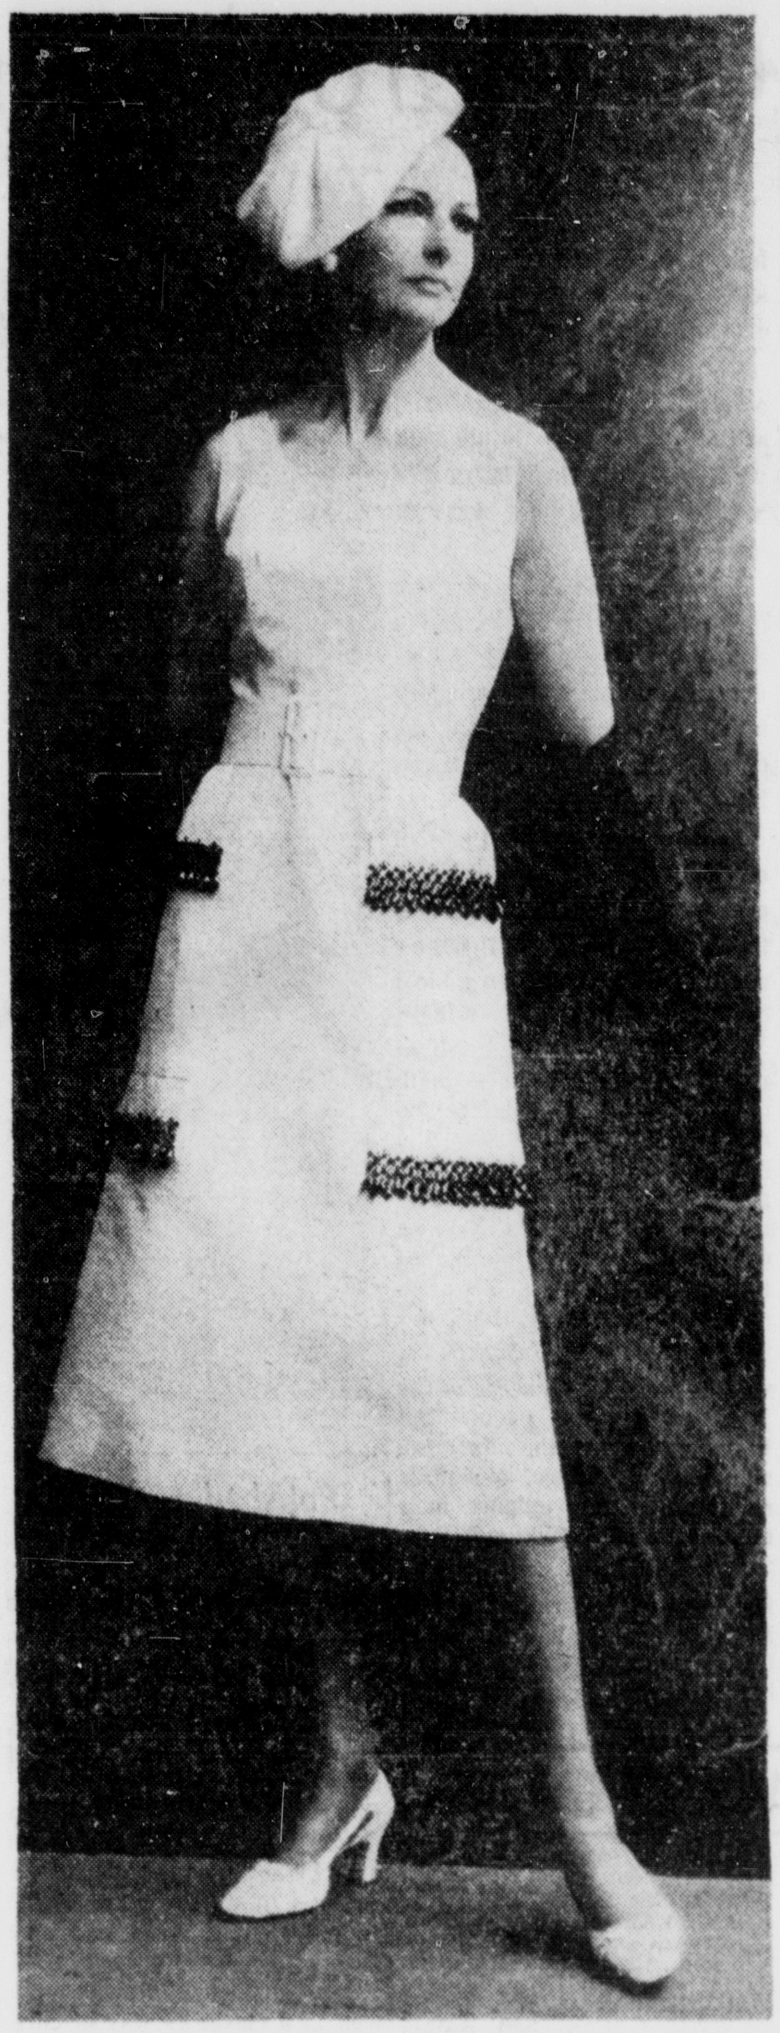
SHADES OF 'BONNIE'

The long and the short of the offerings of designer Ted Lapidus on display from the spring-summer high fashion collection in Paris might have come straight from the film "Bonnie and Clyde." German model Ursula, left, and Finnish model Essy show three-piece ensembles of reversible red and brown jersey. Essy's sash has a silver buckle. (UPI Cablephotos)



ROYAL COUTURIER Norman Hartnell of London follows the trend in inspired by the film in this dress for the cocktail hour, left. With the hemline dropped to well below the knee, the dress is done in a white silk and has four pockets — one pair place at about the same level of a mini-skirt hemline — edged in jet beads. At right Hartnell presents an emerald green gabardine coat with a welted stand-up collar and maxi-length hem, which drops to slightly above the ankle.

Nursing Adventure, Marriage Highlight Middle East Tour

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Most of us feel fortunate in being able to take a three weeks trip or even a three months trip, but the former Nancy Mountjoy of Novato, now Mrs. Mohammed (Moe) Sbeih, was fortunate and adventurous enough to go abroad for three years.

During that time, she traveled through all of Europe, finally going to Beirut, Lebanon, where she met her husband, Moe, an Arab, and they were married Dec. 23, 1966.

Nancy, the daughter of Mrs. Fern Isaacson of Novato, and her husband arrived in Novato this month and intend to make this area their home if Moe can find a position in his line of work, marketing and electronic equipment. He is a graduate of Yale University and following his graduation worked one year in Jerusalem before moving to Beirut.

Although a graduate of St. Luke's School of Nursing, Nancy, however, took other odd jobs and while in Germany in order to ski in the winter took work in a hotel for three days a week for $44 a month.

She also worked for eight months at an American civilian hospital but felt she wasn't seeing the world there.

TRAVELING ON with three other nurses from the United States, she and the others stayed at youth hostels and even camped out on the side of the roads in their sleeping bags.

The girls met a Scottish journalist who had a Volkswagen and they drove on through Turkey to Beirut with him.

They were in Athens when Turkey had its violent earthquake of 1966, so they volunteered their services as nurses and journeyed in the Volkswagen across the desert from Ankara to Erzeru.

It was frightening traveling across the desert, Nancy said, but the people in the area had moved out of their homes, afraid that another earthquake might come at any time, so they were invited to use the houses, with members of the families staying outside.

THEY HELPED at the hospital there, and then went on to Beirut where Nancy met Moe through a mutual friend.

Moe was born in Jerusalem, where his father is retired and his brother is a dentist.

The first communication they had from them in over two months was a very sad letter received upon their arrival in Novato. Now Jerusalem is occupied by the Israelis, and Moe's parents hope that the situation will clear soon.

Nancy compared the weather of Beirut to Los Angeles, and Moe said Lebanon is to the Middle East what Switzerland is to the west.

BUSINESS IS DONE at a much more leisurely pace than here, Moe said.

"In order to conduct business, a man must first ask 'how's the wife,' or if the other has been on a trip, 'how was the trip?' then offer coffee, tea or a soft drink before they continue business," he said.

There is a vast difference between the wealthy and the poor in Lebanon, however, they said. All the children of the poor must work. They might sell paper bags for five cents in the market place or even packages of gum.

The cultural advantages are many there, Nancy said, and except for the poor, everyone has household help.

NANCY TRIED to dispel the feeling that language is a barrier in traveling. She knows fundamentals in languages, but says when one finds the need, he can pick up the vocabulary. It's amazing the way one can communicate with sign language, Nancy said.

"It was really a shock to come back and hear everyone speak English," Nancy remarked. In the other countries she could turn away when the conversation did not concern her, but when she arrived home, she seemed to hear every word spoken.

Nancy and Moe discussed whether they would settle on the East or West coast, but wherever they choose, one can be assured that Nancy will adjust to any area after her many travels.

MR. AND MRS. MOHARRAD (MOE) SBEIH show Mrs. Sbeih's niece, Cathy Mountjoy of Novato, character dolls from Lebanon. Mrs. Sbeih, the former Nancy Mountjoy, recently returned to Novato following a three-year tour of Europe and the Middle East, where she met and married her husband in Beirut. The Sbeihs intend to stay in the United States. (Independent-Journal photo)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

It's Time To Begin Her Life Away From Domineering Mom

DEAR HELEN:

I have been divorced for 12 years, am in my middle 30s, with two children. All these years I have worked hard to support us, and am well respected in the community.

My mother lives downstairs. I pay her rent. For as long as I can remember, she has made life miserable for me, but she is so domineering that I have never broken away. When I tried, she'd scream, "After all I've done for you," and make it look like I was turning my poor old mother out in the snow. She is stronger and healthier than I am, well able to work, and besides, she has a pension.

During my teen years I never had friends. To her they were all bums, and I couldn't keep them. My marriage was an escape. She's never stopped saying, "I told you so." She says all men are brutes, sadists, spongers and worthless. For a time, I believed her and buckled under. It was easier than fighting, and I was busy being the breadwinner.

But now, finally, I've met a man. For the first time in my life I'm thinking straight. I don't know whether he wants marriage or not, and I don't care. He's made me see that I'm important, and that my children need to get away, before they are warped like I was.

How does my mother react to this widower? She calls him every vile name in the book, spreads rumors about him in the neighborhood, tries to turn my son and daughter against him. But they are all on his side.

Well, I've found an apartment and we're moving out. It will be a complete break, for my mother will spread it all over town what a rat I am. Sometimes her haranguing makes me weaken; it's hard to break the pattern when you've been dominated for so long. Just writing this has helped. Please help further and tell me I'm right. —STILL AFRAID TO CUT THE CHAINS

DEAR CHAIN-CUTTER:

Of course you're right! You've been wrong only in waiting half your life to make the break. Those who know the situation will agree, and others may too, in spite of your mother's static —more likely because of it.

Don't weaken!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

It may have sounded farfetched — the man who spent years getting even with his wife because of one small mistake she made before marriage. But it happens.

My husband has started staying out until 5 a.m. He said he was with the fellas, but I happened to pick up the extension phone and heard him talking about a hot number, and he didn't mean on the juke box.

Next day a girl called him. He told me she just wanted him to take her home from work, but finally he admitted he'd been out with several girls. He said it was to pay me back. You see, we had to get married, and, though he hasn't any proof, he now says that I probably was promiscuous with others, too.

He says that now we are even, we can start over as if nothing happened. He's satisfied. But he still stayed out till 3 a.m. last night. What can I believe?—H.L.T.

DEAR H:

One thing you can't believe is your husband. Tell him you'll accept his phony excuse, but only if he stays home where he belongs.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

How come my wife rants and raves when the price of sugar goes up 10 cents, yet she figures she got a bargain when she pays $49.95 for a dress that couldn't have more than a yard of material in it? — CAN'T UNDERSTAND 'EM

DEAR CAN'T:

For the same reason you figure $3,800 is about right for a car, yet you scream and holler when cigarettes go up three cents a pack.—H.

Guy Laroche Puts All Paris In Tunics

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — Guy Laroche falls hard for tunics of every length for spring and summer, day and evening.

His latest showing of tailored ones look like overblouses and are wristlength. As the day advances he drops them to bracket length and wrist and fingertip length.

Sometimes they look just like a Russian peasant blouse, and to emphasize this idea he treats them to cross-stitch embroidery at all edges. For evening he developes the embroidery, translating it into jewelled glitter.

Laroche's beautiful Parisian evening dresses feature lovely embroidery in colored stones that varies from all-over regularly spaced jewelled square motifs to paved mozaics.

For sports and play Laroche makes news with a knee-length cuffed trouser reaching the top of the boot. It was first shown in his Laroche "monsieur" department, presented simultaneously as escorts for the girls. Next he does it for the ladies and makes the most of it in light colors and sports wollen.

DuPont's "Lycra" stretch weaves are used in some of the jump suits and pants. But Laroche also uses the new ginza stretch mock leather, as well as see-through navy guipure in a tunic-topped Bermuda suit.

Lean, Slim Look

Another formal look for spring; a lean, slim shape, always waisted, possibly empire, with new bareness at the top. The strapless has returned. Hemlines are as you like it—short, long and often a slanting combination of both.

Polished Manners

Good manners are an ingredient of happiness. Emerson said, "Manners are the happy ways of doing things." He also said, "Fine manners need the support of the fine manners in others." And Horace Mann, the educator, wrote that "Manners easily and rapidly advance into morals." But Lord Chesterfield, that 18th Century paragon of advice, in his "Letters" said it at greater length. "Manners must adorn knowledge, and smooth its way through the world. Like a great, rough diamond, it may do very well in a closet by way of curiosity, and also for its intrinsic value; but it will never be worn, nor shine, if it is not polished."

Ross Guild President Enjoys Skiing, Tennis

A five year member of the Ross Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Marin Museum of Science, Mrs. Albert W. Seidel of Ross, is the group's new president.

The guild, which supports the museum through fund-raising efforts, plans to make wooden ornaments for the Festival of Trees. Their third annual Ski Swap will be held in October.

Ann Seidel has worked with the Next To New Shop for the Junior League of San Francisco. She has supported the Family Service League actively until this year, and enjoys skiing and tennis. She attended Colby Junior College in New Hampshire.

Residents of Marin for eight years, the Seidels have two sons, Eric, 8, and Kirk, 6. They are Brigitte Frank's American family under the Youth for Understanding Program.

Other officers serving with Mrs. Seidel are Mrs. David Merten, vice president; Mrs. Wilford Caulkins III, recording secretary, both of Ross; Mrs. Peter Charles of Kentfield, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frederick A. Zulch of Ross, treasurer; and Mrs. Webster Otis of Ross, Ski Swap chairman.

ON THE AGENDA

Punch, Lunch And Fashions Set Feb. 16 By St. Hilary's Guild

"Fashions for '68," a round-up of fashions from a group of local shops, will be presented by St. Hilary's Parent-Teachers Guild at Lydon Hall, Tiburon, on Feb. 16. Punch will be served at 11:30 a.m., luncheon at noon, with the style show to begin at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph Ramblas is chairman; Mesdames John Holliday, models; Carol King, fashion coordinator; Fred Fullmer, awards; Lloyd Bentley, luncheon; John Sweeney, decorations; Raymond Jasek and Rred Reusche, reservations.

Modeling the spring fashions will be Mesdames Cecil Pharris, Jack Fiarito, David Dooley, Edward McFetridge, Alvan Sargent, Ruben Pacheco, John E. Koenig Jr., Neil Kelly, John Doherty and Hans Meyers. Children's clothes will be displayed by Lisa Trieber, Gennie Meyers and John Jansheski.

AN INSTALLATION and dinner dance will be held by members of the Bel Marin Keys Yacht Club at the Lodge in Novato on Saturday. Anthony Ricci will be installed commodore.

Al Allen, vice commodore, will be master of ceremonies and Colin Kosack, past commodore will be the installing officer.

Cocktails will be served at 7:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 8:30 p.m.

NOW THAT the San Francisco Symphony season is under way again, the Thursday bus-concert series will be launched tomorrow by the Marin Regional Council of the San Francisco Symphony Foundation. Two busses will leave tomorrow at 11 a.m. from Bon Air Shopping Center to transport Marin concertgoers to San Francisco, stopping also at Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center to pick up Southern Marin people. The buses arrive at Union Square at noon for lunch and then go on to the Opera House for the symphony concert. Afterward the Marin contingent will reboard the buses to return to Marin.

The bus-concert procedure is also scheduled for March 14, April 4 and May 9, announce Marin Regional Council chairmen Mesdames John O'Neill and Robert Greene.

THE ANNUAL dinner party at which Belvedere Volunteer Firemen Association members honor their wives, will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 9 in the firemen's quarters. Albert "Tim" Harris is chairman. Special guests will be Mayor and Mrs. John R. Moore, City Manager and Mrs. William Cavalli, Police Chief and Mrs. William Woodington, and Fire Commissioner Dr. John Flint and Mrs. Flint. The newly elected board, led by O. R. Holm, president, will be installed at the dinner.

The Feb. 7 luncheon meeting will begin at noon. Chairmen are Mesdames Mills Calahan, James Bertenshaw, John Norall, Stanley Aitchison, Julian Rice and William Reid.

Kathy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins of Mill Valley, was graduated from Tamalpais High School in 1966 and is presently enrolled at Stanford University.

Mr. and Mrs. Masao, with whom she stayed, had a daughter participating in the ICYE program in the State of Washington and another daughter Kathy's age. Kathy attended the all-girl Kinjo Gakuin school, a missionary school of the Presbyterian Church, and worked as a volunteer at a school for retarded children with a group of Japanese college students.

MEMBERS OF the Civics and Conservation Committee of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley will meet tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the clubhouse. They will then go to the Richardson Bay sanctuary, to watch Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger conduct her outdoor education classes, weather permitting.

MRS. WAYNE THURMAN will speak on Korea and its culture for the North Marin group of PEO Sisterhood at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ethel Crane in Novato at 10 a.m. Friday.

Hyunok Karl, who lives with Colonel and Mrs. Thurman, will play Beethoven's Sonata 26-Opus 81, Les Adiux.

The Thurmans spent two years in Korea when Colonel Thurman was in command of an advisory group.

Customers At The 'Razor's Edge' Have More Reason To Look Sharp

Since she became Pittsburgh's only shoeshine girl three weeks ago the customers at the Razor's Edge—a men's hair styling shop—have looked sharp and waxed eloquent.

"I'm supposed to look young and fresh and sexy," she said before sitting down to polish another pair of shoes.

She took the job, she said, because she was out of work and needed money to go back to school.

Now she makes $10, even on a bad day, at 50 cents a shine plus tips that usually are generous; working from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. six days a week.

"I never had shined a pair of shoes," Ellen said. "The fellows just told me what they knew about it and I went from there."

But the brushing will bush you, she said. "If I hadn't been a tomboy for years I might not have been able to do it. It gets you in the back."

March Wedding Is Planned By Nancy Lynn Barnecut

A March 23 wedding is planned by Nancy Lynn Barnecut and Ronald Clyde Simpson, both of Berkeley. The future bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Barnecut of Sleepy Hollow.

Robert Curtis Barnecut and John Curtis Barnecut are her brothers. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and the University of California, where she joined Alpha Delta Pi sorority. She is employed by Edelstein, Campbell and Co. in San Francisco.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Frederick Simpson of Pleasant Hill and the brother of Irwin Simpson. A graduate of Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek, he is a senior at the University of California.

The couple will live in Berkeley after their wedding in Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur.

Coffee Break

NEW YORK (UPI)—Employed persons continued to consume more coffee during morning and afternoon breaks than other segments of the population, according to a survey by the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

Figures for 1967 showed the average coffee drinking during such breaks almost matched the record high point of 1.15 cups per employed person per working day, established in 1962. The current figure was 1.14 cups and represented the second consecutive year-to-year gain.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

By MOLLY MARIN

Before the opening performance of "Bell, Book and Candle" by the Cove Players on Friday at the Main Street Theater, in Tiburon, several dinner parties are planned. The Bill Carters of Tiburon, Robert Hughsons of Mill Valley, Michael Wagners of Sausalito and Robert Boats of Tiburon will host pre-theater parties. The opening performance will give the Cove Players and their fans an opportunity to say "goodbye" to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shreve who leave the next day to take up residence in Tahiti. Mrs. Shreve, founder of the Cove Players with Dan Totheroh, has been producer for the Players.

MRS. ARCHER Forsyth of Mill Valley, chairman of Marin Committee for Project Concern, and Mrs. Thomas F. Ford of San Rafael, a member of the committee have left for a visit to the hospital and clinic operated by Project Concern on the outskirts of Tijuana, Mexico. There is also a school for 300 children. The Marin committee provided funds for refurbishing of one schoolroom, done with volunteer labor. A good quantity of clothing and hospital linen supplies, collected at a recent benefit tea at the Forsyth home, is being taken to Tijuana for distribution there.

ARTIST MRS. Mildred Coughlin McNutt of Sausalito will be honored at a champagne reception at the Tiburon Gallery on Feb. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allsman of Tiburon are hosting the reception from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Mrs. McNutt's works, including etchings, lithographs, drawings and oils will be on display at the gallery until Feb. 26. Her work has been exhibited in Italy, Frances, England, and Japan and throughout the United States. This may be the last showing at the Tiburon Gallery. The building which houses the gallery will be torn down this spring. A new location is being sought.

A DINNER party celebrating the 40th wedding anniversary of the Jerry Barnacles of Kentfield was given on Sunday at Rubini's in Fairfax. Hosting a reception later for the dinner guests were their son and daughter-in law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry J. Barnacle of San Rafael.

Carl North Claims Bride In Mill Valley Ceremony

Merilyn Griffith and Carl V. North of San Francisco were married Saturday at the Mill Valley Methodist Church in a ceremony performed by the bridegroom's father, the Rev. Donald North of San Francisco.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dean Walton of Mill Valley, the bride was attended by Mrs. Isamu Kawabori of San Jose, matron of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Donna North, and Wanda Hollister of San Francisco.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Lloyd North of Reno, and another brother, Jerry North of Modesto, showed guests to their seats.

A graduate of the University of the Pacific and San Francisco State College, the bride is employed at El Portal School in San Bruno teaching orthopedically handicapped children. She is the sister of Mark Walton of Mill Valley.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Nevada Union High School and San Francisco State College and is serving with the U.S. Army at Fort Sill, Okla.

Merilyn will continue living in San Francisco and will join her husband later.

MODERN WITCHES

Third Annual Band Musical Is Announced

San Rafael High School's 75-piece symphonic band will present its third annual Winter Musicale, featuring three guest performers, at 8 p.m. Feb. 8 at the high school auditorium.

Proceeds of the concert will go toward a travel fund to help finance a three-day band trip to Southern California this spring.

LeRoy Roach, band director at Acalanes High School in Lafayette, will conduct "Folk Song Suite" by R. Vaughn Williams and "Fandango" by Perkins.

Maria Leone Alessi, former soprano with the Metropolitan Opera Co., will sing "Un Bel Di" from Madam Butterfly and a medley of show tunes.

Her selections have been arranged by Douglas Stewart, who will be guest conductor during her performance. Stewart is former director of the Atascadero High School Symphonic and Concert Bands and was a guest conductor for the San Rafael High School Symphonic Band last year.

22 Marin Students Named To Honor Musical Groups

ARKANSAS CONVICT REUBEN JOHNSON
Leads police to mystery graves

Secrecy Slapped On Probe Of Prison Farm Graves

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — State police probed in secrecy today seeking to determine if three skeletons recovered from unmarked graves were inmates buried in a paupers cemetery or victims of a vicious prison justice.

The bones were unearthed Monday from a grassy boot-tramped field and their discovery raised the question: How many more bodies might lie beneath the shallow depressions that dot these 15,270 acres of Arkansas River land?

Reuben Johnson, 59, the strapping six-foot inmate who led investigators to the graves said that years ago he helped bury about 10 or 12 convicts who were "shot with a pistol, a shotgun or just beaten to death."

Looking back on his 30 years in prison, Johnson claimed that as many as 2,000 inmates had been quietly consigned to unmarked graves, many of them listed as escapers who were never recaptured.

State police Maj. Bill Streubing, who is conducting the investigation, discounted Johnson's story yesterday. After visiting the gravesite and poring over prison records, Streubing said he thought the graves probably were in a paupers cemetery.

"We don't know for sure, but in our own minds, we believe it is," he said.

He called off further digging until pathologists conclude tests on the bones already unearthed, and he indicated that his investigation would be conducted in secrecy even after the reports are in.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller told newsmen later in the day that he thought the information should be withheld because of the bad publicity it would bring the state.

He promised to make a "full and complete report" to the people after the investigation was complete, but said he didn't want to "wash dirty linen before the nation for weeks on end as each body is dug up."

He also said, however, that he wasn't surprised the bodies had been found, and that he thought other bodies would indicate there had been foul play. He said he had heard rumors ever since coming to Arkansas in 1953 that prisoners had been killed, buried on the prison grounds and listed on the records as escapees.

Former Prison Supt. Dan D. Stephens said he was aware that there was an old prison cemetery in the area where the skeletons were found—one headless, one with the skull bashed in and a third with the legs broken, apparently to get the body into a makeshift, plank casket.

Theft Denied

Joan E. Danison, 38, of Mill Valley, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge she stole clothing worth $26 from Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera Jan. 14. Jury trial was scheduled for Feb. 27.

Parents Cite Gains In School Integration

The Mill Valley-Sausalito interdistrict school program is working better this year than last, Mill Valley parents said Monday, largely because Mill Valley pupils are accepting the program more easily as their experience grows.

Under the program, Mill Valley pupils are attending Richardson Bay School in the Sausalito district, which has a comparatively high ratio of Negro students.

Parents of Mill Valley pupils in the program met Monday with school officials to evaluate the program and suggest improvements.

Parents suggested a "student day" might be set up when other pupils from Sausalito and Marin City could meet Mill Valley pupils.

Also suggested was a resumption of last year's meetings of parents from both districts. Mill Valley School trustee John K. Robinson, who is on the interdistrict committee, said he would look into starting the meetings again.

Among other reactions from the parents:

Their children are more free and more able to accept people for what they are instead of what they look like.

Open discussion of any existing prejudice is beneficial to both groups.

Travel involved in the program cuts down the Mill Valley pupils' chances to make friends with others.

Mill Valley Supt. James A. Collins outlined tentative plans for a joint summer school in the two districts which he said would give more opportunities for student interaction.

James Martin of the Richardson Bay staff explained a new mathematics program, partly financed by Senate Bill 28, in which pupils from the school were eventually able to teach mathematics to elementary pupils at Alto School.

McCarthy Is Renamed To Committees

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, was re-appointed today by the Senate Rules Committee to 10 legislative committees and two commissions for the 1968 session.

McCarthy is vice-chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, on which he has served 11 years.

His standing committee assignments are: Governmental Efficiency, Transportation, and Business and Professionas. His joint committee assignemnts are Bay Area Regional Organization, Interstate Cooperation, Fairs Allocation and Classification, Legislative Ethics, Legislative Organization and Public Domain.

He also will serve on the Commission on Constitutional Revision, and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Fog Closes Airport

Underground Rule Sought For Fairfax

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night recommended to the city there be an ordinance requiring utilities in new residential and commercial subdivisions be placed underground.

Approval of the recommendation came on a 5-1 vote at a meeting at the Fairfax Women's Club. Commissioner Harold S. Lezzeni dissented; commissioner Albert E. Gately was absent.

The ordinance proposed would allow exceptions, if approved by the commission, for subdivisions of less than five lots.

The commission set 8 p.m. Feb. 29 at the women's club for a public hearing on an ordinance which would require a six months waiting period before a plan rejected by the design review board could be resubmitted, unless there were significant changes in the design.

Planning commission and council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 15 at the women's club for a study session on the proposed zoning ordinance.

THE PENNEY STORY

Should you throw away your iron or keep it as a door stop?

By ROBERTA NASH

Perhaps your iron isn't obsolete just yet. But with Penn-Prest, most women never iron at all. They just let their dryer do the ironing.

(Of course, if you haven't a tumble dryer, you may have to touch up in some cases. But just a touch up.)

Please don't confuse Penn-Prest with some other 'permanent press' process that may have disappointed you. This one is different.

The J. C. Penney Company stands behind it.

REDUCED THRU SATURDAY!

This Penn-Prest® polyester/cotton sateen weave with a lustrous finish will stay fresh and new looking wash after wash without ironing! Just machine wash and tumble dry! The shirts are tailored with French fronts, two front flap pockets and long sleeves. The pants have a plain front with cuffed bottoms and a sturdy brass zipper. Mays Is Rarin' To Go

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays, who at 35 says he is not ready to start thinking as a coach after his worst season in 1967, has signed his 1968 baseball contract for about $125,000.

Mays' signing was one of six announced yesterday by the San Francisco Giants. The others and their estimated salaries were pitcher Mike McCormick, $55,000 to $66,000; first baseman Willie McCovey, $60,000, and catcher Tom Haller, infielder Jim Davenport and infielder-outfielder Jim Ray Hart, each about $25,000.

Mays had his poorest season since he joined the Giants in 1954. Last year he batted .263 with 22 homers and 70 runs batted in.

He got off to a good start last season but pulled a hamstring muscle and then came down with the flu. "I was a little sick; I had an off season, that's all," said Mays. "But I don't want it to sound like an alibi."

GYM WORKOUTS

He and the five others, all of whom live in the San Francisco area, have been working out three times a week in a gymnasium. Mays said he is "ready to go, now. I weigh 186, which I do all year. I feel like I could play 15 more years."

McCovey's salary was reported a little more than in 1967, when he hit 31 homers, had 91 RBI and hit .276.

McCormick, who had a 22-10 record last season and won the Cy Young and Comeback Player of the Year awards, possibly doubled his salary from $30,000.

Davenport appears to be improving after a leg operation and is expected to force the Giants to shift Hart from third base to left field.

The players were optimistic but not cocky about '68.

"We're looking forward to a great year," said McCovey. "We have a really good club. Some of us had an off year. We expect to bounce back.

"If Mays has a normal year and a few others bounce back, we can win."

Four Seats For Nate At Heavyweight Bout

All promoters should be as lucky as Don Chargin of the Bonanza Boxing Club who is staging the Jerry Quarry-Thad Spencer heavyweight elmination 12-rounder at the Oakland Coliseum Arena Saturday afternoon.

Chargin revealed that San Francisco Warriors star Nate Thurmond has purchased four $20 seats — all for himself.

Thurmond will sit in one seat and use the other three to rest his injured leg. At 6-11 he needs the extra room.

The Leggett Valley High School basketball team had to postpone two games last weekend for the most unusual reason: Visiting teams couldn't get into that Sonoma County community because of the heavy snow!

Russians May Invade Oakland

Soccer buffs will be happy to know the Oakland Clippers are working on a top-flight international schedule involving games with Russia, Mexico and Sweden at Oakland Coliseum. Clipper president H. T. "Toby" Hilliard says there's a 50-50 chance of landing the Soviets for a May Day match.

If golf oddities are your cup of tee, try these 1967 feats on for size (thanks to Golf Digest): A. C. Hemphill of Chehalis, Wash., age 92, shot an 89 to join the select group of 36 golfers who scored their age or better during the year . . . There were 235 double eagles recorded in the country, the longest being on a 570-yard hole by Thomas E. Orndorff, a Texan, natch . . . 14-year-old Larry Walker of Tulsa, Okla. was the youngest golfer to score a double eagle and W. C. Jordan, 64, of Trinidad, Calif., was the oldest . . . And Katherine Murphy of L.A. established a new marathon record for women golfers by playing 156 holes within 24 hours. (Her hubby's the original golf widower.)

Sports Celebs At Santa Rosa

Next Sunday is the big Santa Rosa Sports Celebrity Banquet at the Flamingo Hotel. Distinguished guests at the head table will include Mike McCormick and Jim Davenport of the Giants, Ike Lassiter and Dan Birdwell of the Raiders, Kermit Alexander and Howard Mudd of the 49ers, Monte Clark of the Cleveland Browns, Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox, Heisman Hero Gary Beban of UCLA, Roman Gabriel and Dave Jones of the Rams, "Orange Juice" Simpson of USC, Bob "Holy" Toledo of S. F. State football fame, Cornell Green of the Dallas Cowboys and Nelson Briles of the St. Louis Cards.

FUTURE 49ER — Auburn's Forrest Blue was chosen yesterday as the San Francisco 49ers' first draft choice. He's a 6-foot, 5-inch, 250-pound center who can play any position on the interior offensive line. (AP Wirephoto)

Warriors Bump Bulls, Snap Slump

CHICAGO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors, proving they can win without injured center Nate Thurmond, downed Chicago 123-119 in a National Basketball Association game last night and try to make it two straight Thursday at San Diego.

The second-place Warriors, now trailing St. Louis by seven games, got 30 points apiece from Rudy La Russo and Jeff Mullins in snapping a three-game losing streak.

23 FOR HETZEL

Fred Hetzel added 23 for the Warriors. Keith Erickson led Chicago with 25.

The loss was the fifth straight for the Bulls, who led at halftime 64-58 and remained in contention until the final three minutes.

Raiders Land Top Runners

The Oakland Raiders picked two of the nation's top college quarterbacks first and second in the annual pro football combined draft yesterday, but neither may every play a down at the position for the American League champions.

Eldridge Dickey, number one choice of the Raiders, always wanted to be the first Negro quarterback to make it big in pro football, but the Raiders have a good young quarterback in Daryle Lamonica, the 1967 AFL Player of the Year, so Dickey may be converted to flanker. That's a position he played at times in college and where the Raiders could use someone with his sprinter's speed and ability.

The 6-foot-2, 198-pound Tennessee A&I product also returned punts and kickoffs in college. He said yesterday that he was "thrilled to be an Oakland Raider" and that he would play wherever coach John Rauch decides.

SOUTHPAW WHIZ

Ken Stabler, of Alabama, the left-handed passing whiz known as "the Snake" for his elusive running style, also might have a position shift to defense or running back, unless the Raiders decide that he can be worked in behind Lamonica. However, as in Dickey's case, Raider officials stressed that they drafted Stabler for "all around athletic ability" and he may be used at several positions rather than sit on the bench as Lamonica ages.

The added factor in Stabler's case is that he is a star pitcher for 'Bama's baseball team, and the Houston Astros chose him in the free agent baseball draft earlier this month. Baseball or football will be the "Snake's" dilemma.

The other top Raider draft choices behind Dickey and Stabler yesterday were tackles Arthur Shell of Maryland State and John Naponick of Virginia, and running back Charlie Smith of Utah.

Winger Called Up

49ers Wheel, Deal

The San Francisco 49ers drafted five players, traded one, and made an addition to their coaching staff in a busy day yesterday.

With an eye to strengthening their offensive and defensive lines, the 49ers followed the trend of the 1968 draft and picked four linemen before selecting a backfield man.

Their top draft pick was Forrest Blue of Auburn, a 6-foot-5, 241-pound offensive lineman. Blue was a three-year letterman at Auburn, winning All-Southeastern Conference honors last season as a center, although the 'Niners see him as an all-round type who can fill in at any spot in the offensive line. The club hopes Blue will give them depth, particularly since All-Pro guard John Thomas may not play again with two badly injured knees.

Lance Olssen of Purdue, a 6-5, 257-pound defensive tackle who earned All-Big 10 and All-America honorable mention, was the second-round pick. He probably will be kept at his college position by the 49ers.

Skip Vanderbundt, 6-4, 230-pound linebacker from Oregon State, was chosen on the third round. Vanderbundt, who played in the 1967 East-West All-Star game in San Francisco, was an All-Pacific 8 choice in 1967. His father, Dyke Vanderbundt of Placerville, said that he had been a 49er fan until the club "lost its winning ways" and he "drifted to the Raiders." Asked if he would switch his allegiance back to the 49ers since his son had been selected, he answered, "You bet!"

John Fuller, a 6-1, 180-pound offensive end, was the fourth-round pick. He was described by 49er official George MacFadden as "having exceptional speed. As they say in the trade, he can "fly."

Dwight Lee, a power-running halfback from Michigan State, was the first back selected, on the fifth round. The 6-2, 210-pound Lee was a starter on

Miami Grabs Florida Ace As Draft Resumes

S.F. Adds Flanker And End

NEW YORK (AP)—Kim Hammond, Florida State's fine quarterback, was selected by the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League as the pro football draft resumed today with the sixth round selections.

Hammond is a 6-foot-1, 190-pounder who threw 15 touchdown passes while completing 140 of 241 tosses for 1,991 yards last season.

The San Francisco 49ers had two sixth round draft choices as the result of a trade with New Orleans last year and picked Leo Johnson, Tennessee A & I flanker, and Maryland State defensive end Bill Belk. In the seventh round they got linebacker Jerry Richardson of Mississippi.

The Oakland Raiders, who did not have a sixth round choice as the result of a trade, picked up John Harper, Adams State center, early in the seventh round.

In the sixth round of the combined draft of the American and the National leagues, the new Cincinnati Bengals, who will operate as the 10th club in the AFL next season, had nine choices.

TOP RECEIVER

The Minnesota Vikings picked Bob Goodridge, a flanker from Vanderbilt who led the major college receivers with 79 catches. He took them 1,114 yards and scored six touchdowns.

The pros went through five rounds in 11 hours, 43 minutes yesterday—just one minute less than it took them a year ago. A total of 138 players was drafted the first day.

Cincinnati picked quarterback Dewey Warren of Tennessee as No. 17 in the sixth round. The 6-foot, 205-pounder had been expected to go much earlier.

YEAR OF LINEMEN

It was obviously the Year of the Lineman for the 26 pro teams. They picked seven linemen in the first round before Miami chose Syracuse fullback Larry Csonka to break the spell.

The top choice was Ron Yary, Southern California's powerful tackle, who was snatched up by the Minnesota Vikings. The Vikings were exercising the No. 1 choice acquired from the New York Giants in the trade for Fran Tarkenton last year.

Sixth Round

1. Cincinnati, Howard Fest, Texas offensive tackle. 2, Atlanta, Jim Hagle, Southern Methodist running back. 3, San Francisco (from New Orleans), Leo Johnson, Tennessee A&I flanker. 4. Miami (from Denver), Kim Hammond, Florida State quarterback.

5. Cincinnati (from Boston), Bill Kendricks, Alabama A&M offensive tackle. 6. Minnesota, Bob Goodridge, Vanderbilt flanker. 7. Cincinnati (from Buffalo), John Neidert, Louisville linebacker. 8. Miami, Jimmy Hines, Texas Southern flanker. 9. Atlanta, (from Pittsburgh), Joe Wynns, South Carolina State defensive back.

10. Detroit, Mike Spitzer, San Jose State, defensive end. 11. Washington, Willie Banks, Alcorn A&M guard. 12. Philadelphia, Thurman Randle, Texas-El Paso offensive tackle. 13. St. Louis, Frank Lane, Stephen F. Austin linebacker. 14. Cleveland (from New York), Nathan James, Florida A&M defensive back.

20. Cincinnati (from Kansas City), Elmo Maple, Southern University flanker. 21. Dallas, D. D. Lewis, Mississippi State linebacker. 22. Cincinnati (from Houston), Sidney Ellis, Jackson State, defensive back. 23. Los Angeles, Bob Webb, Southern Mississippi center. 24. Atlanta (from Baltimore), Rick Eber, Tulsa flanker.

Oddsmakrs Give Slim Edge To Quarry In Oakland Bout

OAKLAND (AP) — If Jerry Quarry and Thad Spencer are as even as the bettors figure, it will be a close match when the two meet Saturday in a 12-round World Boxing Association semifinal bout. One Las Vegas book said "5-6 and take your choice," meaning, bet $6 to win $.5 Quarry had a slight edge.

Bay Area fight managers picked Spencer 9 to 6, but fans watching the two heavyweights work out favored Quarry 50 to 25.

The fight in Oakland Arena will be televised at 2 p.m., to the United States and Mexico City and via Satellite to Europe and Japan. The Bay Area will be blacked out.

ELLIS WAITING

The winner will meet Jimmy Ellis in March or April for the WBA championship lifted from Cassius Clay.Ellis defeated Oscar Bonavena in the other semifinal.

Quarry, who has won 24, including 14 by knockouts, lost one and drew four, ended sparring session Monday. Spencer, 32-5 with 13 knockouts, concluded his sparring with three rounds yesterday.

When the fighters weigh in Friday at 10 a.m., Spencer expects to scale 202 and Quarry 193.

USUAL ROLE

Regarding the odds favoring Quarry, Spencer said, "That doesn't bother me. I've usually been the underdog. They made Terrell the favorite over me."

He put Terrell on the floor—the first time Terrell had been knocked off his feet—on the way to a 12-round decision.

Quarry's manager, Teddy Bentham, disagreed with the odds. "How can they make Quarry the favorite?" he asked. "Spencer has been under-rated. Jerry is young and won't reach his potential for two more years."

Quarry didn't care about the odds. "I know I'll win whether I'm favored or the underdog."

A Sweet Swinger Who Ruins A Golden Rule

Kids are always coming to me for advice on how to get in the sportswriting dodge. I aldays tell them, the first you have to do is, don't ROOT. Check those pompons at the pressroom door. Never, never find yourself saying, "Go get 'em, Willie!" or "Take 'em in, John."

The preferred attitude is cynical detachment. Empathize with either or any of the contestants and you'll be an emotional wreck before the season is over. So will your writing.

I HAVE occasionally violated this well-thought-out principle of mine. I rooted for Sandy Koufax once in a seventh game of a World Series where he had a shutout going. Just as I would have rooted for a guy to finish a Rembrandt. I rooted for Joe Louis every time out. But that was pretty easy on you.

BASICALLY, I'M an "aw, strike the bum out!" type. "Go in the trap!" I've been known to root on tee shots. "The field goal is wide to the left" often brings a furtive little smile to my lips. I never say a novena for Notre Dame. The Yankees are on their own except when Micky Mantle comes to bat.

My reasons for violating my own law in the case of the golfer, Davey Marr, are the least bit complicated. So, I will begin at the end.

FIRST OF all, I think of Dave as "the pro from Toots Shor's." Reared in Texas, he is as Broadway as Times Square, as Madison Avenue, as Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborne. He's Jimmy Walker in cleats. Beau Marr. The clothes are so relentlessly pressed and the shoes so relentlessly shined, he looks as if he has a valet instead of a caddy. By the fourth hole, an Arnold Palmer looks as if he just crossed the river in his clothes, Davey Marr looks as if he just left the tailor shop.

THE DIALOGUE is as crisp as the wardrobe. He's as comfortable with a maitre d' as he is with a caddy. When he won the PGA, three months after Gary Player had won the National Open and turned the money back, Davey announced he was going to keep the money and give Gary Player back.

When Arnold Palmer opened his chain of laundries, Davey found that "the only pro I'll send my laundry to is Chen Ching Po." He came upon the pencil-thin Al Geiberger standing by a sandtrap one day and said in some surprise, "Oh, hello, Allen, I thought you were a rake!"

HE PLAYED with the venerable Scot, Tommy Armour, a relic of hickory shaft days, once, and came in shaking his head: "I got waggled to death," he explained. He played with the Spaniard, Ramon Sota, once, and, after watching Ramon's elaborate positioning himself at the ball, declared "Ramon screws himself into the ground as if he wer going to fight a bull, not hit a ball."

HE CAME up to the 18th at the Masters another year needing a birdie for second, and was playing with Arnold Palmer who was several shots in the lead, and Arnold inquired anxiously if there was anything he could do to help. "Yeh," shot back Marr. "You can take a 12." He thinks of the quips immediately that you normally don't think of until after everyone is home safely in bed.

HE PLAYS golf the way he lives. The swing is as silken as the shirts. He could play in a tuxedo. He charms the course, doesn't try to drag it off by the hair. He doesn't go into the competitive funk of a Ben Hogan. If a dog crosses his line of flight, he can see it all right. And give you its pedigree. He can tell you who the president of France is. Most pros only know the pro at St. Cloud. He reads something more than the local rules.

Even so, I'll be glad when he's gone back East. You see, he's had seven out of eight rounds under 70 in California, has won $19,366 in two weeks, and thus has been in the hunt in each of his last two tournaments. In fact, he's led those tournaments five out of eight rounds.

YOU CAN see what an impossible strain that has put on me. You see, I don't LIKE standing there silently screaming, "Don't go out of bounds!" or "Please go in the hole'" I like it better when somebody comes up to me, white-faced, and sobs, "old one-putt's just knocked two of them in the ocean!" And I can go behind a tree and laugh until I have to hold my sides.

The Prospectors also traded veteran running back Dave Kopay to Detroit to get another third round choice. Kopay, star of the University of Washington Rose Bowl team in 1963, was signed as a free agent. He was the team's top ground gainer in 1964, but then ran into a string of injuries. He saw limited service last season backing up John David Crow.

San Francisco's new head coach, Dick Nolan, also named Ken Meyer, 42, offensive backfield coach. Meyer has helped Bear Bryant at Alabama since 1963.

Marin Lifters Capture Honors

Cass, age 17, beat seven others to win his class with lifts of 135 press, 115 snatch, 175 clean-and-jerk for a 425-pound total.

Maniscalco, 16, beat six of the seven in his class with 210 press, 185 snatch, and 250 clean-and-jerk for a 645 total, 5 pounds over his previous best effort.

Both lifters attend Terra Linda High.

Vikes Trade Vanderkelen To Atlanta

Pro football notes and quotes: Quarterback Ron Vanderkelen, former Wisconsin and Rose Bowl star, was traded by the Minnesota Vikings to the Atlanta Falcons today for two draft picks. The Vikings got the falcons' seventh choice this year and an undisclosed pick in next year's draft.

Vanderkelen, five years a backup quarterback, was second-team for the vikings behind Joe Kapp this fall. He becamee xpendable when the Vikes got Gary Cuozzo from the New Orleans Saints on Monday.

TO PLAY or not to play — that is the question for Timmy Brown, the actor-football star.

Brown was traded by the Philadelphia Eagles to the Baltimore Colts for defensive back and punt and kickoff return star Alvin Haymond. However, Brown also has a budding singing and acting career and has talked of retiring to concentrate on show business.

With a chance to star for a new team, and a good one, Brown may be persuaded to stay. Part of his disenchantment with pro football was his relationahip with Eagle coach Joe Kuharich. "I hate to leave Philadelphia," said Timmy after the trade, "but it's better for all concerned that I leave the Eagles." Brown was the last of the old Eagle stars, who included Sonny Jurgensen, Maxie Baughan, Tommy McDonald and Irv Corss, to be traded away by Kuharich, who is also general manager of the club.

HEISMAN TROPHY winner Gary Beban had better ship back the trophy. He not only was not picked number one, he wasn't even number twenty-nine. The UCLA passing star was picked by the hometown Los Angeles Rams as their first choice on the second round, since they traded away their first-round pick. The Rams said they were happy to get Baban, but surprised that he was still available.

TOP DRAFT pick Ron Yary, the 6-foot-5, 261-pound offensive tackle from USC, was chosen by the Minnesota Vikings because he was rated the "top football player in the country, regardless of position" in the words of coach Bud Grant. Yary, the 1967 Outland Award winner as the nation's best lineman as well as a two-time All-American, was one of eight USC players picked on the first day, and one of five Trojans named in the first round. In addition to Yary, four teammates — tackle Mike Taylor (Pittsburgh) defensive end Tim Rossovich (Philadelphia) end Earl McCullouch, an Olympic hurdle candidate (Detroit) and fullback Mike Hull (Chicago) were selected. And O. J. Simpson wasn't even eligible.

BOB JOHNSON, the first-ever draft pick of the Cincinnati Bengals, the new AFL franchise, is happy to be with Cincinnati, although it will complicate his post-graduate work. Johnson, a 6-foot-4, 235-pound All-America center, was an honor student in industrial engineering at Tennessee and has applied for a graduate scholarship at Harvard. "If I don't go to Harvard, I'll probably go to the University of Cincinnati graduate school," said Johnson, who led Tennessee to a 9-1 record and the Orange Bowl last season.

THE BUFFALO BILLS traded defensive end Remi Prudhomme for two fifth-round draft choices yesterday, and sent rookie linebacker Tom Rhoads to the new Cincinatti Bengals in return for another fifth-round pick.

DENNIS HOMAN, Albama's All-American and All-Southeastern end who was compared by coach Bear Bryant to Don Hutson, was the Dallas Cowboys' first pick in the draft, and coach Tom Landry expressed surprise that he was still available, saying that he couldn't see how Homan could miss as a pro star.

Cassius Has His Problems

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dethroned heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he's almost broke because he can't fight in the United States but won't renounce his citizenship.

"I'm not being allowed to work here in America and I'm not being allowed to leave," he said. "Naturally money would be depleted."

Clay is starting on a nationwide speaking tour that will include appearances before Negro student groups on college campuses and at Black Muslim mosques. He speaks Monday at UCLA.

"Many people say, how are you gonna eat, champ? How are you living? Well, How does the little bird eat?

"If the divine supreme being can take care of them things who's doing nothing for him, then how much more can he make a way for his servant?" Clay said in a television interview on KNXT television last night.

BROTHERS GALORE

"I have 22 million brothers in America and 850,000 Muslim brothers in America, and 600,000,000 Muslims in the world and you ask me how I'm gonna eat."

Clay, who prefers the name Muhammad Ali, was convicted of draft evasion and sentenced to five years in prison. He also was stripped of his heavyweight title. The conviction is now under appeal.

If the appeal fails, Clay, 26, said he might try to regain the heavyweight title, if the food doesn't ruin him.

"In prison, you eat the food they give you or you have to eat around it. I'm used to steak and prime rib. . .if my body is not deteriorated, if my body is not hurt physically, I might come back."

PLANS TO FIGHT

Asked if he would renounce his citzenship, Clay said, "No. I can't do nothing like that. Why would I want to do that? I mean, I'm born here and we have 22 million people here catching hell.

"They should have a chance to get out from under the oppression. . .so I plan on staying here fighting until I'm dead or all of us are gone."

Clay predicted Jimmy Ellis will win the heavyweight title in the elimination tournament now under way but believes no one deserves the title until he is defeated in the ring.

"I had to beat Sonny Liston twice to get the title so someone should beat me at least once," said Clay. "Who is any American boxing official to tell the world and all Negro people this is not your champion?"

Foyt Injured In Mishap; Frazier Fighter Of Year

COMBINED AP & UPI

BOXING

NEW YORK — Ring Magazine has named unbeaten heavyweight Joe Frazier of Philadelphia the "fighter of the year" and given the progress award to heavyweight elimination tournament finalist Jimmy Ellis of Louisville.

Frazier last year won six fights, including knockouts over Doug Jones and George Chuvalo. Ellis emerged as a top contender with victories over Johnny Persol, Leotis Martin and Oscar Bonovena.

AUTO RACING

MODENA, Italy — The Ferrari company has announced it will not enter any of its factory cars in the Daytona Beach, Fla. 24-hour endurance race Saturday and Sunday.

BASKETBALL

COLUMBIA, S.C. — South Carolina's unranked Gamecocks scored a major upset last night by knocking off ninth-ranked Duke 83-80 in a torrid Atlantic Coast Conference battle.

MINNEAPOLIS — Former Oakland Oaks star Lavern Tart, now of New Jersey as the result of a trade, continued to lead the American Basketball Association scoring race with a 26.2 points per game average.

GOLF

PALM SPRINGS — Los Angeles Open winner Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer and defending champion Tom Nieporte headed a cast of 136 professionals and 408 amateurs into today's opening round of the 90-hole, $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic. Palmer, runnerup to Casper in last week's L.A. Open, has won the Hope Classic twice.

GENERAL

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. — Bear Bryant, Alabama football coach, said last night he has "no political ambitions" and will not be a candidate for the U.S. Senate, as rumored.

THE NEW BREED

U.S. Bobsledders A Confident Lot

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ALPE D'HUEZ, France (AP) — "I think we've got as good a chance as anybody — we'll open a few eyes," Paul Lamey said yesterday as he looked down the mile of glistening ice that forms the track for the Winter Olympic bobsled race next week.

"There's a lot of new blood on this team. It's a young team. It's quick and daring. I think we've got a lot of potential."

Lamey, 29, a Navy lieutenant from Manchester, N. Y., represents the new breed of American bobsledders who will be gunning for Olympic medals in this swank Alpine resort 37 miles east of Grenoble.

The Winter Games open formally at Grenoble next Tuesday with Gen. Charles De Gaulle making the official welcome.

The neck-risking sledders take to the track the following evening for the first two runs of the two-man competition. It's the first time the races will have been staged at night.

CUP WINNER

Lamey, winner of the International Gold Cup at St. Moritz, Switzerland, last year, is one of the two-man drivers. Like the other two-man pilots on the squad — Carl Clifton, 28, a factory superintendent from Albany, N. Y., and Gary Sheffield, 32, of the Air Force — he is youthful, thin and brimming with confidence.

Traditionally, American bobsledders have been beefy heavyweights — rugged blacksmith types — who provided their own ballast. Now there appears to be more gristle than poundage. Some experience has given way to youth and daring.

"A man's weight doesn't matter," said Lamey. "We are allowed a total weight of 825 pounds for the two-man sled. We can add weight to come up to the maximum and put it where we want it. The important thing in this business is reflexes."

NIGHT DRIVING

The Americans took their first trial spins down the 1,500 meter course Monday night, training with other teams until 2 a.m.

"I've never driven at night before," said Clifton. "I like it."

"It was okay," said Sheffield. "We are quite pleased with the track."

James Lamey of Lake Placid, N. Y., coach of the team, said he believed night events would make the competition more fair. "In the daytime the sun melts the ice and that makes it tougher on the later starters," Lamy said. "Under the lights, conditions remain mostly the same."

Eugenio Monti of Italy, nine times world champion, is favored in both the two-man and four-man bobsled events, but strong opposition can be expected from the French, British and Canadians as well as the Americans.

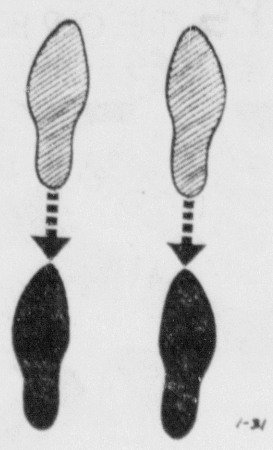
At Innsbruck four years ago, Tony Nash of Britain drove the winning two-man sled and the Canadians scored an upset in the four-man races. The Americans failed to place.

The two-man races are scheduled Feb. 7-8, with the four-man runs set for Feb. 14-15. America's four-man drivers are Bob Said of Fair Haven, Vt., David Dunn of Elm Grove, Wis., and William Hickey of Keene, N. Y.

Lamey said he thought the Alpe D'Huez chute was a sporty course. "It has long curves and extra-long straightaways," he added. "I think you'd have to call it a driver's course. A man will have to be alert all the way."

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



If you feel that your ball is not rolling fast enough to achieve maximum pin spillage, you'll have to increase the speed of your approach. This is much better than trying to force yourself to throw the ball harder. Move back a half-step so that when you move more quickly you won't foul.

Marin Juniors Lose Two Hockey Battles

Marin Junior Hockey A team lost a 5-2 decision to the San Francisco A's in the San Francisco Junior Hockey League last Sunday. Marin goals were scored by Robert Hutton and David Bonright.

Drake Five Bows In Final Seconds

Junior Fred Westcott and Don Alvarado stood out for Drake, Westcott scoring 19 points and grabbing 8 rebounds, while Alvarado had 14 markers and 10 rebounds. Art Pla also scored 14.

An unexpected highlight of the game was a rash of technical fouls called on Salesian — three on one play, five for the game.

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Small Craft Fishing Most Dangerous Sport

To make our waterways safer for everyone, a great mass of knowledge and information must be imparted to several million people. Much of the lack of knowledge concerns the rules and regulations, as some of these questions I have been asked indicate:

Q. If a sailboat is coming up behind me, must I get out of his way?

A. No. This is the one time that a power boat has the right of way over a sailboat.

Q. What size and kind of boats are in the most accidents?

A. Small light boats used for fishing. More anglers drown than any other single identifiable group.

Q. Is it all right to water ski even if you can't swim, as long as you wear a life preserver?

A. Reluctantly I must admit I know several young people who do this. But they are begging for trouble. Just suppose the jacket is torn off in a spill.

Q. Is a "motor well" necessary on a boat?

A. If you want the boat to be safe, it's as necessary as the motor. For those who aren't sure, a motor well is a partition just ahead of the stem to catch any water that slops in over the transom.

Q. Are these small flotation belts some water skiers wear any good?

A. Risking the wrath of the manufacturers of these belts, I would say they are not worth much. If you should be knocked out in a fall, the belt will support you all right, but with your head down in the water, and unless you are picked up right away, you'll drown. Incidentally, they are not "approved" by the Coast Guard.

Q. Every time I gas up my little cabin cruiser, the dock attendant tells me to shut the cabin door. I hate to ask him why.

A. I hope he makes you put out your cigarette, too. The reason is that gasoline fumes are much heavier than air and will pour down into the boat during refueling. The vapor will lie for hours in the cabin or the bilges like a time bomb just waiting for a spark. This attendant is doing you a favor.

Q. A sailboat that has its sails up but an engine driving it seems to fit into two categories. What is it?

A. It's a power boat and has none of the privileges of a sailboat.

Q. What's the most dangerous thing in water skiing?

A. It's generally agreed that taking a skier too close to shore, piers, rocks or other boats causes the most . . . and most serious . . . skiing accidents. And this generally is the responsibility of the boat driver. Don't ever take a skier into shallow water. It might be deep enough for him to ski, but if he should fall, he could hit bottom with disastrous consequences.

Q. Are life preservers and buoyant vests "guaranteed"?

A. They may be guaranteed as to quality of the foam inside, the cloth cover and the stitching, but they certainly aren't guaranteed to save your life under any and all circumstances. They are very valuable devices, but in an emergency, 99 per cent of the success of any life-saving effort is going to depend on the wearer, not the jacket. Know-how and care are your best guarantees.

Q. Why are sailboat people so nasty to power boaters? They call us stinkpotters.

A. You can retaliate. Call them cotton pickers, or the "yard goods set."

Q. Can you anchor a boat out in the lake all night?

A. Yes, with one stipulation. You must show a white light somewhere on your boat that is visible all around the horizon and can be seen for two miles. Even if your lake isn't two miles across, it makes no difference.

Q. Which direction are you going when you are tacking to port?

A. Use the expression, "on the port tack"; it is more definite than the one you use. When you are on a port tack, the wind is coming over the left (port) side of your boat. On a starboard tack, it's coming over the right side. Direction has nothing to do with it.

New Medals For Games

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Athletes who place first, second or third in the 1968 Winter Olympic Games will receive medals on which their sports will be engraved.

In the past, all gold, silver and bronze medals came from similar molds, and a winner of the bobsled event received the same medal as a champion skier.

The new medals have the official inscription of the games on one side and individual engravings on the other to cover the seven sports involved in the competition — alpine skiing, luge, bobsleds, hockey, figure skating, speed skating and nordic skiing.

Hamilton Boxers Win Four Bouts

Hamilton Air Force Base boxers piled up four victories in first round action of the World-Wide Air Force Boxing Tournament at England Air Force Base, La., this week.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

One Of The Exceptions To Rule: 'Third Hand High' Defensive Play

One of the first rules you learn for defensive play is "third hand high." The idea is to drive out a high card from the declarer's hand or from the dummy, thus helping set up a high card for your partner. One of the exceptions to the rule is shown today.

LOW TO DUMMY

West opens the deuce of hearts, and declarer plays low from the dummy. If East follows the old rule, he plays the jack of hearts; and that loud noise you just heard was the defense collapsing.

South captures the jack of hearts with the king. Later he can lead a heart from his hand and win a finesse with dummy's ten. When this finesse wins, South is home. He can afford to lose one spade, one diamond and one club.

East can avoid this sad outcome by playing the eight of hearts at the first trick. This play of "third hand not so high" is good enough to drive out the king of hearts. Since South cannot avoid the loss of a heart trick he is down one.

EQUALLY NECESSARY

East's deep finesse with the eight of hearts would be equally necessary if South had the queen of hearts instead of the king. After driving out South's queen with the eight, the defenders would be able to set up a heart trick with the jack and king.

WRONG MOVE

Not so if East played the jack at the first trick. South would win with the queen and would later win a finesse with dummy's ten.

Remember this defensive play when you have J-x-x (or more) behind A-10-x or K-10-x. Play your second-highest card rather than the jack as your best chance to develop a trick in the suit.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no trump (16 ro 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ K 7 4
♥ Q 9 4 2
♦ K 7 6 3
♣ 8 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention.

This asks partner to show a 4-card (or longer) major suit, if he has such a suit. If he bids two hearts, you will raise to three hearts; otherwise, you next bid will be 2 no trump.

Captured Twice In Civil War

LEBANON, Ky. (UPI)—This central Kentucky town has the distinction of having been twice captured by John Hunt Morgan's cavalry. The Confederate soldiers took the town June 12, 1862, along with 200 prisoners.

On July 5, 1863, Morgan again took Lebanon, which then was a Union depot. Morgan's youngest brother, Lt. Tom Morgan, was killed in the second engagement.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 31, the 31st day of 1968 with 335 to follow.

The moon is between the new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1943 the Soviet Union announced the virtual destruction of 330,000 Nazi troops at Stalingrad, a turning point of World War II.

In 1953 more than 2,000 persons lost their lives when north sea storms flooded Holland.

In 1958 the United States launched its first satellite, Explorer I, into orbit.

A thought for the day: French scientist Blaise Pascal said, "between us and hell or heaven there is nothing but life, which of all things is the frailest."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. U.S. Steel Reports Slash In Earnings

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., the biggest steelmaker, has reported a 31 per cent drop in profits in 1967 from the 1966 level.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., second-ranking producer, reports today and its results are expected to follow the U.S. Steel trend.

U.S. Steel said yesterday its earnings last year dropped to $172,499,331, or $3.19 a share, from $249,238,569, or $4.60 a share in 1966.

They went up from $18.1 million in 1966 to $33.2 million last year, the Oakland-based company said.

The 1967 earnings per common share amounted to $8.50, an 89 per cent increase over the 1966 figure of $4.50.

President Jack L. Ashby said reasons for the spectacular increase included new highs in fabricated product sales, boosts in raw steel production and more profitable export sales of iron ore, including shipments to Japan.

In the 1967 fourth quarter, U.S. Steel earned $51,721,141, or 96 cents a share, on sales of $1,053,110,479. This compares with $59,850,802, or $1.11 a share, on sales of $1,076,272,487 a year earlier.

Roger Blough, chairman, said the lower earnings reflected higher costs of employment, purchased goods and services and starting facilities.

The return on sales slipped to 4.2 per cent in 1967 from 5.6 per cent in 1966.

Shipments of finished products declined to 19,800,562 tons from 21,560,279 tons in 1966.

Production of raw steel in the 1967 fourth quarter rose to 8,302,952 tons from 7,935,030 a year earlier. Shipments edged up to 5,124,346 tons from 5,106,586 tons in the 1966 fourth quarter.

Blough said that because of hedge buying against a possible industry strike in August he expected the inventory of steel in users' hands to rise from 22 million tons at the end of 1967 to 29.5 million tons by the end of July.

Market Hit Again In Heavy Trade

Prices were at their lowest level of the day and the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape was one minute late in reporting floor transactions at the final bell.

The recently high-flying glamor stocks were clipped again and the erosion spread to the blue chips.

The margin of advances among individual stocks over declines ballooned to more than 500 issues.

Brokers said investors' disenchantment with the glamor issues was compounded as an adverse market factor by apprehension over the critical Asian situation and the dissatisfaction expressed over President Johnson's budget.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange.

Syntex Dividend

MEXICO CITY (BW) — Dr. George Rosenkranz, president of Syntex Corp., has announced that the board of directors has declared a cash dividend of 10 cents per share on the standing common stock of the corporation, payable March 1 to stockholders of record Feb. 9.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Don't Blame Broker For An Honest Error

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Last year I invested a lot of money for my three young sons' college education. I followed your column and bought American Hospital Supply, which has doubled in price. I also wanted to buy Burroughs, but my broker talked me into buying Smith, Kline & French, on which I have a big loss. I am upset about this because I emphasized to my broker how important these purchases were. I fail to understand why he put me into such a stock. Should I hold now or sell? — V.C.

A. I am very sorry that you failed to follow your original plan. I do not feel that you should place too much blame on your broker. He exercised what appeared to be good judgment and undoubtedly felt Burroughs was too volatile for you. I like Burroughs, in spite of its high multiplier. You might add a little if you have additional funds. Smith, Kline & French is one of the best of the ethical drug firms. Almost all the ethicals have been hurt by more stringent Food and Drug Administration regulation, but big sums spent by Smith, Kline on research seem likely to pay off. I advise you to hold your stock.

Q. I would like to know two companies that pay stock dividends regularly. — C.E.

A. Litton Industries, a fine growth issue, has paid 2½ per cent in stock annually since 1959. Sun Oil, which has also had an excellent record, pays $1 in cash each year and has paid stock dividends ranging from 3 per cent in 1932 to 33 percent in 1966. Sun has made a substantial part of its payment in stock in all but six of the last 40 years. These share dividends have built up an original purchase of 100 shares in 1926 to well over 2,000 shares this year.

Czech Firm Aids Industry In Cuba

VIENNA (UPI)—The Czechoslovakian "Strojexport" enterprise has delivered equipment for a Cuban cement factory, one of Cuba's new industrial undertakings.

The factory, located in Las Villas Province, will augment annual Cuban cement production in 1969 by 250,000 tons and in 1970 by 670,000 tons, according to Czech authorities.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

San Rafael's Balzan Quality Milk Sold To Dairy Farms Of Hayward

There has been a sale of Balzan Quality Milk, San Rafael, to Dairy Farms, Inc. of Hayward and former owner owner Steve Balzan is now working for the latter firm.

Dairy Farms is a franchised operation of All Jersey Farms Drive In Dairy and I understand has been supplying milk to Balzan for the past two years. The company has opened an office at 700 A Street, San Rafael, behind the American French Laundry. I am told that Balzan customers will continue to be serviced by Dairy Farms.

A NEW BUSINESS, Wedgwood Academy of Fashion and Dress Design, has been opened at 1563 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

The owner, Mrs. Mary Golden, lives at San Quentin where her husband is employed. She is a graduate dress designer, having studied both in England and the United States. A specialty has been the designing of Shakespearian theatrical costumes and costumes through the ages. Before coming to Marin she had her own business in San Pedro.

Beginners' and advanced sewing and tailoring classes will be held Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. and another class is expected to be held on Saturdays. Mrs. Golden will also teach pattern drafting.

A RECREATIONAL vehicle department has been opened by Ted Schuman Chevrolet in Novato. According to Schuman he is the only motor car dealer north of Oakland with a department of this kind with large inventories.

He is now exclusive distributor for Open Road campers, which has five manufacturing plants throughout the country. His son Harvey manages the new department. On display are about 20 different vehicles priced from $795 to $11,000 — including land yachts and large mobile units. Schuman is using over 15,000 square feet of his property to contain them.

A "grand opening" which began last weekend is still in progress.

TWO TIBURON secretarial services — Cal Barbara and Secretarial Services Unlimited — have merged into one.

Barbara Lange, owner of Call Barbara, has been operating for the past several months at the north end of the Tiburon peninsula. Previously she was a secretary to corporate executives for 10 years. Secretarial Services Unlimited has been located at Tiburon Lodge — where the new firm, combining both names, will be headquartered.

All forms of typing and dictation will continue — also Xerov copying and Roneo Electronic duplicating in black and white or color for quality reproduction.

Aircraft Merger Found Profitable

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The McDonnell Douglas Corp., says although its net earnings for the first fiscal year of its combined operations were tiny, they were significant of a predicted upward trend.

The Aerospace Corporation announced yesterday that earnings in the fiscal year ended Dec. 31 were $893,051, or three cents a share. The figures for fiscal 1967 include eight months of combined operations since the April merger of McDonnell Co. and the Douglas Aircraft Co., Inc., of California.

James S. McDonnell, chairman of McDonnell Douglas said, "Barring unforeseen problems we continue to anticipate profit in each quarter throughout 1968." He noted that the reported figures followed expectations set forth in the six months report of last July.

Grand Jury's Call For Efficiency Timely

This sage observation was appended by Clifford S. Lund to his closing report to the county board of supervisors as foreman of the 1967 Marin County Grand Jury.

Lund's report and that of the jury's county offices committee, first two of a series of final reports of the outgoing grand jury, both stress the need for efficiency in county government.

IN DOING SO, they point to the trend of government to expand its personnel for every need, and never to contract.

As an example, the county offices committee reports that the county recorder's office has had a diminished workload the past two years because of slowdown of real estate activity, but there has been no reduction of staff. It makes the sensible recommendation that some of the 11 persons in that office be assigned to other departments, to be recalled if need occurs.

Foreman Lund comments in his report:

"If Department A requests two additional secretaries, then, surely Department B should have the same. The county administrator then cuts the recommendation to one and one-half, and hurrah! we have economy."

HE COMPARES operation of the county government with that of a large corporation with a business volume of $27 million per year. He suggests that if such a business corporation "sees as its goal a 10 per cent increase in sales, it does not automatically increase its work force 10 per cent. It finds more efficiency within its existing work force or it is soon no longer competitive and profitable."

Such an approach, he suggests, should be taken also by the county government.

The county offices committee notes that while the county's assessed valuation has tripled in the past decade and the share of population within the unincorporated areas has decreased, the county tax rate is virtually the same as it was in 1957.

"The committee has observed with alarm the continuing rising cost of our county's government," says the report of this grand jury committee, headed by former banker Eugene A. Ostaggi.

County department heads are now at work on their budget requests for fiscal 1969. Many of them will be moving next fall to larger quarters in the Civic Center, and — following Parkinson's Law — may be expected to think up many reasons for adding personnel to fill the additional desk space available.

Now is the time to concentrate attention on increasing efficiency instead of increasing payroll.

The approach that is suggested in these grand jury reports is one that deserves more than lip service.

"Tax relief" can never be more than a dream or a politician's cynical slogan as long as expenses of government keep going up.

Dangerous Dispute

The dispute between the Marin Economic Opportunity Council and county schools office over hiring a person to train Head Start volunteers may sound like a tempest in a teapot, but it could endanger continuance of the program.

The EOC has authorized the position. County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis contends filling it is up to his office, which runs the Heard Start program.

The New York Times reported recently that many school districts in the East have withdrawn from Head Start because of disputes over control. "In seven Middle Atlantic states, there are vacanices for 40,000 children in the summer program" because of the disputes, a Times story reported.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Whichever Party's To Blame, It's The Public That Pays

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Partisan politics has the whole stage in Sacramento these days, and probably will continue to hold the spotlight.

Charges and counter-charges concerning the question of who's responsible for high taxes, the Democratic administration under ex-Gov. Pat Brown, or the Republican administration under Gov. Ronald Reagan, fly like birds in the night, with no apparent destination and no purpose other than party edification.

The hard and cold facts are that it doesn't matter who's responsible for the excessive load of taxes Californians are carrying. The taxes have been levied, and will be collected, so in the long run, the people pay through the nose, with little hope ever of having the burden eased, no matter which party is in control of the state government.

AS MENTIONED previously, the full shock of the tax increases of 1967 have not as yet been felt. This will come when income tax returns are made ready for payment by April 15, and taxpayers in the higher brackets who already have paid something on account, discover that half of last year's income tax amounts to about 25 per cent of this year's payment.

It will come also when taxpayers in lower brackets find there will be considerable increases over the 1967 payments.

It figures the taxpayers are going to get mad at somebody, which is one reason for the bickering between the parties. Republicans hope the taxpayers will get mad at the Democrats, and the Democrats hope they will turn their election wrath at the June primaries on the Republicans.

With this in mind, the Republicans charge the necessity for high taxes to the Brown administration. The Democrats deny the charge, claiming that without Republican support, the taxes couldn't have been increased.

THE TRUTH of the matter is that the expenses of government have been increasing annually for a couple of decades, and as long as the people tolerate the increases, they're going to keep on, no matter which political party is in power.

It is a known fact that increases in government cost were higher percentagewise under the eight years of Democartic administration, but these costs might have easily increased at the same percentages had the Republicans been in power.

The Republicans are making a sincere effort to reduce costs, but decreases will be comparatively negligible, and if any surplus happens to be shown, legislators will know from long experience how to dispose of it in some other way than returning it to the people.

'Pass-Fail' Proposal Raises Questions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Don DeLay last week discussed at Tam High the flexible scheduling program now being planned for the Tam students. Some points he raised I must question.

He advocated elimination of "all gold stars, scout badges, grades, report cards, Phi Beta Kappa keys" as being artificial rewards, leaving only "pass-fail." What does this do to student motivation and to college entrance standards?

He stated that flexible scheduling, which assigns a student to certain classes at certain times but leaves much free time for independent projects, would necessitate an open campus. How would the nearby merchants and homeowners feel about increasing numbers of Tam students free to roam off school grounds at all hours? The surrounding community has asked repeatedly that the campus remain closed.

And are there other working parents like myself who prefer the security of knowing where their children are at all hours and what they are doing?

State Tax Hike Proves Shocker

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Upon preparing to submit our 1967 California tax return, we have made a rather startling discovery:

Reference: California Form 540, Individual Income Tax Return for the years 1966 and 1967.

The 1967 Form 540 allows tax exemption of $50 for a married couple joint return and an $8 allowance for each dependent, differing from the 1966 Form 540 which allows an exemption of $3000 for a married couple joint return and $600 allowance for each dependent.

Having computed our 1967 joint return, and with a slight increase of less than 3 per cent in income, we find that the difference in tax payable to the State amounts to an increase of 90 per cent!

Since this great increase in taxation was not brought to a vote of the citizens of California, how can it be legal, should we be expected to pay it, and would you care to research and do an editorial on the subject?

EDNA M. and
JOSEPH W. KELLY
San Rafael

(Editor's note: The shock Mr. and Mrs. Kelly got is the same shock many other California taxpayers will get as they start preparing their state income tax returns. The new tax is part of the financial package passed by the 1967 Legislature. It was amply publicized.)

Street Tax Held Double Payment

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In reference to the street bonds which were voted down in Novato in this last election, I don't understand why people have to pay extra taxes to improve streets for other people, after we have already paid to have our own streets curbed and paved.

Aren't we being asked to pay double? My neighbors and I have already paid to have our street improved . . . Why don't the other property owners pay for theirs?

I would like to see the streets of Novato improved, certainly, but not at my expense when I've already paid to improve mine. Even business streets have property owners, as well as every other street in town. And Highway 101 should be curbed and improved with the tax we pay for the gasoline.

I'm sure there are other people that don't understand this question also.

Only 'Snow Job' On State Finances

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Is it too much to ask that our governor take time off from his Republican fund-raising activities (which I consider a significant conflict-of-interest) to ascertain accurately what this state's financial situation actually is and then, if he has sufficient strength remaining, to give us an honest picture of this situation? So far, we've had nothing but a rather low-grade snow job of the type you might expect from some third-rate TV announcer.

Courts See Money Instead Of Children

Editor, Independent-Journal,

In reading your issue dated Jan. 22, the editorial page carried a letter from a Mr. Vince R. Wheelton of Mill Valley. He didn't say whether or not he has had first hand experience in these divorce cases, but believe me I have and I say bravo to Mr. Wheelton.

My ex-wife was awarded custody of our children six years ago, my son was two and my daughter was four. They have been in and out of three different schools in that time, my son is in the fourth grade and his conduct is so bad that he is only allowed to attend class one hour a day.

Now recently the "Infinite Superior Court" of Marin County decided the problem was not the fact that the children needed more capable guidance, but that everything would be a lot better if I paid more money. So they just about doubled the support payments and increased the alimony and the case was dismissed. My ex-wife won't even work to try and help out!

You get to visit the children, but give her more money, she is doing a fine job of raising them. It seems to me that what the courts and other official agencies consider to be the welfare of my children is the amount I pay in support. The more I pay the better they are going to turn out. I just can't see a 9-year-old boy telling himself that his father pays his mother an awful lot of money for his well-being, so he just better rush out and do good things in order to be worthy of the money. My children need understanding and love, no amount of money can buy love!

It's too bad people like myself and Mr. Wheelton can't demonstrate or riot, maybe even have a burning of our property tax cards to protest. It seems to me the divorced fathers have been forgotten and ignored far too long.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

ON HIS FIRST TRIP abroad, an unsophisticated old rabbi, treated to the vacation by a loving congregation, was considerately steered in Paris to nothing but kosher restaurants, so that he would not inadvently break the orthodox ritual. When the old man returned home he told his friends, "I don't know why they make such a fuss about that French cooking. We have exactly the same food at Mrs. Rosenberg's boarding house!"

LITTLEWOOD FOR DRUMMOND

New Look Coming Rapidly To Senate

(Roscoe Drummond is en route to the Far East for a month's reporting trip. Today's column by Tom Littlewood, Washington correspondent for the Chicago Sun-Times.)

By TOM LITTLEWOOD

WASHINGTON — Waves of change are crashing upon the U. S. Senate from different directions. Some of the venerable old men, Lister Hill of Alabama most recently, are choosing to bow out gracefully. Two of Everett Dirksen's midwestern Republican dependables, Bourke Hickenlooper and Frank Carlson, made the decision earlier to retire at the end of this year. Carl Hayden of Arizona, who is 90 years old and has been on the scene since 1927, will probably be next.

The Senate is an institution steeped in respect for senior service, tradition, and limited outside ambitions. For a long time, it was assumed that the best senatorial image was the Dirksen stereotype — "he looks like a senator" — flowing gray hair and windy, pompous delivery.

But the voters have been expressing an interest in younger, more dynamic representatives. Dirksen's own re-election campaign will be an interesting test in a state which last replaced the veteran Paul Douglas with a prototype of the new breed politician, Republican Charles Percy.

EVEN IN BYGONE days when Dirksen's health was much better, he specialized in aloof "remote control" campaigns from Washington. He capitalized on his mass media exposure and image recognition, instead of the oridnary handshaking routine, which is now far beneath such a famous personality.

Other oldtimers are confronted with the ignominious threat of involuntary removal. Sam Ervin of North Caroline, who is 71, and Frank Lausche of Ohio are faced with prospective challenges from younger men within their party.

Ohio's senators are both 72 years old and illustrate perfectly the tendency of older men to be rigid in their outlook and cantankerous in their reactions to change.

ALTOGETHER, there are now 18 senators 70 and over. Hill is one of three southerners who have served since the 1930s. When senators remain in office into their 70s, especially in the one-party South, the representative effect is often for an entire generation to be skipped.

Without the advantages of committee seniority, bright new members in both parties have quickly become influencing forces. The Republican "Class of '67" lost no time making its presence felt. On the other side are junior Democrats who have varying ties with the Kennedy brothers, such as Joe Tydings of Maryland, Fred Harris of Oklahoma, and Birch Bayh of Indiana.

As an example, Robert Griffin of Michigan managed to outfox Dirksen on the minority leader's anti-bussing amendment to the school aid bill last session. Earlier, Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., pooled bipartisan talents to head off an attempt at postponing mandatory congressional redistricting until 1972.

AFTER THIS YEAR'S elections there will almost certainly be change of another kind in the Senate. The off-year balloting of 1958 and 1962 produced a turnover of enough conservative seats to give the liberals a working majority. Some of the more marginal first-termers from '58, such as Stephen Young of Ohio, Thomas Dodd of Connecticut, and Vance Hartke of Indiana, were swept back in by the Goldwater debacle in 1964.

But now the weather forecast is different. Many of the 23 Democratic seats up this time are in the vulnerable midwestern and western states. By the luck of the presidential draw, Bayh, Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, George McGovern of South Dakota, and other attractive freshmen are in for difficult contests. The loss of many northern Democrats would cut back the liberal strength and return the balance of power to the southerners.

However, as more of the elderly committee chairmen retire, and a two-party system begins developing in the South, the Senate can be expected to alter its traditional ways of doing business and its leadership preferences. Along with the new era will come more suburban and unban-minded moderates who are promoting their national images and will be less inclined to toil thanklessly in committee rooms as did the Ervins and Hickenloopers.

Fleet Call At Gibraltar Raises Anger In Spain

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

A seemingly harmless visit by 17 ships of the U.S. Sixth Fleet to Gibraltar is developing into something of an international incident.

In view of United States' problems in Vietnam and the current "Pueblo crisis," it cannot be regarded as among the most pressing problems at the moment.

Ultimately, however, it could affect NATO's already weakened defenses in the Mediterranean at a time when the Russian presence in the same area is on the increase.

AT THE ROOT of the problem is Spain's running feud with Great Britain over possession of "the Rock," historic guardian of the western entrance to the Mediterranean. And, however harmless the fleet's visit may have seemed to the Americans, the Spanish took a dim view of it indeed.

They warned that further such visits could endanger the agreement by which the United States has the joint use in Spain of three Air Force bases, a nuclear Polaris submarine base at Rota and several classified naval facilities.

In Madrid, the move aroused speculation that Spain would raise its price tag on the bases in negotiations which must be concluded before the end of September, 1968.

SPAIN WANTS preferential treatment in the United States "save-the-dollar" program to help her own battle against inflation and to offset a deficit in Spanish balance-of-payments, the difference between income and outgo.

In coming days Spain is expected to press hard for a beginning of talks which will explain just how the U.S. austerity program is to affect her.

Regardless of any U.S. threat to shift to the British base on Gibraltar, there is no denying Spain's increased importance to NATO's Mediterranean defenses since President Charles de Gaulle's defection from the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

On her side also, Spain could step up the pace of her growing friendliness with France. The two have held joint military maneuvers and are cooperating in economic ventures along their joint borders.

The cause of it all, the 25,000 inhabitants of Gibraltar, already have expressed their opinion. By vote they expressed their desire to retain British-style democracy as opposed to Franco's totalitarian Spain.

Others May Seek Favors, But John Dong Will Accept None

This is a story about Chinese New Year. It is not the story of the welcoming of the incoming Year of the Monkey with firecrackers and parades. It is the story of the dwindling days of the Year of the Ram, and of the way an elderly Chinese spent them seeking the good life in Marin.

How John Dong, 75, a native of Shanghai, stumbled into the golden world of the Tiburon Peninsula nobody seems to know. That he left involuntarily in a police car to spend a night locked up in the county jail is well established.

Dong had committed no crime — unless it is a crime to be old, to be homeless, and to be a stranger in suburbia. Even the police agreed that he was a likeable old fellow. But he was sleeping on a bench in the Boardwalk, or, to shut out the cold, he would rest in a public phone booth. Such behavior is, naturally, considered suspect by those who live in warm houses and sleep on soft beds.

FOR FOUR DAYS the old man wandered in Belvedere and Tiburon, asking for work. He carried a handwritten note which said that he had worked in New York, and that he was a good cook. He wore khaki colored trousers, turned 'way up in an extra high cuff, adjusted to his short legs. A loose fitting jacket, which also seemed too large for the old man, and a rather jaunty black leather cap completed his costume. He carried a paper shopping bag, which seemed to contain all of his worldly possessions. Sometimes he would sit in the sun, near the post office, and share his little crust of bread with the stray dogs who came up to him.

Despite his circumstances there was a spirit of independence in the old man, and this is the reason that the outcome of his adventure in Marin, may not have a happy ending.

THERE WERE those who tried to help John Dong. Ben Farlatti offered him a room in the Tiburon Lodge and food, but the invitation, extended through a deputy at the Tiburon substation of the sheriff's office, frightened the elderly Oriental. Perhaps he did not understand.

The language barrier was troublesome even when he was brought to the attention of Johnny Wan, who presides over the kitchen at Tiburon Tommie's. Wan, who speaks Cantonese, could establish only limited communication with Dong, who spoke a dialect of Mandarin. Still there was communication in the kitchen. A Chinses style meal with the familiar staples of rice and green tea was heartening, and given out of kindness of propietor Tommie Cox. Johnny Wan also suggested that a family club in San Francisco's Chinatown would give the elderly man shelter and assist him to find work. It was arranged that Dong would accompany Wan when he returned to the city after work.

WAS JOHN DONG forgetful? Or stubbornly determined to make his own way? He drifted off after this encounter. That night the Belvedere police picked him up and took him to the county jail.

When Belvedere Police Chief William Woodington learned the next day that plans were in the works to help the prisoner, he made half a dozen phone calls, with the result that Dong was to be held in San Rafael an extra hour or two after his release by the court, until someone could go to the jail for him. A later phone call to the sheriff's office in the county jail outlining these plans achieved both a sympathetic and helpful reaction. It was arranged that the cook at the jail would take the old fellow back to Chinatown when his work was finished.

But it seems that John Dong likes Marin County. He refused to go back to San Francisco, and he is still determined to work as a cook in a home or restaurant here. Squaring his black leather hat, and carrying his paper shopping bag, he walked out into the streets of San Rafael at dusk.

What will the New Year hold for John Dong?

Berlin's Mayor Belittles Nazis

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Klaus Schuetz, governing mayor of West Berlin, says that although Germans are "concerned" about a resurgence of neo-Nazi groups, such political parties hold only about 6 per cent of the vote.

"And that percentage is not entirely made up of people who have real Nazi feelings," he said. "There is also a very large number of what I would call 'protest votes' among them."

Schuetz arrived here yesterday for a one-day visit as part of a goodwill tour of the United States. He was met at international airport by Mayor Sam Yorty who presented him with a key to the city.

Schuetz said neither the war in Vietnam nor the new crisis in Korea have shaken the confidence of Berliners in the United States.

Ringing Cliches Pave The Way For The GOP In The USA

WASHINGTON — "So you want to work as a speechwriter for the Republican party in 1968?"

"Yes, sir."

"All right. Did you see the television show the other evening when the Republicans answered President Johnson's State of the Union address?"

"Yes, sir. And it was a brilliant performance by one and all."

"OF COURSE! If you're going to work for the Republican Party, you're going to have to know where it stands on the issues."

"I know where it stands."

"Okay. What has the Johnson Administration failed to do?"

"It has failed to make clear our goals, and it has not been candid with the American people in facing up to the complex and difficult road that lies ahead."

"By heaven, you did watch the show! Now let's go on to the Ship of State. Where is the Ship of State?"

"It is wallowing in a storm-tossed sea, drifting toward the rocks of domestic disaster, beaten by the waves of worldwide fiscal crisis that threaten shipwreck."

"And what can save the Ship of State?"

"A new captain at the helm who will call up full power, break out new charts and hold our course steadfast and inspire the crew to bring us through the storm."

"It's 'unrest and frustration,' but we'll accept your answer. And why are they boiling thusly?"

"Because the administration has been long on promises and short on performance."

"And what situation are we confronted with because of this?"

"That's well put. Now let me ask you this. What does the Republican party have abiding faith in?"

"WHY DID YOU hesitate?"

"I thought it might be the American free enterprise system."

"We've got abiding faith in that, too. Either answer would have been correct. Let's go on to inflation. What does the president have to do to cut it?"

"He's got to cut back on federal spending and impress on the people that we have to live within our means here at home."

"And if he doesn't, where will the American people be sacrificed?

"What kinds of chaos do the American people face in the challenging years ahead?"

"Domestic chaos as well as chaos abroad. And because of this, we are forfeiting our leadership overseas and our credibility at home."

"OKAY. Now let's go on to Vietnam. What kind of Communist aggression are we trying to stem there?"

"Naked?"

"Fine. You seem to have passed the test. You can start writing speeches in the morning."

"Thank you."

Thank you, what?"

"Thank you from the bottom of my heart, so help me God."

Bumble Bee Chow Mein.

Ah, so easy. Ah, so good. Made with Bumble Bee Tuna. (The freshest tuna just naturally makes the best Chow Mein.)

Melt 3 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add 1 cup celery and 1/2 cup green onions, sliced diagonally. Add 1/2 of a medium green pepper, cut into thin strips.

Add 1 cup beef broth, 1 lb. bean sprouts, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 1 teaspoon Accent and one regular size can (6 1/2 oz. or 7 oz.) of Bumble Bee Tuna.

Bus Commute Hike Probe Opens Feb. 7

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A request by Western Greyhound Lines to eliminate reductions on commute fares will be considered by the state Public Utilities Commission during hearings beginning Feb. 7.

The effect of the Greyhound application would be to raise Marin fares by 50 per cent. The Marin County Board of Supervisors has hired a Washington firm to prepare a rebuttal to the proposed fare hike.

Most of the fares affected by the Greyhound request are in the San Francisco Bay Area. The company claims it is losing $2,423,000 per year on commute operations.

Greyhound said it will still lose $1,239,000 on commute operations even if the PUC approves the request.

Additional hearings will be held Feb. 8, 9, 14, 15, 16, 28 and 29 and March 1, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14 and 15.

Corte Maderans Back Creek Dredging Plans

An informal public hearing on the proposed forming of a San Clemente Creek dredging project assessment district last night at Corte Madera Town Hall resulted in an easy majority favoring plans to proceed.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher reported today that a show of hands on whether the matter should now go to the town council for approval resulted in a "solid majority" of the estimated 125 persons present favoring it.

No objections to the project were voiced, he said.

Usher said the proposal will be presented at the council's 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday. The council is expected to instruct the acting town engineer, Philip Lygren, to proceed with final plans with a dredging firm.

A public hearing would then be required by the council before the district could be formed.

East Madera residents whose property is adjacent to the creek are seeking the district for dredging to permit small boats to operate from the creek to San Francisco Bay at low tide.

Terra Linda Rotary Club has Bernard J. Kerns as president.

Ten Marin Youths Going To Sacramento Conclave

Ten students representing the Marin County YMCA, including a foreign exchange student from Sweden, Malin Hederus of San Rafael High School, will attend the Youth in Government Conference in Sacramento this weekend.

Philip Dennis, program director for the Marin YMCA, said the Marin youth delegation will leave Friday morning to attend the three-day youth sessions in the State Capitol. About 450 students from throughout the state will gather to hear Gov. Ronald Reagan and to take over the legislature offices for the weekend.

Melody Lane of San Rafael High School will present the Marin Y's legislative proposal — a bill that would open up traffic courts at least one evening a week for the convenience of those who work during the day.

Alabama Pensioners Unlike The Average

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) —Alabama's old age pensioners are practically all (94.2 per cent) native Southerners and 83.8 per cent of them were born in Alabama.

The U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department says, nationwide, less than half of the old age recipients are natives of the state in which they now live (49.4 per cent).

10 Pass Tests As Engineers

Ten Marinites have passed written examinations for registration as engineers before the California Board of Registration for civil and professional engineers.

Those who passed the civil engineering test include William I. Wilson of Novato; Nicholas G. Thomas and Larry R. Grove of San Anselmo; Frederick E. Meyer of Corte Madera; Norris H. Millikin, John C. Newton, Robert B. Williams and Lindsley Wilson, all of Mill Valley; William H. O'Hanlon of Sausalito.

Among those passing electrical engineering tests was Joe L. De DeSmet of Mill Valley.

Briton Compares Marin's Problems

A British member of Parliament, who spent yesterday with the Marin County Board of Supervisors, said he is "impressed" by the beauty of the Civic Center and struck by the "extremely similar" problems in government faced in both countries.

Hon. Francis Leslie Pym, deputy chief whip for Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, had lunch with the supervisors and later joined in the discussion of regional government.

Pym said his government has undertaken a two-year study of local government that may lead to far more basic changes than contemplated in the Bay Area. He said the British study would include transferring actual powers of local government to regional government.

Amalgamation of police forces in Britain has been particularly successful, Pym reported. "We had several hundred police forces which are now down to less than 100, and it is going to be even less." In his county, seven police forces were amalgamated into one, "and I don't think there is any doubt that this is completely acceptable to both the public and the police."

He said the problems and arguments are similar whenever the authority of local government is taken over by another. "Everyone wants to be master of his own home."

Marin supervisors welcomed Pym to Marin and thanked him for contributing to the discussion of regional government.

Lucas Valley Citizens Protest Houses' Size

Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday postponed for two weeks a request by Perma-Bilt Homes to build four and five-bedroom homes on Lucas Valley Road at Mount Shasta Drive.

A delegation of residents from Lucas Valley protested Perma-Bilt's plan to put in 52 homes, some two-storied, on the 10.5-acre Lucas Valley Unit 7.

The lots have only 6,000 square feet because it was originally approved for Eichler Homes under a planned community zone, with plans for single-story homes with three or four bedrooms.

Residents of Lucas Valley complained that fivebedroom homes and two-story structures would destroy the beauty of the valley where homes now "blend into the landscape."

Attorney E. Warren McGuire and John G. Buresh argued that Lucas Valley Unit 7 had been approved for Eichler, and should not be denied for Perma-Bilt just because the home designs differed.

Ronald L. Pardini, vice president of Perma-Bilt Homes, asked for the two weeks so that he can re-study other home designs and decide whether smaller homes would be saleable and economically feasible.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

PRISON ART — Approved Marin Mental Health Foundation use of the Civic Center for display and sale of San Quentin Prison art from May 2 through 5, but declared this was an exception and not precedent setting.

CITATIONS — Approved in principle the use of citations rather than arrests in the case of misdemeanor offenses.

PROBATE COMMISSIONER — Allocated $3,569 for a secretary stenographer to help Marin County Court Commissioner, E. L. Nininger, and for a typewriter and transcribing machine.

PHONE LISTING — Approved listing in the telephone book for County Tax Collector-Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez, giving his title and office number, because too many calls are made to his home. Fontez said many out-of-town callers must make another long distance call to get his office.

AIRPORT FUNDS — Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported the receipt of a $143,000 contribution from the State Aeronautics Division for Marin County Airport.

STOP SIGN — Declared Montezuma Avenue in Forest Knolls a through street so that stop signs may be erected to halt cross traffic at Montezuma.

NO PARKING — Established no-parking on the south side of Hillside Avenue near College of Marin from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

CHANGE ORDER — Approved a $1,129 change order to install more lights in the new Hall of Justice corridor.

DIXIE BONDS — Accepted the Bank of California's offer to buy $360,000 in Dixie School Bonds at an interest rate of 4.6607 per cent, lowest of five bids submitted.

GROUNDBREAKING — Authorized the Fair Marin board of directors to spend "approximately" $500 for groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium, probably in February.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT — Set for Feb. 13 discussion of what kind of Bay Area regional government and the representational makeup the board favored.

Loch Lomond Plea Wins Stop Light

Residents of Loch Lomond stuck with the Marin County Board of Supervisors until 7:20 last night and wrung two concessions out of three tired supervisors.

Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen, and Supervisors Thomas T. Storer and Peter H. Behr finally acceded to residents' request that a traffic signal be installed at Lochinvar Road and South San Pedro Road.

The three supervisors also agreed that the widened South San Pedro Road at the Lochinvar intersection would be pushed as far south as engineering feasibility would allow.

A third request, to underground the utility lines on the 1.1 mile stretch from Margarita Drive to Lochinvar Road, failed to get to a vote. With three members present and three votes required, Chairman Kettenhofen postponed the matter until next week.

Supervisor John F. McInnis left at 5:35 p.m. to catch a plane to attend a meeting, and Supervisor William A. Gnoss was absent all day on another meeting in Southern California.

Two Students Cited For Handicapped Job

Two San Rafael High School students have received awards from the San Rafael Kiwanis Club for their work at the Orthodedically Handicapped Marindale School for Orthopedically Handicapped Children in Terra Linda.

Mary Chris Sundborg received a $20 scholarship award and Christine Campbell, received a $10 award. The awards are given by the Kiwanis Club in recognition of meritorious activities performed by high school students.

Supervisors Rap Health Study Move

The state should take no action as yet on two applications for federal funds to study a comprehensive health plan for the Bay Area, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday.

The supervisors said local health planning councils should be set up first to coordinate health activities.

The two applications for federal aid were made by the Bay Area Health Facilities Planning Council, asking for $119,725 federal aid; and the North Bay Comprehensive Health Planning Association (for Marin, Napa, Sonoma and Solano), asking for $108,360. Federal aid for comprehensive health planning was set up by Public Law 89-749, passed by Congress in November of 1963.

Supervisors, who heard about these applications for the first time last week, were incensed that applications would be made without the knowledge of the supervisors.

"I don't see how any organization, applying for us, can do so without consulting us," said Supervisor John F. McInnis.

After hearing arguments for and against both applications the supervisors agreed with County Administrator Alan Bruce that more coordination on the local level should be reached before the state acts on either application.

Union Alleges Strikebreaking

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Machinists Union filed suit yesterday against Qantas Airways and an immigration official for allegedly importing strikebreakers from Australia.

The International Association of Machinists, which has been on strike against the airline for the past 43 days, named the airline, six indicidual Australians they accused of strikebreaking and C. W. Fullilove, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in a U.S. dist. court suit.

The union asked for an injunction against Qantas and Fullilove and damages from Qantas of $100,000.

New Launching At Vandenberg

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The Air Force reported an experimental re-entry vehicle in the Advanced Ballistic Re-entry Systems program was launched down the Western Test Range today at 5:30 a.m.

The vehicle, propelled by an Atlas-F booster, was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base by members of the 6595th Aerospace Test Wing.

The Good Life
Enjoy it in '68 in this custom-designed, 3-bedroom home with great character. The architect has provided for some dramatics in the use of a 2-story window set into the well of a cantilevered staircase. There's a wonderful all-purpose room, panelled and with access to a patio, which lends itself to quiet studying or parties. Wall-to-wall carpeting and draperies are top quality, and the landscaping is most attractive. Convenient, desirable neighborhood.

Abusive Phone Callers Face Stiff Penalties

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Bell Telephone System is developing even more sophisticated equipment to track down and convict abusive telephone callers such as those who harass families of men serving in Vietnam.

Bell Vice President Hubert Kertz was one of several witnesses before a House subcommittee yesterday who solidly endorsed legislation to let the federal government help the states crack down on such callers.

Rep. Horace R. Kornegay, D-N. C., acting chairman of the communications subcommittee on the House Commerce Committee, predicted the panel would meet within a few days to approve the bill.

The measure, which was passed the Senate, would make it a federal crime to make abusive, harassing or threatening telephone calls across state lines or within the District of Columbia. Offenders would face penalties of up to $500 or six months in prison, or both.

All 50 states have outlawed abusive calls within their borders.

Cold Days? Consider The Poor Alaskan

Next time you curse your car for giving out only an agonized grinding sound instead of starting on one of the few near-freezing mornings during Marin's winter, consider Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Mitchell, who traded the mild temperatures of Sausalito for the wild ones of Alaska two years ago, have some advice for starting cars.

The Mitchells operate Taku Lodge 40 miles from Juneau during the summer and live in the city during the winter. In a letter to friends, they passed on the following advice from the Alaska State Troopers:

Forget about putting ether in the carburetor or alcohol in the gas tank, or about using extra batteries, crank case heater, head bolt heater, carburetor heater, or fuel pump heater. All this will only get one to work four hours late.

The "sourdough," or experienced Alaskan car owner arises at 3 a.m. and digs his car out of snow and ice, kicking it repeatedly "to establish respect for authority" in the congealed vehicle, according to troopers.

The knowing owner should appear disinterested in starting the car, troopers advise, while lighting a bonfire under the oilpan to warm it. He should hint to this car that he is considering purchase of a new one and kick the car again. He should pause for a cup of coffee and appear in no hurry to start the car.

By now it's time to pry open the car door with a crowbar and remove the icicles from the dashboard, steering wheel and seat.

The owner should unobtrusively pull out the choke "three or four feet" and turn the ignition key with pliers, as it's probably frozen.

Then slam a foot on the starter, kick the car with the other foot, curse loudly and beat the dashboard, "preferably with a hammer," troopers advise.

The car may start and the old time Alaskan who knows the correct formula for starting a car will arrive at work only an hour late.

Laser Stolen In BART Tunnel

BERKELEY (AP) — A scientific theft is reported by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Recreation Signups Set At Redwood High

Registration for recreation Saturday mornings for any elementary school pupils from the fourth through eighth grades will be at 9 a.m. next Saturday at Redwood High School gymnasium.

Richard H. Hart of the school's physical education program said the recreation classes, which include tumbling, dancing, trampoline, and basketball, also will begin then.

Reagan Calls Pueblo Policy LBJ Appeasement

(AP Wirephoto)

The United States, Reagan told a news conference yesterday, is "the most powerful nation in the world." But he said North Korea, which seized the U.S. Navy intelligence ship, can apparently "tweak our nose and get away with it."

As an alternative to Johnson's policy, Reagan suggested the possibility of "counter-seizing of their shipping and holding it until ours is returned."

The Republican governor, a potential candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, made it clear he favors a more militant stand against the Communists in response to questions at his weekly meeting with newsmen.

As for his own political future, he said again he is not a candidate for president. But he reiterated he is determined to head a California favorite son delegation to the GOP National Convention. And he strongly indicated he wants no competition from other GOP presidential possibilities in the state June primary.

Asked about yesterday's Field Poll, which said only one out of four California Republicans like his plan to pre-empt the field in the primary, Reagan said, "All I can tell you is that if I let myself be guided by the Field Poll, I wouldn't have run for governor." Early Field polls in 1966 showed him trailing the incumbent, Democrat Edmund G. Brown.

Reagan said that Republican organizations in California wanted him to be a favorite son, and that he doesn't expect any opposition. Questioned about reports that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon may challenge him in the primary, Reagan said "the former vice president has not said he is a candidate." Nixon is expected to announce his plans Thursday.

As California's favorite son, Reagan will go to the Republican National Convention as the head of an 86-vote delegation—all of whose members are expected to pledge to follow Reagan's orders.

That could give him a base upon which to build for his own bid if Nixon stumbles — or a potent bloc to influence the choice of another nominee.

His responses to questions about the Pueblo were in line with his previous militant foreign policy statements on Vietnam.

Asked if Johnson's conduct in the incident borders "on appeasement," Reagan replied:

"I think it is a continuation of a policy of appeasement that started a long time ago."

Reagan said the United States should have acted within the first 24 hours.

"I don't know that anyone outside of government who doesn't have access to the joint chiefs of staff could make a choice from outside as what should be the procedure, but there are a number of things that have been since proposed by people with experience in the national government involving blockading of harbors, involving the counter-seizing of their shipping and holding it until ours is returned," he said.

Marinite Is Honored For Viet Heroism

Pfc. Kent M. Allen 19, of Belvedere, has been decorated for heroism by the Army for his actions in a battle in Vietnam.

Company D, Fourth Battalion (Airborne) 503rd Infantry, was called upon to reinforce two other companies on Nov. 11, somewhere in the Dak To area.

Allen, who has received the Army Commendation Medal with "V" device for valor, was in the first helicopter to land at the scene. With his comrades he "braved heavy volumes of enemy rounds," according to the citation accompanying the medal.

On reaching the other companies, Allen "without regard for his own personal safety, rushed the enemy positions, inflicting heavy casualities."

Allen's actions are cited as being "in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service," according to Maj. John M. Byrne, adjutant general, Department of the Army.

Young Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Allen, of 340 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, is a native of Belvedere and a graduate of Redwood High School.

Modesto Names New Police Chief

MODESTO (AP) — After six months without a police chief in the wake of a shakeup, Modesto has a new head of the department.

Jerome Ammerman, 39, former assistant public safety supervisor of Sunnyvale police, was appointed chief yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Chemical Added To Salt Helps Hold Down On Malaria Trouble

VAN DELLEN

Malaria is usually transmitted from one individual to another via the bite of an infected mosquito. An exception to the rule occurred recently when a two-and-one-half month-old Chinese baby was found to have malaria. The disease was passed along to the unborn infant by way of the mother's placenta.

THE PARENTS migrated to this country from China 20 years ago. Both had malaria as children, but had not been bothered since. The source of the organism was found ultimately in the mother.

According to the report in Morbidity and Mortality, only 25 cases of congenital malaria have been recorded in the United States.

This rare case is mentioned to stress man's struggle against the parasite. In all probability, therapy stunned the organism but did not eradicate it from the mother.

TREATMENT is not always successful. Malariologists have been interested in prevention via phophylaxis or by eliminating the anopheline mosquito.

For many years, quinine taken daily was recommended as protection against malaria. This regimen helped some persons living in tropical areas to lead useful lives, but it had drawbacks. The drug is too costly and difficult to obtain for widespread usage.

A more practical plan was started in Guyana (formerly British Guiana). By government decree, all cooking salt sold after 1961 contained 0.43 per cent chloroquine, a synthetic anti-malarial.

The effectiveness of this program became apparent in a short time. Only four cases of malaria were seen in the next four years. Two years later, chloroquine-resistant strains of malarial parasites were entering Guyana from Brazil. Although the unwelcome visitors upset the control program, their invasion was not disastrous.

DDT HAD A somewhat similar history. When introduced, everyone thought it would rid the world of malaria. Resistance developed but did not present a serious problem because most mosquitoes still are susceptible to the insecticide.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

DEEP BREATHING

D. Q. writes: Are there any advantages to practicing deep breathing exercises?

REPLY

These maneuvers increase the air capacity of the lungs and are helpful in treating certain chronic lung diseases, such as emphysema. Also enhances swimming under water, and attempting to escape from a smoke-filled room.

PAIN IN RIB CARTILAGE

N. N. writes: Can anything be done for Tietze's disease?

REPLY

Yes. In this condition, the cartilage of the ribs is strained or injured as a result of injury such as that from coughing too hard. Relief is obtained by applications of heat and medications that control the cough reflex.

X-RAYING ARTHRITIS

K. A. E. writes: Are X-rays needed to diagnose arthritis?

REPLY

X-rays are not needed when the joints are painful, swollen and stiff. But they are recommended when the diagnosis is questionable, or the physician wants to learn the extent of the lesions.

GLAND TEAMWORK

Mrs. A. G. M. writes: Do the sex and thyroid glands work together?

REPLY

All the endocrine glands work together, even though the function and chemical nature of the secretions produced by the thyroid and the gonads are entirely different.

TO EASE DIARRHEA

A. A. writes: What foods tighten up the stomach when a person has diarrhea?

REPLY

None to my knowledge, altho some persons think milk and tea have a binding effect. The best remedy is to eat bland foods frequently during a bout of diarrhea. You know why your bowel behaves in this way? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this condition.

SCHEDULE FOR HORMONES

P. C. writes: Are hormones taken in the evening, at bedtime, or after breakfast? Can they be taken with regularity?

REPLY

After breakfast is best because if you forget, you have the remainder of the day to take them. Some hormones are taken daily, but since you neglected to mention the type or hormone or why it is being taken, you should consult the physician.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Historic Reopening Of Ford's Theater

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The historic reopening of Ford's Theater, where Abraham Lincoln was shot, was preserved for posterity by CBS-TV last night in a broadcast covering the performances and the dignitaries present.

"Inaugural Evening at Ford's Theater" was the title of the one-hour program from Washington, D.C., and the dignified but lively entertainment was keyed to the theme of the slain President's love of the performing arts.

The restored theater fairly gleamed in its new beauty, and was as much a part of the historic impact as the frequent sight of the box where the shooting took place.

THE PROGRAM

After a brief recapitulation of that event by CBS-TV, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey made some introductory remarks to the audience present, which included other high government figures, and then the theatrical program began.

The format was a blend of narrative and dramatic readings, song and dance, and theatrical excerpts, all stemming from the life, humor, historic relevance and entertainment tastes of Lincoln. John Houseman's direction and Paul Shyre's script gave to the event a simplicity and civilized informality that wisely avoided the techniques of high-powered show business.

Helen Hayes was the first performer to set foot on the stage of the theater since April 14, 1865, the night Lincoln was shot. Others participating were Fredric March, Henry Fonda, Harry Belafonte, Andy Williams, Robert Ryan, Richard Crenna, Odetta, Nina Foch, opera singer Patricia Brooks and dancer Carmen de Lavallade.

There was no attempt whatever at theatrical ostentation. The stage was bare except for the orchestra behind it and the few lecterns for the readers. The performers simply walked on and off. The male entertainers wore suits, except for Belafonte, who donned the open-collared shirt in which he usually performs. The female entertainers wore gowns, although Miss de Lavallade seemed to make a concession to dancing apparel.

SHOW'S HIGHLIGHT

Perhaps the highlight of all the entertainment was a rhythmic Christmas spiritual by the deep-voiced Odetta, whose singing power and conviction were magnetic. Miss Brooks was lovely to hear also. And Andy Williams, in addition to dramatic and delicate renditions of "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" and "Home Sweet Home," showed surprisingly sensitive acting ability in the recitation he was given.

Douglas Fairbanks Silent Film Billed

The 1924 silent film thriller, "The Thief of Bagdad," starring swashbuckler Douglas Fairbanks Sr., will be presented by the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Mill Valley golf clubhouse.

Exemptions Cited On Public Meetings

An Associated Press story in yesterday's Independent-Journal, concerning the efforts of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to open up meetings of the University of California Board of Regents, ordered in stating that the regents or other state agencies could be exempt from public meetings on personnel problems and pending lawsuits.

Section 5497 of the Government Code (Brown Act) permits public bodies to hold executive sessions only to consider matters affecting public security, or the appointment, employment or dismissal of an officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against an officer or employee — unless such officer or employee requests a public hearing.

Smoking Is Hard Habit To Crack

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Halfway through a two-year study to discover methods of changing smoking habits, researchers at the University of Oregon have come to only one positive conclusion: Smoking is a hard habit to break.

Having tried everything from drugs to breath-holding, the scientists said that although all of the smoking modification methods were somewhat successful, no method has been found yet which has been scientifically proved to be the best way of controlling the habit.

Buckingham Public Tours Are Studied

LONDON (UPI)—A wind of change is blowing in 1968 through the stately—and until now sacrosanct—private halls of Buckingham Palace.

One change considered a real possibility is that Queen Elizabeth II may open the palace doors for visitors as has been done at the White House, and at the Royal Palace in Stockholm.

Informed sources say the queen is considering opening the state apartments of the palace to the public on certain days. At present the public can't get a peep at any part of the palace except the stables and a gallery which the queen has constructed to show selections from the massive royal collection of works of art.

If the project materializes as now conjectured, the public will be kept from the actual rooms where the royal family lives but will be shown various other areas such as the magnificent state ballroom, dining salons, accommodations for visiting heads of state, and so on.

The idea is part of a pattern of changes expected to affect the palace this year. One reason is that several elderly officials of the queen's court are retiring and being replaced by younger men of widely different outlook.

The less inhibited outlook of the new palace advisers is likely to reflect on the public image of royalty, make them far less aloof from the public in Britain and the Commonwealth.

Prince Philip has been particularly anxious to do away with much of the stuffiness and withdrawal that raditionally has hemmed in the British monarch. This already has shown itself in a number of ways including Philip's participation in several television documentaries, and his coaching that has made the queen less stiff and more personable in her public appearances.

Auto Pollution Can Be Solved

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prospects for the quick reduction and eventual elimination of almost all automotive air pollution were outlined here recently by a University of California engineer.

Ernest S. Starkman, professor of mechanical engineering at U.C.'s Berkeley campus, said that within 10 years, discharge of the main chemical pollutants created by gasoline engines can be reduced about 80 per cent from current levels.

Living Costs Are Up Again In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported consumer prices in the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area set an all-time high from September to December.

The higher prices were caused principally, the bureau said, by increased housing costs, car prices and the boost in cigarette taxes.

Regional Director Charles A. Roumassett said prices during the quarter rose .7 per cent, bringing the all-items index to 121.3, or 3.5 per cent higher than in 1966. The over-the-year increase was slightly more than the 3.2 per cent increase observed in 1966 and the highest over-the-year spread in more than 10 years.

The figures were based upon averages set in 1957-59 as 100 per cent.

The bureau said the most important increase during the quarter was an advance of .8 per cent in housing costs. Both renters and homeowners paid higher prices as the rent index advanced 1.3 per cent, and mortgage interest rates and home purchase prices rose 1.1 per cent.

Handy Guide To World's Cultures

STANFORD (UPI) — A handy guide to the world's cultures—2,800 pages long—has been published by Prof. Robert B. Textor of Stanford's International Development Education Center.

The book, "A Cross-Cultural Summary," represents five years of research by Textor, an anthropologist who coded his findings into a computer, which then indexed and printed in plain language information about 400 separate world cultures.

Private Hunting

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)— Hunters spend more than $100 million a year in the United States developing wildlife habitat on privately owned land, the Wyoming Game and Fish Department estimates.

Space Window Is Developed

SUNNYVALE (UPI) — An out-the-window view of space familiar to orbiting astronauts has been recreated in two small rooms at Lockheed Missiles & Space Co.

The aerospace firm said development of the visual simulation system will enable scientists to study man's ability to pilot spacecraft and navigate by himself in space. Scientists said the system will be able to produce a virtual image (appearing to be three dimensional) of other space vehicles.

Private Life Of Gray Whale Will Be Studied

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The private life of the California gray whale, one of nature's most intriguing and mysterious creatures, will be the object of close scrutiny by hundreds of scientists and adventurous laymen during the next few months.

Scientists associated with the American Cetacean Society, which is sponsoring "Operation Whalewatch," will be seeking answers to questions such as "do whales sleep?"

"Operation Whalewatch" officially got underway Jan. 5 with dozens of privately owned boats assuming positions off the Southern California coast to keep watch for the mammoth mammals, which range up to 50 feet in length.

ACS Executive Director Clark Cameron went aloft for two days with scientists and reporters in a blimp for an air lookout, then reported:

"We sighted about 15 whales from the air off the coast of Catalina Island. We expect about 6,000 to migrate from Alaska during the season which begins in early November and lasts until late February."

Scientists will attempt to implant a transistor-powered tracking device just under the skins of some whales. This experiment, if successful, will be the first attempt to scientifically monitor the whales' habits.

"No one has ever seen a whale sleep," Cameron said. "The tracking device will help us find out whether they stop for sleep or just keep going."

Polish Sell Rabbits

WARSAW (UPI)—Poland is exporting 100,000 live rabbits to Western markets this winter. The main markets are France and Italy. In addition, about 1,000 tons of prepared rabbit meat is also being exported.

Wheelchair Is Speedy Version

BERKELEY (UPI) — William A. Jacks, Jr., an anthropology student at the University of California, hasn't gotten a ticket yet for speeding in his wheelchair, but he may.

Jacks' specially designed motorized wheelchair is equipped with four batteries for power, four forward speeds, reverse and a positive braking system. The chair was designed by engineering students at the Davis campus of U.C. when Jacks' appealed for a more powerful chair to travel around the hilly Berkeley campus.

Regular Day Held Best For Cabbies

KOBE, Japan (UPI)—After a lengthy trial period, three taxi companies here have concluded that a cabbie working eight hours a day has less accidents and is less prone to abuse customers.

They said their drivers used to be on duty 24 hours a day, every other day.

How Bright Should Lights Be At Home?

NEW YORK (UPI)—A recent discovery that exposure to very bright lights for one week will permanently blind rats caused an eye scientist—an ophthalmologist—to raise the question of how bright lights must be before they do it to people.

Dr. David G. Cogan was challenging illuminating engineers because they're steadily making lights brighter and brighter. They're the professionals who advise on how bright lights should be in factories, offices and homes.

"Until recently a safe 20-foot candle level was thought to be adequate for reading and this prevails in most public libraries and similar buildings designed more than a decade ago," Cogan said. "Since then the recommended illumination has gradually increased so that 50-foot levels are commonly recommended with the more 'liberal' suggestions going into the hundreds of foot candles."

The experimentally blinded rats were exposed for one week to 700 to 1,000 foot candles from a continuously burning bank of fluorescents. Yet "at least one avant garde" engineer has urged 1,000 foot candles for people, Cogan said, and another engineer has set his goal at bringing the sunlit outdoors—about 10,000 foot candles—into the home.

Editorializing in the American Medical Association's ophthalmologic journal of which he is an editor, Cogan concluded "man is still safe from irreversible retinal damage by ordinary exposures to light but the margin of safety is narrowing with the excessive recommendations of some illuminating experts."

He said that ophthalmologists have always been skeptical about the engineers' claims that low illumination is necessarily harmful to the eyes because they've never been able to identify diseases caused by low illumination. They have said very little about this skepticism, however, since some brightening of lights seemed harmless.

But now ophthalmologists must speak out against the dangers of continuous exposure to very bright lights, Cogan said. For them it is "a new twist" coming from "the surprising discovery that only moderate exposure to light causes morphologic (structural) changes in the rods and cones," the visual elements of the retina.

From ordinary exposures these changes are reversible but "if the light exposure is sufficiently prolonged or sufficiently intense the changes become irreversible. The universal question where the one ends and the other begins may never be clearly established."

GIANT TO THE RESCUE

Helicopters play an important operation in rescue roles. Aiding another troubled copter is probably something new, but it was done in a recent winter storm.

Union Membership Near Two Million Mark In State

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There were 1,990,600 members in California unions last July 1, a gain of 2.2 per cent from a year earlier, the state Department of Industrial Welfare has reported.

Albert C. Beeson, director, said the gain in union membership of 43,200 nearly matched the 2.9 per cent gain in non-farm employment.

Public-employee locals showed a gain of 16,500 members during the year, to bring the total to 172,700, or a gain of 10.6 per cent. Beeson said 84 per cent of the new members were federal employees.

Union membership in manufacturing was at an all-time high of 609,400 last July. However, despite large gains in aircraft and missiles (up 14,300) and metals and machinery (up 10,900) the net increase from July, 1966, was relatively small only 8600 members or 1.4 per cent.

A rainy spring prevented the workforce in fruit and vegetable canning from reaching its normai July level and membership in unions in canning was 14,700 less in July than a year earlier. The net advance in factory membership also was held down by a loss of 2800 members in lumber and furniture.

Organizing gains by nurses and other hospital emloyees, apparently stimulated by substantial wage increases won by unions in their field, was the prime cause of a 12,300-member rise in professional, educational and related services.

The lagging construction industry lost 24,400 union members between July, 1966, and July, 1967, the biggest year-to-year decline recorded in the industry since totals first were compiled in 1950.

The field of agriculture, fishing and mineral extraction unions showed a gain of 33.4 per cent for the year, climbing from 13,400 members ot 17,900.

Cavalry Revived

VIENNA (UPI)—Twelve reservists of the Austrian Army belonging to the so-called "Grenzschultz" (border protection unit) recently were equipped with horses for better reconnaissance. The cavalrists were also given tommy guns and two-way radios.

Bread And Milk In The Afternoon

OYA, Japan (UPI)—Officials of this Western Japanese town have enacted an austerity measure which will save the town residents $833 annually and by their own admittance, drunken driving by some.

The council ruled that any official party held in the afternoons will be without liquor and sumptious meals.

Bread and milk will be served instead.

Special Electrical Gift For Christmas

TENNANT (UPI) — Residents of this sparsely populated area near the Oregon-California border received a special Christmas present this year—their first outside electric service.

Since the 1930s the rural logging area of Siskiyou County has been served by a diesel generator.

Party Colors

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Venezuela has 13 political parties of which eight are represented in Congress. To aid slow-reading or illiterate voters, each party campaigns under a chosen color which ranges from silver to black.

MEMORIAL TO REFUGEE CAMP

This memorial to freedom was recently dedicated at the West German Friedland Camp for refugees just a few miles from the border dividing the country. It consists of four 90-foot tall slablike forms, atop a hill. The foundation stone was laid by the late Konrad Adenauer and was dedicated before 8,000 refugees, POWs and expellees, who had once lived behind the Iron Curtain.

Days Of Old West Alive In Germany

MUNSTER, Germany (GF) — One hour's drive from Germany's highly industrialized Ruhr Valley lies a nearly 500-acre range, probably more reminiscent than any other spot in Europe of America's old wild west.

Roaming the range is the last European herd of real wild horses, characterized by their stocky bodies and bristly hair. The range belongs to the Duke of Croy, German descendant of an old royal family, and for generations of Croys the property and horses have enjoyed protection as a kind of private wild preserve.

The duke even leaves it up to the horses to find their own feed except during heavy winter snows when it becomes impossible. Then he fills troughs at selected sites.

Although the horses live in wild, natural habitat, they are accustomed to human faces. Curious travelers often stop along the fringes of the range to observe the herd and the range itself serves as a favorite picnic grounds for Ruhr Valley residents.

Surprisingly, the horses are neither shy nor vicious — not even the stallions — when people are around.

Once each year, usually the last week in May, people come from far and wide to the range for an event that is native to the American West — an honest to goodness rodeo.

The herd is rounded up and driven into a specially constructed arena for the event. One-year-old stallions in the herd are branded with the duke's coat of arms at the rodeo, which concludes with an auction of some of the wild horses. Once broken in, they make excellent riding horses and bidders often make their offers hopeful of using them as heavy work animals.

Records reveal that the herd has been roaming near the Ruhr for over 800 years. It was first registered in 1316.

Skiers Must Be In Top Condition

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— More than 90 per cent of all ski injuries are caused by poor physical condition, fatigue and overconfidence in skiing ability, according to the California Medical Association.

The medical group advises skiers to get into sturdy physical condition and stay that way before the snow season starts.

Microphones Can Tattle On Slides

BERKELEY (UPI) — Landslides can be predicted by listening to sounds generated below the surface of the earth, according to University of California scientists.

The listening device is an array of sensitive "geophones" —small crystal sound pickups placed at various points in the ground.

Richard E. Goodman, assistant professor in the department of geological engineering, and graduate student John D. Cadman, said their method of pinpointing slides has proven successful both in field and laboratory tests.

Brazil Is Giant

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI)— Brazil's 3.3 million square miles and 84 million people make it the giant of Latin America in both size and population. The country has three times more land area than the next largest, Argentina, and twice as many people as the second most populous, Mexico.

Puerto Ricans Spreading Out

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—Most people believe that Puerto Ricans leaving the island go to New York, Chicago, Southern California and other large urban centers in the United States.

However the U.S. population census shows that there are more than 1 million Puerto Ricans distributed throughout all 50 states of the Union.

Tattoo Is Good Idea For Dogs

LIVERMORE (UPI) — Here's a gift idea for the pet dog that has everything—a tattoo.

A tattooed number on the inside of a pet's hind leg can help keep your dog off the stolen pet market, claim Roy and Dorothy Stark, innovators of the tattoo concept.

The Starks maintain a central registration center for the pets at their United Pet Identification Bureau. More than 200 numbers are on file. They say the tattoo can be applied in five minutes and is both painless and permanent.

Meeting Ground

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas is a meeting of four geographical regions of the North American continent—the Gulf-Atlantic Coastal Plains on the south, the Great Plains on the north, the Great Central Lowland on the east and the Rocky Mountains on the West.
